Worsens

In Burma

Officials Are Said

To Desert Amid

Strikes and Riots

By Keith B. Richburg

Washington Post Service
BANGKOK — Burma's govern ment continued to unravel Friday, with reports that state and party officials had described their posts around the country, that transport workers had gone on strike and that rioting immates had set a major prison on fire.

The country remained paralyzed

by a general strike, according to news agency reports, and another huge demonstration was held in Strikes were said to have shut

two oil refineries, and a major protest is reported to have taken place in the city of Taunggyi, 470 kilometers (290 miles) northeast of Rangoon, in which police officers and government workers took part.

The government had ceased to function because of walkouts by virtually all public employees, and a source said that Rangoon Radio was refusing to broadcast govern-ment editorials.

Loosely organized "people's councils" of Buddhist monks and elders have taken over the role of

With the final collapse of the government now considered imminent, dissidents and Burmese exiles began discussing the shape of an interim government that they said would be needed to forestall possible anarchy and prevent the mili-tary from seizing power during the Burma experts, exiles and foreign diplomats in Rangoon also said that an interim government would be needed to prevent the protesters from trying to seek ven-

Close to half a million people demonstrated in central Rangoon, and Rangoon Radio reported that

"hooligans" had torched shanties

[According to diplomats in Rangoon, the official radio said that more than 1,600 prisoners had escaped and seven persons had died in rioting inside jails and demonstrations outside them, Agence

The state radio reported rioting

Thursday at Sittwe Jail in which 6 prisoners were killed and 24 were wounded when 1,600 prisoners escaped. About 2,000 prisoners at In-sein Jail "began rioting and setting fire to the jail's sleeping quarters" Friday morning, according to a text of the broadcast.

in the capital's suburbs.

geance on government officials.

political vacuum.

the government in many areas.

Rangoon, the capital.

ESTABLISHED: 188

No. 32,816

A STATE OF THE STA

1 Th. 1.22.3

THE PARTY

-

-

TXXX

. 2~43€

200 977

9 . 76 74

EJAL

- TET C

A 15 8277 No. 2

TRAVEL

2000

PARIS, SATURDAY-SUNDAY AUGUST 27-28, 1988

Belatedly, Merger Mania Hits Europe as 1992 Approaches

By Steven Greenhouse New York Times Service PARIS - Europe's staid industrialists have long looked down on Wall Street's boisterous takeover scene as a financial Wild West. In recent months, however, Eu-lecture has been doing its best to similate American merger mania. So far this year, Nestle SA of Switzerland has bought Rowntree PLC, the British chocolate maker, while Sweden's engineering giant, ASEA AB, merged with Brown Boveri, its huge Swiss competitor. Banco Central, Spain's largest bank, has decided to merge with Banco Español de Crédito, the nation's No. 2 bank

Also, Carlo de Benedetti waged a hard but unsuccessful battle for Société Générale de Belgique, the huge Brussels holding company, and now Grand Metropolitan PLC, the British food and spirits

Falling Trade Barriers

Attract U.S. Investors

giant, is pursuing Irish Distillers Group PLC.

"Merger and acquisition activity is more intensive than it has ever been," said Michael Bottenheim, executive director of Lazard Brothers Ltd. in London. "The pace might even pick up."

So far this year there have been more than $20 billion in deals in

According to the most recent fig-ures of the European Commission, the executive branch of the European Community, the number of ma-jor mergers involving EC-based companies jumped from 117 in the year ending May 31, 1983, to 303 in the 1987 fiscal year.

For the year ending last May 31, the total soared from the previous year, to 450, say economists at UBS/Phillips & Drew, a London-

ing to do with the capital markets, but with the perception of industri-alists in Europe that there has to be more than their own domestic mar-Driving this wave of activity is kets." Mr. Bottenheim said. In what has become a political issue in some regions, some merg-ers have resulted in layoffs, and thousands more are likely as managers of merged companies move to reduce overlapping of staffs.

the ambition of European execu-tives to make their companies more potent players in the barrier-free market that the European Community plans to establish by 1992. Executives recognize that the removal of internal trade barriers will make

Europe a far more competitive

With Japanese and American competition intensifying, many European executives also say they have to expand as quickly as possi-ble to attain a global scale.

This means that a company that "The real driving force has nothis large in one domestic market, such as France, will often make a deal or two to obtain a major posi-tion in others, such as West Germa-ny and Britain.

place to do business.

In other deals, including Nestle's takeover of Rowntree, the purchaser has promised to protect employees of the acquired company.

While industrialists are the driving force behind the deals, aggres-See MERGER, Page 11

Students and Buddhist monks were among hundreds of thousands of Rangoon protesters demanding multiparty democracy in Burma.

names," said Richard Gray, vice president in charge of international sales in the New York office of

By Barnaby J. Feder

NEW YORK - Wall Street investment fund managers with global portfolios are already looking to 1992, the year the European Community has chosen to remove its internal trade barriers.

While there are strong doubts that the European nations will be able to adhere to their economic integration schedule, no one ques-tions the direction in which Europe is headed or the assumption that the changes will have drastic market consequences.

Europe 1992 ranks along with perestroika and glasnost, detente and the advent of liberal economics in China as one historical event investors cannot ignore," said David C. Roche, a managing director in charge of Morgan Stanley & Co.'s equity research in London, in the introduction to a recent report.

Investors have already seen the impact of Europe's integration plans in the upswing of intra-European takeover activity.

Companies based in EC nations.

as well as in such neighbering countries as Sweden and Switzerland have been attempting to tage of the changes and survive the heightened competition from the dismantling of trade barriers.

"It's been particularly noticeable: in the food and drinks sector, where companies are thinking about the value of strong brand

UBS/Phillips & Drew, a subsidiary of Union Bank of Switzerland. The impending change is brightening the prospects of some European companies that are major suppliers of capital equipment. That is one reason that Merrill Lynch's European stock analysts are recommending Siemens AG of West Germany, said Deborah Kuenstner, international investment strategist for Merrill Lynch Capital Markets. Of course, such long-term guesses are not the only or even the dominant concern of most globally minded investment managers.

The initial attempts to assess the investment risks and opportunities presented by 1992 are occurring at a time when the shorter-term prospects for internationally minded investors are extraordinarily

'In general, we are rather cau-See EUROPE, Page 11

Bush Takes a Cautious Stance on SDI Deployment By Gerald M. Boyd . New York Times Service

HOUSTON - Vice President George Bush has spelled out a newly cantious approach to the Strategic Defense Initiative, adopting a position that makes him a less ardent advocate of the missile defense program than either President Ronald Reagan or some Republican conservatives, including his own running mate, Senator

Dan Quayle.

While Mr. Bush characterized his support of the "star wars" program as being sharply at odds with the position of his Democratic rival, Governor Michael S. Dukakis of Massachusetts, he acknowlnight that a full deployment of the you went to a full deployment of a system would be "very expensive" full strategic defense, it would be system would be "very expensive" would have to depend on further

In a speech earlier this month in Chicago, Mr. Bush had vowed to and deptoy it "as soon as feasible." lion, according to Reagan administration operation be overcome. overcome.

His latest stance, laid out in far greater detail than previously, could sur omest on the Republican right and might also take some steam out of one of his major arguments as he seeks to label Mr. Dukakis as weak on defense.

deployment of the missile shield as a step that would some day make nuclear missiles "obsolete." Mr. Quayle has said that even a partially effective system is worth deploying as quickly as possible. But Mr. Bush would not go as far as those two men on either full deployment or early, partial de-ployment. He said that any decision on deployment would be subject to scientific and budgetary f Massachusetts, he acknowldged in an interview Wednesday the price tag will be," he said. "If and said that any decisions about it very expensive. What I want to do is to continue to research at the levels of funding, essentially, that

> A so-called "first phase" of the SDI program would cost $150 bil-

Dan Quayle has acknowledged that a portion of his resouné is inscrutate Page 2.

tion has asked for more than $4 billion this year for the program.

bers of Congress had spoken of "not a full shield, but a partial deployment," singling out a suggestion by Senator Sam Nunn, Democrat of Georgia, that a limited system be used to protect against the accidental launching of missiles.

"If I can get convinced by the experts that that would be a guardian, a safeguard against a weapon accidentally fired, or weapons in the hands of some terrorist state,"

this partial deployment."

But be added, "I'm not at the point where I am prepared to say, go forward this minute with partial deployment." He cited the unknown costs as a factor.

The Republican Party platform. in one of several references to the Strategic Defense Initiative, says,
"We are committed to rapid and certain deployment of SDI as technologies permit, and we will determine the exact architecture of the system as technologies are tested

The Democratic platform can-tains no mention of the Strategic Defense Initiative, and Mr. Dukakis has called for limiting SDI re-search to less than $1 billion a year.

In recent weeks Mr. Bush has anti-missile system to contrast his military policies with those of Mr. Dukakis. The best assurance of peace, he has said, is military

"My opponent has called SDI a ntasy," Mr. Bush said at a Los fantasy," Angeles rally Wednesday. "Let me tell you something: The appalling danger of nuclear missiles is no fantasy, it is a nightmare. He would leave American totally defenseless against missiles, and I will not. I will go forward with the Strategic Defense Initiative and make a safer world."

But he has also caused concern among some conservatives in addressing the issue. For example, some were alarmed when a Bush statement on longterm strategy for national security provided to the platform commitiee made no mention of the antimissile defense.

Bush aides defended the omission by arguing that the system was mentioned repeatedly in other places in the platform.

Mr. Bush also made only the briefest mention of the program in his acceptance speech last week, saying, "I will modernize and preserve our technological edge, and France-Presse reported from Bang-And while he specified several key issues on which he said he and

Mr. Dukakis held opposite views, this one was not included. We thought about that, and there's just so many subjects that you could mention," he said in the

In an appearance in Dallas in July, Mr. Bush said he opposed See BUSH. Page 2

Another news agency report said See BURMA, Page 5

Czechs Deny

LONDON (WP) — Britain said Friday that it had received assurances from the the explosive to the Irish Re-

IRA's favorite explosive. A 200-pound (90 kilogram) Semtex bomb was used to blow up a military bus Aug 20 in an attack in Northern Ireland that left eight soldiers dead and 27 injured. The IRA is believed by security officials to have obtained large amounts of Semtex through President Corazon Aquino has defused tensions in the military in the year since an attempted coup. Page 5.

Arts/Leisure

Drawings from "The Age of Durer and Holbein," a London exhibition reviewed by Souren Mclikian. Page 7.

Business/Finance Japanese officials said growth in GNP slowed markedly in the second quarter. Page 9.

Kiosk

Supplying IRA

government of Czechoslovakia, which manufacturers the plastic explosive Semtex, that it had never knowingly passed publican Army.
Semtex has become the

New York Times Service BAGHDAD - The wisdom advanced by outsiders here once ran ready accepted by Iraq one year like this: Iraq could never win its war with Iran; Iran could never lose it. With bewildering speed over the last few months, those precepts have been remolded As peace talks brokered by the United Nations started in Geneva on Thursday, the view among Western and regional diplomats in Bachdad was that the lineup would be uneven and ambivalent, reflecting divergent goals by two hitter combatants. Iraq, by this account, is resentful and angry at being pressured to interrupt a string of major military victories in recent years. "The Iracus reckon that a couple more months of war would have forced the collapse of the government in Tehran," a diplomat in the region Iran, by contrast, is depicted as exhausted, suspected by Iraq of seeking a breathing space, not a final peace; a cease-fire without commitments; a time of no war, no

NEWS ANALYSIS

The Geneva talks follow Iran's acceptance on July 18 of the UN Security Council peace formula al-

carrier when the military situation was far less favorable to Baghdad. The military successes that upended conventional thinking about the eight-year-old war came between April and August. The Iracis, in set-piece maneuvers using their full array of weaponry, inchiding chemical attacks, recapinred territory lost years ago to the the offensives ejected Tehran's forces from most Iraqi soil.

Moreover, the Iraqis punched into Iran and then withdrew in what a Western military expert called a typical maneuver. "They demonstrate strength, then back off to give the other side pause for reflection," the expert said. "And they tell them: Next time it will be

Those were the Iraqi tactics at the beginning of the war and they See WAR, Page 2

Iraq has rejected Iran's demand to base peace on a 1975 treaty on their boundaries. Page 2.

Polish Officials Agree To Meet With Workers

By Jackson Dichl Washington Post Service
WARSAW — The Polish au-

thornies offered Friday to open "roundtable" discussions with workers and social groups, and the Solidarity leader, Lech Walesa, said he was "unconditionally" prepared for talks with the govern-

In a statement broadcast on state television Friday evening, the inte-rior minister, General Czeslaw Kiszczak, said he had been authorized to "quickly meet with repre-Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati of Iran speaking to reporters sentatives of various worker and social groups." General Kiszczak collaborates closely with the na-tional leader, General Wojciech > "roundtable," and he said the authorities had set no conditions on subjects to be discussed or participation in the talks.

The general, who earlier in the week announced a police crackdown on strike-bound enterprises around Poland, did not mention the Solidarity trade union by name. He did say he "ruled out the participation of those who throw out the constitutional order of the Polish peoples' republic."

The latest government statement came hours after Mr. Walesa who said he was responding to a question by the authorities on his possible attitude toward talks" -declared that he was "unconditionally" ready to start negotiations. Mr. Walesa met Thursday with a Catholic intellectual, Andrej Stel-machowski, who has sought to mediate between Solidarity and the

On Friday, the Roman Catholic Church, which is a powerful institution in Poland, supported both the move toward dialogue and the demand of striking workers for free trade unions. The Polish church said the root cause of the current crisis was "the violation of human General Kiszczak suggested the rights and the dignity of human meetings could take the form of a labor." The Polish government has re-peatedly rejected the demand of strikers that the Solidarity union be legalized However, General Kiszczak's statement indicated that the government was considering various conciliatory gestures toward the opposition as the wave of strikes that has crippled Poland passed its eleventh day. Although they ended a number

See POLAND, Page 2

A striking miner talking to his wife and daughter at the July Manifesto mine in Jastrzebie, Poland.

Intered territory lost years ago to the ranisons. By Iraqi and Western accounts, he offensives ejected Tehran's

By Esther B. Fein New York Times Service

MOSCOW - The Astro Pizza truck was parked by the Moscow River this week, selling its genuine American pizza, when Anatoli Bogdanov, smartly dressed and feeling a bit hungry, walked up to the window and dropped his rubles on the counter. Two slices, please," he said.

"Sorry," the clerk said. "Only Western currency today." Mr. Bogdanov grabbed his money, kicked the side of the truck and stormed off.
"It's all a farce," he said. "If foreigners want pizza, let them go to Italy or New York.

If they bring this truck into Moscow, it should be for rubles and for Russians."

for Soviets! Baskin-Robbins in Russia! But Soviet citizens are finding that this influx of things Western is, for the most part, not meant for them at all. Moscow, it seems, serves as little more than a backdrop for this exchange among Westerners. Muscovites say they are angered by desires encouraged that cannot be ful-

"We hear all about these great Western things they are bringing here," said Mr. Bog-danov, sulking after his unsuccessful attempt to sample what was billed as the first Ameri-

ers fairly scream their arrival: American with Western currency, meaning you have to books to go on sale in Soviet Union! Sushi be a Westerner to buy it. Great. Now we can actually see the things that we still can't > Soviet citizens have long struggled with local products of dubious quality and availability. Reliable, abundant consumer goods and foods were a dream of distant shores, brought to life through the tales of visiting foreigners or the rare friend or relative who had made a trip abroad.

> But the opening of Soviet society under Mikhail S. Gorbachev, the Soviet leader, and his policies of economic reform, or peres-

Everything Western seems to be coming to Moscow these days. Press releases and post-turns out that you have to buy these things to foreign goods. The city is ripe for promotional opportunities. Many of those opportunities, however, are limited to those who can pay in valyuta, or foreign currency, making most Russians feel they are outsiders looking in on their own country. "It's really rather sad and unfair," said a Western diplomat, who has promoted his country's products here. "We are saying to them that their country does not provide sufficiently, so we simply must import Western goods," he said. "Then we tell them that only Westerners who are

See MOSCOW, Page 2

By Patrick E. Tyler

Washington Post Service
GENEVA — The foreign minister of Iran. Ali Akbar Velayati, said Friday that peace with Iraq should be based on the 1975 treaty between the two countries that set their border, an assertion that Baghdad has rejected, according to Western diplomats and other

Mr. Velavati's statement to reporters here signaled that the second day of talks to end the nearly imously condemned Friday the use 8-year war had encountered their of chemical weapons in the war and cerns that Iraq will try to use its corrent military advantage to gain

The talks continued Friday night with a second face-to-face session

West Bank Associations Of Professionals Barred

By Joel Brinkley

ist organizations."

The professionals dismissed the allegation as ridiculous and sug-gested that the action had been intended to prevent any steps to-ward autonomy that might one day lead to the establishment of a Pal-

Bank in 1967.

With the offices closed and their services cut off, it was unclear who would issue medical and other professional licenses, discipline incompetent doctors and, in general, set

After Jordan's King Hussein cut off ties to the West Bank last mooth, the professional unions were assured that they could contique their affiliation with the unions in Jordan.

they would leave things as they were. But privately, Palestinians said, they have begun talking about creating autonomous West Bank

(Continued from Page I)

failed when Iran fought back and captured Iraqi territory, threaten-ing at times Baghdad's defense line.

The subsequent balance produced the theory that Iran might win, but could never lose because it had three times Iraq's population ardor and great strategic depth de-

Iraq, by contrast, technologically superior but fired by no front-line

zealotry, could hope only to stand firm, guarding the narrow line between the frontier and its major

CHURCH SERVICES

CENTER OF COPENHAGEN
FRST BAPTIST CHURCH, English speaking
Sun. 9:00, Buggesensgade 7, (Bus 3,5,7,16)
Dr. R.J. Robinson, Min. Tel.; (01) 373924.

DUSSELDORF

International Reptist Church, English S.S. 10:00, worship 11:05. Children's church and nursery. Meets at the international School, lauchtenburger Kirchweg 3, D-Koisenwerth, Friendly fellowship. All denominations welcome. Dr. W.J. Delay, Paster. Tel.: 0211/400 157.

GENEVA INTERNATIONAL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

OF GENEVA, English speaking Sunday service 12:00 noon at Chapetle das Buis, 3 rue Amat. Rev. Grag Fitch, P.O. Box 2447, CH-1211 Geneva 2. (022) 32 08 67

CHURCH OF THE LIVING SAVIOUR, Good

va's International Pentecostal church, 20 Ave. Ernest-Pictet. Enjoy a warm atmasphere of joyful, spiritfilled warship in English. 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tel.: 447070 or 988580.

UTHERAN CHURCH in the old town, 20, Rue Verdeine, welcomes visitors to their English ordaine, welcomes visitors to their English eaking services at 11 a.m. Rev. Stephen rson, Tel.: 20.50.89.

HAMBURG INTERNATIONAL BAPTIST CHURCH OF

HAMBURG meets at Ev. Freikirchliche Gemeinde Christuskirche, Suttner Str. 12, Hamburg-Altona. Bible Study 1 p.m. + Worship 2 p.m. Tel.: (0) 4101-207933.

HOLLAND TRENTY BAPTIST S.S. 9.45, Worship 11:00, nursary, warm followship. Meets at Bioemaam plaan 54 in Wassenaar. Tel.: 01751 - 78024

MUNICH

MUNICH INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY
CHURCH, services in English 4:30 p.m. Sundays of Erhuber Str. 10 in Schwabing, (US Theresienstr.) Further info. call Paster Ronnie Stevens (089) 8:50-8:617.

PARIS
THE AMERICAN CATHEDRAL (Episcopol-Anglican), Sun, 9 & 11 a.m., Sunday School for children and nursery care at 11 a.m., 23 ove.
George V, Paris 2. Tel.: 47 20 17 92. Metro:

MMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH, 56 Rue de

Bors-Raisirs, Rueil-Mohnoison. English speak evangelical, all denominations, S.S. 9:45 Worship: 10:45, Other activities. Call Dr. B.C

homas, Pastor. 47.49.15.29/47.51.29.63.

INTERNATIONAL BAPTIST FELLOWSHIP

Meets of 123 Ave, du Moine, Melro Gaité. Vesper Service in English every Sunday evening at 6:30. Tel.: 47.49.15.29/47.51.29.63.

STOCKHOUM

WMANUEL CHIRCH, Kungstensg. & Birger Jarl. Friendly christian fellowship. English, Swedish & Korean 10.00. Tel.; (08) 151225, &

ZURKCH

INTERNATIONAL PROTESTANT CHURCH, E-

glish speaking, Sundays 11:30 a.m., Schar zengasse 25. Tel.: (01) 69 55 25.

oi i / million, wells of tevolitions

fending its capital.

UN officials.

territorial concessions.

between the delegations.
[The UN Security Council unan-

Samaria was discussed?

refer to the West Bank.

Judea and Samaria are the bibliof initiating nationalist protests in Judea and Samaria."

the curfew was continuing, and the girl thought it had said the curfew

When those who advanced the old wisdom now rethink it, they

Then, this year, Iraq, sensing an opening for its retrained and well-equipped forces of around one million men, saw its chance against a debilitated foe.

An Arab diplomat said, "The Iracis calculated they had information from inside Iran that if they went in often enough and strongly enough, the Iranian people would nian cities, notably Tchran, in the

"It absolutely terrified the Irani-ans and inflicted massive psychological damage," one diplomat said. Iraq's use of chemical weapons, moreover, "played a major part in damaging the morale of the franian

As a result, Iran came to a grudg-ing acceptance of the UN cease-fire proposals.

"What the Iranians really want is a period of cease-fire," said a diplo-nat whose country has embassies in Iran and Iraq. "They want a overthrow their government." In the opening months of the year, 180 Iraqi missiles struck Ira-course of six weeks.

breathing space."

wave assault."

reduced ardor.

was over, the official said.

New York Times Service

one day, gain independence.
"There's a Jordanian medical JERUSALEM - Israel closed union," Dr. Odeh Abu Nehleh of down on Friday the Palestinian unions representing doctors, law-yers and other West Bank profes-Ramallah said. "But there can be a Palestinian medical union. There can be a Palestinian pharmacist's sionals for a year, saying that they had begun associating with "terrorunion, too." That, apparently is what Israel is trying to prevent.

The private professional unions have licensed, regulated and disciplined doctors, dentists, lawyers, engineers, pharmacists and others. They have remained affiliates of the Jordanian professional unions since Israel captured the West

Girl Is Reported Shot An Arab hospital official said Friday that Israeli troops had opened fire on a 9-year-old Arab standards for the professions. she ran out of her West Bank home. The Associated Press reported from Jerusalem. The hospital official, who requested anonymity, said the Arab girl, Marah Nadadeli of Nabins, had been shot in the leg when she misunderstood an army loudspeak-Publicly, most doctors, lawyers er statement. The statement said and others had been saying that Beginning with small autonomous entities like these, many West Bank residents have been saying, for the Israelis had opened fire on a al bas no position oo the 1975 they can slowly build their own group of teenagers, wounding one.

first serious obstacle, according to said it would consider "appropriate and effective measures" if they The issue of the 1975 Algiers were used again, Reuters reported from New York.]

Diplomatic sources said the talks were impeded on the first day when Iraq's foreign minister, Tariq Aziz, said he did not want to proceed until the definition of the cease-fire was clarified to protect Iraqi shipping through the Strait of Hormuz. All shipping exits the Gulf through the narrow channel, and Iran has claimed search-and-seizure rights against vessels there carrying cargo bound for Iraq.

lraq complained that a ship sent through the strait Aug. 20, the first morning of the cease-fire, was harassed by Iran. Iran went further, claiming it had boarded the vessel governing institutions and perhaps, and let the ship proceed after checking its cargo manifest.

Mr. Aziz's insistence on clarifying how the cease-fire will deal with navigadon through the strait was apparently one of the reasons both-sides adjourned Thursday for consultations with their governments.

Mr. Velayao's statement Friday was seen by Western officials as The Israeli government statement said that the unions had been seeking an showdown over the Algiers Accord, which Iraqi officials holding conferences, at some of say is irrevocably abrogated. which "the establishment of alternatives to Israeli rule in Judea and

"We dn hope we could reach a comprehensive, just and durable peace for the region if both sides show their goodwill," Mr. Velayao said. He added that the criteria for cal terms by which some Israelis such a peace are the 1975 treaty In addition, the government said, the unions' building in Jerusa-lem had been used "for the purpose and the implementation of UN Resolution 598, calling for with-drawal of forces to international borders, return of prisoners and a determination on the war's origins.

Among other things, the treaty set the southern boundary between the countries as the center line of the Shatt al-Arab waterway, which is Iraq's only access to the Gulf.
The border is 730 miles (1,180 kilogiri who had broken a curfew when meters) long.

An official in Baghdad said last week that Iraq would like in reas-sert its sovereignty over the entire waterway, sovereignty that was granted to modern-day Iraq in 1937. Iraqi officials say they gave up half of the waterway in 1975 only because they were auxious to end military pressure from the late Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi.

A mob attacked a suspected col-When a spokesman for Javier Pérez de Cuéliar, the UN secretarylaborator in the occupied Gaza Strip, and news reports said anothgeneral, was asked about the diser Palestinian suspected of working pute, he said, "The secretary-gener-

Get More Power to Curb Protests the national guard more power in the same breath that they restrict By Esther B. Fein New York Times Service demonstrations is to me a sign that MOSCOW - The Soviet Union they want more control over prohas expanded the powers of its In-

Kremlin's Interior Ministry Troops

TURMOIL IN BASQUE COUNTRY — A policeman in Bilbao, Spain, kicking a demonstrator Friday during protests against an official decision to fly the Spanish flag beside the Basque flag.

terior Ministry troops, granting them broader authority to bear arms, suppress public demonstrations and enter private homes in pursuit of criminals. The decree was adopted by the

Presidium of the Supreme Soviet on July 28 but has oot been publi-cized or published in the mass me-On the same day, the Presidium adopted a decree requiring demon-strations to be registered 10 days in advance and giving local authori-oes broad discretion to prohibit such assemblies. That decree was published immediately. The two decrees together appear to be an attempt by the government to regulate and control the burgeoning oumber of demonstrations, marches and protests that have been taking place around the country since the Soviet leader, Mikhail S. Gorbachev, began encouraging a more open society and more public debate.

be struggling with the idea of true a Western diplomat said. "Giving tests and such." The decrees were issued after a turbulent spring and summer when demonstrators filled the streets of Baltic republics asserting their nadonalism, Armenians demanded unity of the Nagorno-Karabakh Autonomous Region with Armenia and protesters in Moscow rallied for a multiparty system. The Soviet interior minister, Alexander V. Vlasov, said recently that regulating demonstrations had become oecessary because the Kremlin's recent policy of toler-ance and democratization had re-sulted in 600 meetings and street demonstrations nationwide since the beginning of the year. The decree oo the Interior Ministry troops states that they may be called in by the ministry to control poblic demonstrations and disturbances and in "exceptional cases" may employ "special means" to suppress public disorders. The new law does oot specify what the special means are, but it The Soviet authorities seem to does say that the troops are to be ed for an end to Azerbaijani rule in provided with "battle and special the reginn. One person was killed nology" and "may be arm The decree also states that the ers clashed with the troops.

troops may enter private bomes, sses and organizations "in pursuit of persons suspected of having committed a crime or when there is suspicion that public safety might be threatened. Members of unofficial political groups criticized the decree as a violation of personal privacy and as an attempt to throttle public de-

One Moscow lawyer said the de-cree appeared to "be revealing things that are already in place." Although expanding the troops' power, he said, the decree does not appear to be violating individual

The Interior Ministry troops were first observed in action in Moscow last Sunday, when they helped police officers clear demonstrators from a park. The demonstrators had met in defiance of a city order banning their planned commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The troops were also called into Yerevan capital of Nagorno-Kara-bakh, in early July, when hundreds of thousands of people demonstrat-

WORLD BRIEFS

Moslems in Lebanon Observe Strike

BEIRUT (Reuters) — Lebanese Moslems observed a general strike Friday in a campaign for more political power that began when Christian groups blocked the election of a pro-Syrian president.

Pro-Syrian Moslem leftist leaders called the strike, which closed shops offices, schools and most businesses in West Beirut and other Mosle and Druze areas around Lebanon.

Syrian-held Christian areas in northern Lebanon were also affected in the action. It was organized after Christian deputies refused to attend parliamentary session last week that was to elect a successor to President Amin Gemayel, whose term ends Sept. 23. Former President Solemannier, a Christian leader backed by Syria, was favored to win.

Burundi Asks for Emergency Aid

NAIROBI (Reuters) — Burundi has appealed for emergency aid to help 100,000 refugees it says occul food, clothing, shelter or medicine after a wave of killings.

Diplomats in Bujumbura, the capital of Burundi, said Friday they could not be sure that the killings had ended. "The situation is rather confused," a Western diplomat said. "On one hand, the president says everything is calm, but then there are other statements about pockets of.

The Burundian authorities, who say that 5,000 people have died, have accused Burundian emigres of provoking inter-tribal bloodshed earlier; this month. Refugees streaming out of the country, however, have told stories of large scale killings by the armed forces.

U.S. Jury Acquits Gangster Suspects

NEWARK, New Jersey (UPI) — A jury acquitted 20 alleged members of a suspected organized crime family of a variety of felony charges on Friday, handing prosecutors a stunning defeat in the nation's longest running criminal trial in federal court.

The verdict was returned on only the second day of jury deliberations arter a 21-month trial.

The 20 defendants allegedly constituted almost the entire New Jersey membership of the Lucchese family. They were charged with operating a criminal organization engaged in drug dealing, illegal gambling, credit-card fraud and loan-sharking.

For the Record

Singapore has banned without explanation three foreign journalists who were to cover elections Sept. 3: David Porter, assistant editor of the Far Eastern Economic Review; its chief correspondent, Rodney Tasker, and Raphael Pura of the Asian Wall Street Journal.

TRAVEL UPDATE

China Plans System to Rate Hotels

BELJING (AFP) — China is planning a system for rating hotels where foreigners stay, according to tourism officials quoted Friday by Xinhun

A spokesman for the National Tourism Bureau said the rating system was scheduled to start on a trial basis Sept. 1 in major tourist cities. It will later be implemented nationwide. The rating of botels is intended to improve standards. The number of stars a hotel recieves will depend upon its construction, decor, equipment, maintenance, management and ser-

Hundreds of people have been evacuated from three resorts in northern Sardinia because of a forest fire that destroyed more than 60 acres (25 hectares) of land. The police blamed arson for the fire in the hills surrounding Santa Teresa di Galiura. Firefighters extinguished the blaze Air controllers on Tenerife in the Canary Islands called off two strikes

Friday after the Transport Ministry agreed to negotiate. They planned stoppages Aug. 30 and Sept. 3 to back demands for pay raises. (Reuters)
The Israeli airline II Al and Maley, the Hungarian carrier, signed an agreement Friday establishing direct flights between the two countries for the first time. Hungary and Israel do not have diplomatic relations. (AP)

The French domestic airline Air Intet will begin permanent interna-tional operations Sept. 10, when it inaugurates a Paris-Madrid route, a company spokesman said Friday in Paris. This is to prepare for a single European market in 1992.

Sections of Yellowstone National Park were engulfed by choking wildfire smoke Friday. The smoke was as much a problem as the flames rampaging over 385,000 acres (154,000 hectares) of its dry forests, forcing the closure of miles of roads.

(UPI)

POLAND: Walesa Ready to Talk

Thursday using police force, the authorioes made little visible pro-gress Friday in halting strikes elsewhere. Strikes continued at three other mines, the ports of Szczecin and Gdansk, several Gdansk ship-yards and a steel mill in the southeastern town of Stalowa Wola.

The state-run media reported that negotiations had begun with strike leaders in Szczecin and that a mediatnr, Wladyslaw Sila-Nowicki, had joined the talks in the port. The discussions reportedly focused on the strikers' economie demands and excluded the issue of Solidarity's legalizacion.

On Thorsday, Mr. Stelma-chowski, a Catholic law professor who has also acted as a mediator, met with Mr. Walesa at the strikebound Lenin shipyard in Gdansk after meeting with senior govern-ment officials in Warsaw. Mr. Stelmachowski, a longtime adviser to Solidarity, was back in the capital Friday for another round of meetings with the government.

The Catholic church statement years."

was particularly significant because General Januzelski has been actively seeking to negotiate a political settlement that has the church's support ever since the last wave of strikes. The aim of the general has been to win the support of the church hierarchy for the government's policies of economic austerity, in exchange for steps such as allowing the church to fill a block of seats in parliament.

The church statement Friday, however, confirmed that church leaders will stick to their longstand-ing demand for "roads leading to trade union pluralism and the creation of associations." "The social agreements signed eight years ago," the church statement said, in reference to the landmark accords that created the Solidarity union after strikes in 1980, remain tasks to be fulfilled."

The church communique, which was drawn up at a meeting of Po-lish cardinals, archbishops and bishops in the monastery of Jasua Gora in Czestochowa, said the latest strikes were "the symptom of an illness that has been growing for

MOSCOW: No Rubles, Please (Continued from Page 1) worthless outside the Soviet Union.

bere temporarily need these

A coming addition to the lookbut-don't-touch list is an American bookstore that is scheduled to open in Moscow on Sept. 1. Its sponsors say it will be the largest American bookstore ever in the Soviet Union, with more than 4,000 titles from 345 U.S. book publishers. They also say payment will be in foreign currency only.

Thus the only Russians who will be able to shop in the store are likely to be buying for the libraries of schools or institutes that have access to foreign, or hard, currency. "At least now they can look at the books," said Tankred Golinpolsky, the Soviet director of bookfair exchanges between the United States and the Soviet Union. "Before, even that was impossible."

But before, Russians say, they had no expectations about the exotic items. Now their curiosity is piqued, and so is their frustration. When Sotheby's held the first, much-touted auction of contemporary and avant-garde art in the So-

Allowing merchants to occasion-Mr. Bentsen assured the veterans ally sell their products for hard currency is an incentive to Western businesses, because the exchange

But exporting hard currency from the Soviet Union is technically illegal. Companies involved in such ventures have to negotiate complex deals with the Soviet government to allow them to recapture their hard-currency profits. Often this is done by buying a Soviet commodity — for some un-known reason pickles are a popular choice - and exporting it for sale or use abroad. But describing the difficulties of perestroika-era economics does little to satiate Russians like Lyndmila Vinograda, who ventured to the Rossiya Hotel this week to the newly opened Baskin-Robbins ice cream parlor, to discover that the shop accepts only hard currency. "I doo't want all 31 flavors," she said. "Bot 1 guess I'm not even going to get one." Patrick Ferrante, who is manag-ing Astro Pizza's mobile unit in Moscow, said he actually prefers the days the pizza sells for rubles. "I love seeing those long lines of Russians and they look at this stuff and take a bite and just smile," he viet Union in July, the prices were said. "But I'll tell you, it's really a posted and payable in pounds ster- heartbreaker when they come by on ling and buyers were flown in from Europe and the United States.

> Soviets Visit Base in Sicily COMISO, Sicily (Regters) - A rate of the ruble is set — and inflat10-man Soviet team arrived Friday ed — by the Soviet government, not the international market. Consequently, Soviet money is almost received in the international market. Consequently, Soviet money is almost received in the common properties are almost received in the common properties are almost received in the common properties. The common properties are almost received in the common properties are almost received in the common properties.

now belonged to him as he opened a four-day campaign swing through his adopted home state. He compared his Democratic rival, Michael S. Dukakis, to former President Jimmy Carter and said the country needed "proven, tested leadership" in the White House.

BUSH: Caution on SDI

(Continued from Page 1) Senator Nunn's call for a limited defense system. But later, in an interview with

The Washington Post, he indicated for the first time that be might explore such a scheme, saying that it had "some appeal."

Mr. Bush said Wednesday that he has not thought much of such a concept.

There is another thesis that interests me that I first wasn't too interested in." he said. "That is the concept that Sam Nunn talked about, one - I don't want to say rather small -- but one, of partial deployment. In Dallas I was saying, no, I want to fully go forward with the research and then make the decision," he continued. "But I am open-minded to the reasons, to deter accidental shooting or to deter a terrorists nation's attack, but I don't yet feel that I have enough information at my disposal to conclude that's what we ought to do.

"And of course, if you went to a very, very expensive system, you'd have to cut back on something else or you would have to somehow find additional funding for the defense budget, which I recognize will be state attorney general's office in fore 1971. "We formally began opvery hard."

1970 after be returned from six erations July I." be said.

trace Iran's troubles to the failure in early 1987 of a vast human-wave that will free them to pursue other assault in the South against Iraq's goals: a lead position among the Arabs and their own development. second city, the port of Basra. "The Iranian effort peaked in They can't do that while they're early 1987, a Western diplomat looking over their shoulder at Iran. the recruits for another human-Iranian intentions. Lack of equipment, an ailing economy and political infighting in Tehran are also blamed for Iran's said. "They want a peace treaty

The Iraqis want "more than a cease-fire," a Western diplomat

WAR: Iran-Iraq Peace Talks Clouded by Ambiguities

DEEP IN THE HEART OF TEXAS — Vice President George Bush giving the thumbs up sign as he and his wife, Barbara, glide along the San Antonio riverwalk. The couple was serenaded by local mariachis. Mr. Bush told a riverfront rally that the political momentum

Quayle Concedes Résumé Is Inaccurate

BILLINGS, Montana - Senator Dan Quayle conceded Friday that a portion of his resume indicating that be spent two years as the chief consumer investigator for the Indiana attorney general's office was inaccurate. Mr. Quayle, the Republican candidate for vice president, said be did not know how the error occurred. He said his staff was responsible for putting together his résume.

Mr. Quayle's official Senate biography states that from 1970 to 1971, he was the "chief investigator" for the consumer protection division of the Indiana attorney general's office. "If it indicated that, that is inaccurate," Mr. Quayle said aboard his campaign plane. "I didn't hold that job for two years." He said that be held the job for "several mooths" but did not have "an exact time frame." Mr. Quayle actually held the posicion for only two and a half months. Mr. Quayle was hired as an entry-level research assistant by the months of training for the Indiana National Guard. The error on Mr. Quavle's resume was first reported by The Plain Dealer newspaper in Cleve-land, which described the entrylevel job as similar to that of a clerk. Asked about the report earlier Friday, David Prosperi, Mr. Quayle's press secretary, called the newspaper report "a cheap shot."

"He held the office," Mr. Prosperi said. "He worked his way up to that position and that's that." Mr. Prosperi said he was oot sure how many months Mr. Quayle had held the consumer protection job, but added, "The important point is that he held the job. He didn't make it up.' "He was assigned to our section in the spring of 1971," Robert Smith, the first director of the unit and oow an attorney in Indianapolis, said of Mr. Quayle. "He was in fact the chief invesogator," Mr. Smith said. "He helped get the unit set up." But Mr. Smith said Mr. Quavle was oot involved with the unit be-

Separately, Mr. Quayle said he opposed any oew gun-control laws. guardian of freedom in this world." He declared during a campaign stop that no one should have to wait to buy a handgun. He said that Governor Michael

Dukakis, the Democratic presidential candidate, was "far out of the Western mainstream" by supporting gun control. (AP, UPI) ■ Bentsen Faces Veterans

Maralee Schwartz of The Washington Post reported earlier from Chica-Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic nessee vice commander. "He told it vice presidential nominee, got a straight. Senator Bentsen always mixed reaction from veterans Thursday as he defended Mr. Du- always voted for veterans." kakis against charges that he is weak on defense issues. charges about who is patriotic and ernnr Dukakis is a veteran, a who is strong oo defense." Mr. patriot and an advocate of Ameri-Bentsen told the Veterans of For- can strength and steadiness." eign Wars annual convention in

"I assure you that Mike Dukakis and the Democrace Party share that determination." Mr. Bentsen The mention of Mr. Dukakis brought jeers, particularly from the Although some other veterans expressed concern that "Dukakis woulo give it all away," those interviewed expressed high regard for Mr. Bentsen. "Senator Bentsen told it just like it was," said Larry Dalton, a Ten-

Massachusetts delegation.

voted for veterans; the Democrats Responding to Republican at-tacks that Mr. Dukakis is "anti-"I am fed up with scurrilous desense," Mr. Bentsen said, "Gov-that Mr. Dukakis did oot favor "I have stood there," Mr. Bent- defense cuts and that he supported sen said, recalling his experience as a strong ouclear deterrent, the a World War II bomber pilnt. "I cruise missile, the Stealth bomber have been there. I yield to oo per- and strengthened cooventional son or party in my determination to forces.

هكذامن التُعمل

Vice President Community

ARAMCO offe

CAREO STEEL

ARE WELDED AP

TEST PRESSURE

SPEC. 09-AMSS

APPROX. QTY

2. MISC. 111

SIZE 20 IN CAS SIZE 18-5/8 IN SIZE 18-5/8 1M

SIZE 9-5/8 IN 18

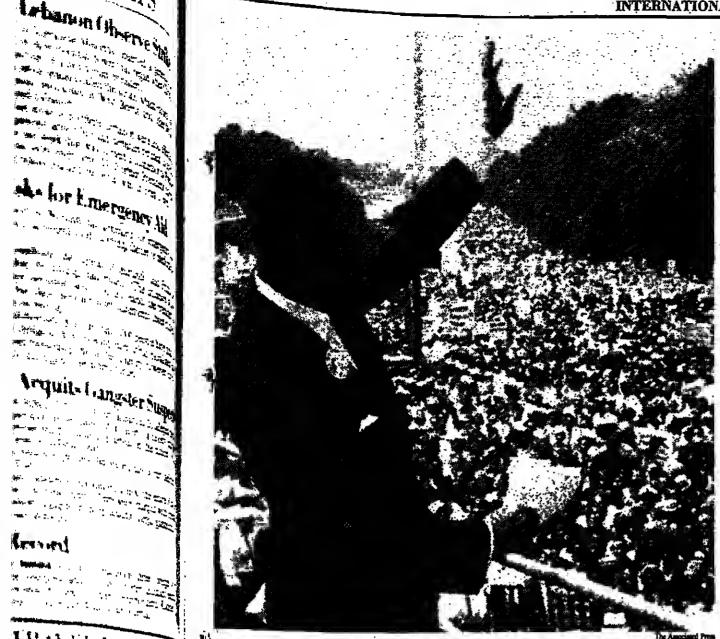

SIZE 9-5/8 IN.

Copies of the the

1. PIPES:

were asted on 450 to the man flar Acres

The Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. delivering his speech at the 1963 civil rights rally.

Thousands Gather in U.S. to Mark 25th Anniversary of Rights March

RI.D BRIEFS

Lebanin (sheene )

he for Emergency H

Jadnite Crusafet of the

A CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF TH

The second second

TRUELIMATE

Annual Control of the Control

California de la compania del compania de la compania del compania de la compania del la compania de la compani

Approx. The second second alam i siyada arii i Lista a kalada Tabi 📲 with the training of the same of the transfer of the transfer of Action to the second se

MET TO THE PARTY OF THE PARTY.

The state of the s

The second second

armar.

A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR

WASHINGTON - John R. Lewis vividly recalls that summer day 25 years ago when 250,000 people marched on Washington and changed the course of

"We had expected just 50,000 to 60,000 people but we got so many more," said Mr. Lewis, an organizer of the 1963 civil rights rally. "Men wore hats and ties, Women wore dresses. They carried signs reading, 'Jobs and Freedom.'"

"It was truly a glorious day," said Mr. Lewis. On Friday, thousands of Americans were gathering to mark the 25th anniversary of the march on Washington that prompted passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the 1965 Voting Rights Act and the 1968 Fair Housing Act. On Saturday, in a tribute to the events of Aug. 28, 1963, they will walk from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial, where the Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his powerful "I Have a Dream" speech.

Among those scheduled to address the crowd are Mr. Lewis, now a congressman from Georgia; King's widow, Coretta Scott King; and one of the slam leader's aides, the Reverend Jesse L. Jackson.

The Democratic presidential nominee, Michael S. Dukakis, also is to speak but his Republican rival, Mrs. King said, "In 1963 we were still struggling for a civil rights act, the right to vote. We were concerned about living in a house wherever we could find one. Today we have legislation which guarantees these things. But the fact is that in the area of economic injustice, we've come a very short distance. We have such a long way to go."

King's son, who was 5 years old at the time of the march, said, "I think individuals have made a lot of progress, but masses of people still suffer." He said America "has some major problems as it relates to Shack is recalling outlet adapters, race, as it relates to sex and as it relates to many other sold since 1987 for use in operating on Friday, Mrs. King and Martin Luther King 3d were asked on ABC television how far America had come since the 1963 rally.

For his part, Mr. Lewis believes blacks have made great gains since 1963. High school graduation and voter registration rates are up, along with income, life expectancy and even the number of blacks holding elected office, from fewer than 500 to more than 6,000

"We have witnessed a nonviolent revolution in this country," he said.

Still, blacks have a way to go to reach King's dream of full equality, Mr. Lewis said. Just as it was 25 years ago, the unemployment rate for blacks, about 10 percent, is double that of whites.

The least progress has occur in economic justice, brand name. Owners were urged to discontinue use of the adapters and not just blacks, but also Hispanics and low-income return them to a Radio Shack store whites — who are left behind."

Insults Fly as Mexican Opposition Flexes Muscles

By Larry Rohter
New York Times Service

MEXICO CITY - The Mexican Congress is being introduced to the complexities of competitive multiparty politics, and while the change has been praised as a boon for democracy, it has not done much to advance parliamentary decorum

In marathon sessions lasting ifo' to 15 hours, legislators from the newly strengthened opposition, protesting what they call strong-arm tactics by the government, have tried to storm the podium, seize microphones and speak out of

When called on to vote on lesis. lative questions, some have coremoniously ripped up their ballots. One was even observed eating his.

Over the weekend opposition leaders headed for the basement of the Congress building after they learned that official tallies from last month's election, the most contentious in modern Mexican history, were being stored there. But army troops guarding the disputed results forced the opposition away at gunpoint.

While inaugural ceremonies were going on last week, supporters of the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party and demonstrators who back Cuanhtémoc Cardénas, the candidate of the leftist National Democratic Front in the presidential election, threw punches and insults at each other on the steps of Congress.

The normally empty galleries of the Chamber of Deputies, which after a presidential election is empowered to act as an electoral college, have also become the scene of some turnult Cardenas backers have filled its seats, occasionally chanting ob-acenities at majority-party legisla-tors and once breaking into the national anthem, which brought business to a halt and forced the legislators to rise and join in.

Deputies of the PRI, as the ruling party is known, later applied the same tactic to silence a Cardénas deputy whose oratory they dis-liked.

U.S. Firm Recalls Outlet Adapters

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Radio electrical appliances overseas, becanse they may pose a shock haz-ard, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission reports.

The adapters allow a voltage converter to be plugged into foreign electrical outlets, allowing the use of American appliances on foreign electrical systems. However, the adapters can separate from the base when pulled from an outlet, exposing the user to possible elec-trical shock, the commission said.

Sets of four adapters were sold nationally under the "Archer"

Press reported.] In the past, such conduct would have been unthinkable in Congress, traditionally the docile creature of an all-powerful president in which the PRI always maintained at least a two-thirds majority.

"We are paid to appland," a sen-ator once said when asked why Congress did not even venture to play the role of a debating society. But the strong performance of

[The public galleries of the Chamber of Deputies were closed to the public Friday after another rowdy session, The Associated both the National Action Party and the National Democratic Front in the July 6 elections has left the PRI the disputed presidential vote, in which Carlos Salinas de Gortari of the lower house and has transformed the role of Congress.

Functioning as an electoral col-lege, the Chamber of Deputies has the certification of the election of its 500 members as its first order of business. In an effort to meet the Monday deadline established by law, the chamber has gone into "permanent session." Following President Miguel de la dazed Congress in recess, Mr. de la Madrid's State of the Nation ad-Madrid took the opposition to the PRI officially won 50.4 percent, to 31.1 percent for Mr. Cardenas. Because of the opposition's tough stand thus far, a walkout from the president's address is considered possible, and the certifica-tion of Mr. Salmas is likely to be as heated as the current proceedings. The day after the tumultuous first session on Aug. 15, with the Speaking in the southern state of Chiapas, he declared, "We must draw away from infantile behavior and reach new levels of political civility, respecting persons and opinions, because only in this way will we be able to strengthen the

Nevertheless, supporters of Mr. Cardenas continue to hold their round-the-clock vigil outside Con gress, cheering orators and sampling the wares of vendors selling tacos, pork rinds, ice cream and

Percy Foreman, Trial Lawyer, Dies

electric chair if he faced a jury in

Mr. Foreman combined a

By James Barron

New York Times Service Percy Foreman, 86, the flamboyant lawyer who defended James Earl Ray in the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr., died Thursday in Houston. A hospital spokesman said be died of cardiac

There is no better trial lawyer in the U.S. than me," Mr. Foreman once asserted. As evidence, he cited 1,500 death penalty cases be had handled: Fewer than half went to trial, and of those that did, he lost only 53. In the rest, his clients either were not indicted or pleaded guilty to lesser offenses.

Only one of his clients, a restaurateur named Steve Mitchell who was convicted of shooting his wife, was executed.

Mr. Foreman became Ray's lawhe flogged her with a whip, Mr. yer 36 hours before the latter was Foreman picked up the whip from scheduled to go on trial. Ray had the evidence table and cracked it dismissed his attorney, Arthur J. repeatedly during his closing argu-Hanes, after conferring with Mr. Foreman for several hours. Mr. Cther deaths: Foreman eventually persuaded Ray to plead guilty to the 1968 slaying of Mr. King in exchange for Irving Mansfield, 80, a publicist and television producer whose wife was the novelist Jacqueline Susann, a 99-year sentence. Ray, who maintained that his Thursday in New York after a only role in the assassination was to buy the marder weapon and give it Françoise Dolto-Marette, 79, a to a man named Raoul, later said leading French psychoanalyst and Mr. Foreman pressured him into pleading guilty by saying he was 99 percent certain Ray would go to the author of several popular books on child psychology, Thursday of lung infection at her home in Paris.

DEATH NOTICE

shrewd legal mind with a mastery of tactics, vitriol and mahashed George SAKTER passed away on August 24, and will be cremated at Pere-La-Chaise at 9 a.m., August 30, 1988. showmanship. Defending a woman who had killed her husband after

DIAMONDS

YOUR BEST BUY Single diamonds at wholesale prices by ordering direct from Autwerp, the world's most important cut-diamond market. Give diamonds to the ones you love, buy for investment, for your enjoyment

Write airmail for free price list or call us: Joschim Goldenstein diamentexport BVBA Established 1928

Pelikametrani 62, B-2018 Autwert Belginn - Telz (32.3) 234.07.51 Telem 71779 syl h. Telefon 32.3/231.88.87 at the Diamond Club Bldg.

Couple's Sad Tale Provided Steady Income, Police Say

LOS ANGELES - Yvonne Clark felt sorry for the well-dressed young man who said he hoped to enroll at the University of California, Los Angeles, and his wife, who was two months pregnant and had not eaten all day. The two said they had lost their money when their car was burglarized, and so Ms. Clark, who met them in December in the parking lot of a supermarket, wrote them a check

The comple's tale of woe also touched Anne Broyles, pastor of the nearby Malibn United Methodist Church, who gave them $53 in February. "God bless you," they said, promising to pay her back.
When a Los Angeles Times columnist, Jack Smith, met the same, desperate couple in May, the woman was still two months pregnant and the earnest young man still UCLA-bound. Mr. Smith gave them $20, wrote a column about it, and the letters poured in.

That is how the police came to discover that Jeffrey Duayne Allman, 31, is not going to college, and Tracy Chris Hartland, 24, is not going to have a baby. Authorities say the two are aspiring actors who carned as much as $200 an hour playing upon the emotions of generous Los Angeles-area residents.

The Los Angeles city attorney, James K. Hahn, says they ran their scam for as long as three years in parking lots from Malibu to Pasadena. He said he would seek jail terms for both defendants, as well as restitution for their victims.

the selection of fashion igedo düsseldorf september 11-14, 1988

The new 1989 spring/summer fashion in Düsseldorf/West Germany For detailed information please contact igedo Düsseldorf: fax 0211/4396345, telex 85848

Herald Eribune

The International Herald Tribune is pleased to present its fall schedule of conferences. For further information on any of those listed below, please tick the appropriate box and return, with your business card, to the address below.

> INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS OUTLOOK University College, Oxford, September 21-24, 1988

An intensive overview for senior management executives of the current political, economic and social forces shaping the global business climate.

1992 - A SINGLE MINDED VISION: MARKETING AND MEDIA ACROSS ONE MARKET Marriott Hotel, Amsterdam, October 4, 1988

Leading executives and senior political figures from throughout Europe will examine the implications of 1992 for the marketing, advertising and communications industries and will provide a global picture of what lies ahead.

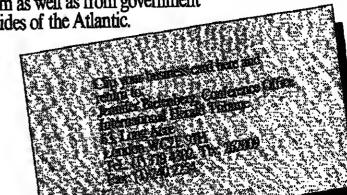

OIL AND MONEY: THE SEARCH FOR STABILITY InterContinental Hotel, London, October 13-14, 1988

The ninth annual international energy meeting, attended and addressed by leading figures in the industry.

> INTERNATIONAL MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS IN THE 1990'S Park Lane Hotel, London, November 10, 1988

This conference will examine trans-Atlantic and intra-European corporate mergers and acquisitions, focussing specifically on European opportunities in the U.S. The economic and political ramifications of the internationalization of M & A will be discussed, featuring views from the boardroom as well as from government on both sides of the Atlantic.

ARAMCO offers for sale by sealed bid the following materials:

CARBON STEEL, 26 IN., 0.281 IN. WT., SPIRAL WOUND SUBMERGED ARE WELDED API-5LS GRX60, BEVELLED ENDS, HYDROSTATIC TEST PRESSURE 1170 PSIG, FUSION BONDED EPOXY COATING PER SPEC. 09-AMSS-89, MADE BY NATIONAL PIPE FACTORY SAUDI ARABIA.

APPROX. QTY. 2, 626 JOINTS; AVERAGE LENGTH 80 FT. PER JOINT

2. MISC. ITEMS OF CASING OIL COUNTRY IN ASSORTED SPECIFICATIONS AND SIZE:

SIZE 20 IN./CASING QTY. 2 JOINTS SIZE 18-5/8 IN./CASING APPROX. QTY. 1,772 JOINTS SIZE 18-5/8 IN./CASING APPROX. QTY. 3,350 JOINTS SIZE 9-5/8 IN./CASING APPROX. QTY. 312 JOINTS SIZE 9-5/8 IN./CASING APPROX. QTY. 605 JOINTS SIZE 9-5/8 IN./CASING APPROX. QTY. 20 JOINTS

DHAHRAN DHAHRAN SHEDGUM DHAHRAN UTHMANIYAH UTHMANIYAH

Copies of the detailed list and bids instructions are available at one of the following locations:

Aramco Sales Unit, Building 3122, Room 111, Dhahran, Saudi Arabia Phone 874-7586 or 874-7655, Telex: 801928/1 ARMS SJ.

Aramco Affairs Office, Nasiriyah Street, opposite King Faisal Specialist Hospital, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, Phone 441-0200

Aramco Purchasing Office, Hada Center, Hada Street, Sharafiyah, Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, Phone 653-4655

Bid closing date is September 12, 1988.

The items are available for viewing until September 11, 1988.

OS ANGELES — Regardless of what the UN-sponsored peace talks lead to, the eight-year-old war already has starkly changed the Gulf. Gone are the days when Iran could play a hege-monic role there, and so too has passed the era of

Although an Iranian threat was evident as far

Iraqi radicalism in Middle Eastern politics.

Herald Tribune.

The Revival of the Beast

Like Yeats's rough beast in "The Second Coming," apostles of political murder are slouching back into view. The U.S. State Department reports that terrorist incidents worldwide climbed to 832 last year, a 7 percent jump. The precision is misleading, since there's no rule for distinguishing one person's "terrorist" from another's "freedom lighter."

Still, after a lull, political violence seems to have revived, as evidenced by the reappearance of the Red Army in Japan, the killing of nine people on a Greek excursion ship, the leap in communal murders in India's Punjab and last week's bombing of a Haifa cafe, wounding 25, days after the death by burning of three Palestinians near Tel Aviv.

With this revival come ever more desperate excuses for the carnage, as in the Irish Republican Army's campaign against British soldiers. Gerry Adams, leader of the IRA's political wing, defends this tactic as "not only the right thing to do, but the clever thing to do." He argues there's more political profit in killing soldiers, thereby turning British opinion against their use in Nurthern Ireland.

Clever? It's cynical and indiscriminately cruel. Of 70 political killings in Northern Ireland this year, 36 victims were civilians. Of 581 people injured, 346 were civilians. The toll includes the 7-year-old son of an Irish Protestant family returning from an American holiday, killed in a car explosion whose intended target was a Roman Catho-

the fRA has shifted to attacks on off-duty British soldiers. A bombing near Belfast last Saturday killed eight soldiers and wounded 28. This brings to 27 the total of British troops slain this year. It is outra-

And it can scarcely he maintained that IRA gunmen are denied the right to speak freely, participate in polities and take their case to elected parliaments in London and Duhlin. Indeed, Mr. Adams has twice won election by narrow phuralities to a British Parliament in which he refuses to sit.

the real grievances of the province's Catholic minority, victimized by job discrimina-tion and shoot-to-kill intimidation by po-lice. But Mr. Adams isn't looking for redress. He strives instead for rage and chaos, while his allies look to Libya for guns and to Irish-Americans for money. In fact, with every fresh killing, the "clever" IRA wins ever greater American sympathy for its victims, less for its cause.

expressive of their own political desires. This is the policy that would serve stability.

The agitation in the Baltics is different and perhaps harder to deal with, since, theoreti-cally anyway, the satisfaction of local desires could lead to the territorial fragmentation of the Soviet Union. Recently these Baltic republics have been learning, from their own press no less, of the Nazi-Soviet pact of 1939, which resulted in the Kremlin's swallowing

the theu-independent nations of Estonia,

Latvia and Lithuania. Nn country willingly participates in its own dismemberment. At the least, however, Moscow is going to have to explore new forms of association with the parts of its country — as with the parts of its empire — that were involuntarily attached to it. Self-determination is a powerful political current, and no ruler can forever ignore it.

The Soviet Union needs a generation or more to come to terms with the consequences of its many past aggressions. Whether Mr. Gorbachev can do it, and survive it, is a real question. Some well-meaning Americans would look for ways to ease his burden, or at least not to make it beavier. But the right American attitude is to he on the side of freedom. That does not mean egging others on: they need no egging

anyway. It means being faithful and sympathetic to the victims in a responsible way.

George Bush will have none of it. But instead of provoking Mr. Dukakis into what could be important arguments relevant to the office they are both seeking, he has sunk into a bashing mode that threatens to undo all ft is, of course, true that Mr. Bush took a tremendous hit with the uproar that his choice of Dan Quayle as a running mate set off. In the furor there are a few things that can be said with certainty. One is that the candidate should have known more about

Senator Quavle before the choice was made:

to concede that there have been elements of hysteria in the pursuit of the candidate and the issue is not to dispose of the issue itself.

far has been the awakening of an awfully better self, wasn't all that long ago. It just seems that way. Is this what the campaigo is going to be about to the end?

— THE WASHINGTON POST.

The only good that has come of all this so the good he did himself in New Orleans.

—THE WASHINGTON POST.

That is the work of a generation, too.

Those Unreal Campaigns

How did we get to this dreadful place so fast? It seems like only yesterday that the two candidates for U.S. president had each bopes to keep out of sight until November.

-THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Eastern Europe's Seething security interests not in risk reprisal and yet

that is becoming increasingly common in the age of glasnost. The condition is nationalism, an expression both of national longing and of individual dignity. It is touching not just Poland and other parts of the Soviet Union's East European empire, but also the small subject nationality groups in the trans-Cau-casus and the Baltic region, which earlier were absorbed into the Soviet Union itself. Glasnost is presented by Mikhail Gorbachev as essential to unlocking the initiative and energy needed for vital economic reform. But glasnost is also broadening the political space in which East Europeans and the subject nationalities voice demands that the authorities can neither satisfy nor suppress.

Poland is the pace-setter. The Red Army liberated it from the Nazis in World War II but imposed Communism and Soviet control. Solidarity represents popular opposi-tion to both of the latter. Actually, Solidarity is a responsible mass organization whose leaders have a realistic understanding of the constraints on the workers' and ou Poland's freedom of action. The Polish regime, bowever, remains unwilling to take Solidarity as the patriotic and efficient partner it is propared to be. Instead it uses its superior forces to deny Solidarity its deserved role as spokes-man for most of the Polish people. Given the chance, the Poles would probably choose, at this constrained moment in their history, a policy that was respectful enough of Soviet redeemed his candidacy with a convention appearance that rallied the troops and reassured the public in large measure, and even caused some of the most devoted media cranks to concede that there might be a little more to these two men than they had previously supposed. But that was then.

Now is already different. The two camps are assidunusly avoiding real presidential issues. Their avoidance starts with all the phony baloney each candidate is putting out on how he would pay for the programs

he has promised. It then proceeds to a series of tricks and shams and feints, all of which suggest that neither side has a whole lot of blurring over his past stands, past performance and presumed opinions, coming on

Michael Dukakis has been laboriously respect for the intelligence of the voters.

lic judge returning from a holiday in the United States with his teen-age daughter.

back as 1971, when the Shah seized the Arab islands of Abu Musa and the Greater and Lesser To divert eyes from civilian casualties. Tunbs in the Strait of Hormuz, the Arab states in the Gulf did not appear to take it seriously. Their policy, adopted early in the war by the members of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), was one of "non-neutrality" — which meant supporting Iraq in words and money only. One of the principal results of the fighting has been to change the GCC's perception of Iran's interests. What was geous to contend that killing young soldiers in dance halls is justifiable homicide. A life is a life, whatever a victim's attire. once an abstract threat had become quite concrete, and thus the policy of mere rhetoric and financial support of Iraq is likely to be reevaluated.

Illustrative of this, and an indicator of things to come, is the rush to arm. Earlier this year, Saudi. Arabia bought, from China, CSS-2 ballistic missiles capable of striking targets more than 1,600 miles (2,500 kilometers) away. This was followed by a major arms accord with Britain, estimated at about $29 billion. Kuwait followed suit by heavily arming Tn condemn IRA killings is not to ignore itself and diversifying its arms suppliers.

With peace, Iran may regain international respect, strengthen its army and re-emerge as a regional power. But in light of the wholesale military buildup undergone by the sparsely populated Gulf states, the balance of power already has shifted enough to diminish the possibility that Iran will again become as powerful in the Gulf as it was under the Shah.

The Arab states, from Kuwait at the Gulf's tip to Oman at its mouth, were easily intimated in the past. Today, Iraq's upper hand at this stage of the war, and their stock nf weapons, boosts their morale and encourages them to stand up to chal-

STOCKHOLM — The Inng-sought cease-fire in the Gulf is most likely to lead not to disarmament but to a burst of rearmament,

1980, at least 53 nations have been invalved in arms sales to Iran and/nr Iraq. Countries with strict export regulations, such as the United States and Sweden, found their policies compromised. Others leapt at the opportunities. More than $50 billion of military equipment has been sold, including $27 billion in majnr weapons systems. During these years 20 percent of all the weapons sent to the Third World went to the two Gulf antagonists. A lot of the rest of those weapons went to their frightened neighbors, ft is not likely that there will be sudden reduction in anyone's forces

now. The basic disputes that led to the war — control over the Shatt al-

Arab waterway, Kurdish separatism, religious and cultural disputes, the quest for regional hegemony — all remain. Mutual exhaustion has not weakened mutual hatred. It is likely that Iran and Iraq will continue to arm. Such a "peacetime" arms race, however, will be much different from what has taken place.

Since the war began in September

By Aaron Karp

Foreign Service: A Tea Party?

Arnold L. Rapbel, the Ambassador to Pakistan, whn was killed in a plane crash with President Mohammad Zia ul-Haq last week, was the 152d American diplomat since 1780 to lose his life while performing his

"The people whn represent the United States abroad serve in the front lines of America's interests. Our diplomats often work in areas which can only be described as combat zones. I am reminded of this every time I enter the State Department and see twn plaques nn the wall commemorating members of the Foreign Service whn died in the line of duty.

"The nlder plaque took 187 years in fill up. Most of the people listed there lost their lives to accident nr disease. The more recent plaque.

however, took only 20 years in fill up. And most of the people on it were murdered by terrorists. So, don't let anyone tell you that diplomacy is a tea party nr pushing cookies."

George Shultz, the Secretary of State, delivered these remarks during n

From The New York Times.

speech to the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League in February.

duties overseas, according to the State Department.

As the fighting wanes it will be impossible for the West in maintain its arms embargn in Iran. Although Tehran still has nn affectinn for the West, a cease-fire does provide it with a chance to restore relations with its traditional suppliers. Coun-tries with struggling arms industries, such as Belgium, Britain, Italy and South Korea, will come noder domestie pressure to license new deals.

Able to buy from the West again,

Iran will improve its weapons technology, insuring that any new fighting will be more destructive.

the black market that sustained fran through the eight years of battle. The hlack market in arms grew to immense proportions in response to Tehran's needs, furnishing billions of dollars worth of essential supplies and technology. Even such major weapons as Austrian howitzers and Swedish missiles were smuggled through. The hlack market will not disappear — other embargoed na-tions, such as North Korea and South Africa, will keep it in business — hut without its higgest customer it will shrink considerably. Next to be affected will be the principle major suppliers: China,

The first to feel the change will be

OPINION

In the Gulf, a Shifting of Power Is Under Way

By Elie Chalala

lenges. Qatar's sunbbing of the Reagan administration, in refusing to surrender its quietly acquired Stinger missiles, was only the most recent evidence of this new-found boldness.

The question the United States now must ask is whether to attempt to maintain Gulf security through a continued and permanent presence, or whether to assign this task, as in the past, when patrolling the Gulf was the duty of the Shah. The latter choice - essentially the Nixon doctrine - is now complicated by the absence of a single, hege-monic power. Realities dictate that if the U.S. fleet is not to become a permanent part of the seascape, Gulf security must involve the Arab states as a group—the GCC—in equal partnership with Iran.

Arab states, easily intimated in the past, are bolder today.

Iraqi radicalism has been another casualty of the eight-year bartle. Its long-heard Baathist polemics—calling for the overthrow of "reactionary" Arab states, the "stooges of imperialism," and the unifica-tion of the Arab world under the Baathist banner—is now history. In a recent interview with al-Tadaman, an Arab weekly, Iraqi President Saddam Hussein himself said: "I have changed my view on the concept of unity. I am an Arab first, and Baathist second. What we need is the unity of hearts and minds. The unity between Iraq and Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Jor-dan and Yemen is stronger than the [since-ended] constitutional union between Egypt and Syria." Symbolic of this change in perspective is the fact that it was Iraq that played a key role in expelling Egypt from the Arab League in 1979 after Anwar Sadat signed the Camp David agreement, and that in the last two years it was Iraq that was a leader in bringing Cairo back to the Arab fold. In welcom-ing back Egypt, Iraq and the Gulf states had found it counterproductive to continue excluding the strongest and most populous Arab country from formulating policies to deal with the Gulf war. Whether Egypt's re-admission to the fold would be translated into military support against Iran, the symbolism was not lost: it served to increase Iranian anxiety and, no doubt, is significant in Iran's reticence to continue occupying some Iraqi territories.

Perhaps the most striking effect of the war is Iraq's move toward the U.S. position regarding the Arab-Israel conflict. Speaking in October to Milton Viorst of The New Yorker magazine, Tariq Aziz, Iraq's deputy prime minister and foreign minister, made an unprecedented statement of moderation toward Israel. Asked if Iraq still insisted that a settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict be acceptable to all parties, he answered: "Definitely not." He added: "We long ago stopped giving lectures to the Palestinians, Jordanians and Syrians about what to do regarding the conflict with Israel. If the Palestinians accept an accommodation, why should we object?"

Considering that the one-time bedrock notion of Beathist ideology was that Palestine, including Israel in its 1948 borders, was an inseparable part of a unified Arab nation, Mr. Aziz's statements suggest that Iraq has come a long way. The statements made by Iraqi officials also show how old ideas became too cosily a burden to bear in this new era.

As in the aftermath of most wars, the results were not fully intended by the belligerents; they materialized in the course of battle. Likewise, reversing them is as problematic as predicting their occurrence.

The writer, a political science teacher specializing in the Middle East, is an associate editor of the Journal of Arab Affairs in Los Angeles. This comment was contributed to the International Herald Tribune.

... And the Race for Arms We've so proud of you serving in the United Nations. Peace-keeping Force between Iran and Iraq. Will Likely Only Intensify P.S. your paycherk bounced.

France, the Soviet Union and many smaller nations, who took advantage of the unwillingness of others to sell arms. Iran and Iraq will be able to ers will lose both sales and influence. In this environment, arms prices could drop world-wide. Weapnns such as the French Exocet missile and the Soviet T-72 tank - the trump cards of the war - may become cheaper for everyone. Deteriorating prices will he rumous for many manufacturers, but they will enable impoverished nations in South America and Africa to buy arms that for years were unaffordable. While it will take several years for industries and governments to adjust to these changes, the war also has created problems for global security that must be accepted and managed now since they will not go away. The Iraqi and Iranian armies can no longer be dismissed as the playthings of tyrants. Eight years of tight-ing have shaped them into competent and battle-hardened military forces. Other nations in the region, like Israel, and outside powers, like the United States, must think carefully before risking military confrontations that before were virtually risk-free.

The other nations in the Gulf have diversify their weapons purchases and, as they grow less desperate and more selective, their wartime suppliheavier military burdens than befnre: Kuwait wants 40 U.S. F/A-18 fighters and Saudi Arabia is buying 50 more British Tornados (on top of 72 already on order), while Bahrain ouys F-16s and the United Arab Emirates are getting the French Mirage 2000. Large orders for tanks and submarines are imminent.

China has emerged as a rogue supplier, offering new weapons without hesitation. Through the sales of Silkworm anti-ship missiles and CSS-2 ballistic missiles, Beijing has found a niche and a new source of income, while showing no concern for the strategic consequences. It is no surprise to see prospective clients like Libya and Syria getting in line.

The introduction of long-range tactical aircraft, anti-ship missiles, ballistic missiles, chemical weapons and all the other new arms has created a delicate and unpredictable regional balance. The long reach of these weapons means that a future Middle East conflict could directly involve nations previously ton distant. India, Israel and the Soviet Union all face tangible threats from the new Gulf arsenals. If war breaks out again in the region, they may feel compelled to do more than sit nervously on the sidelines. There will be no return to the sta-tus quo ante. Rather than signifying the end of the Iran-Iraq war, the cease-fire could be the ominous prelude to a far worse conflagration.

The writer, who directs the arms trade research program at the Swed-ish-government-funded Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, contributed this comment to the International Herald Tribune.

Once More, Poles Arise In Protest

By A.M. Rosenthal

EW YORK — They rise and N are beaten down. They rise again a few years later, and again are bloodied and beaten. Again they rise, these Poles, as they are rising now and will again one day.

They have been rising for decades against Communist governments installed by Soviet troops who marched into Warsaw after the German orgy of murder had turned the city into a graveyard of stones and stench.

Sometimes they rise for the freedom to speak aloud, as they did in the fall of 1956, their sudden springtime in October. Winter descended quickly, as it has every time the Poles have tried to turn their faces to the sun. They have risen for bread, for liberties, for religion and sometimes simply out of a boiling mixture of anger and hope inside that will not let them rest Now they are rising again, in a wave of strikes demanding the return of Solidarity, the labor organization out-lawed everywhere in Poland except in the hearts and dreams of the people. To the Poles, Solidarity means not."

only more wages but more freedom and the Communist government knows it as well as do its subjects. Once again, the Polish government has responded by crackdown. The de-mands for a free labor union are de-nounced as anarchistic and chaotic-

Once again leaders of Poland's work-ers face the brutality of Poland's jails. It is difficult to write about the Poles without some emotion. I was a correspondent in Poland when the hope of the first springtime had just-frozen over. Eventually, I was ordered to leave by a government annoyed at foreign correspondents poking around a little. But I am not a romantic. When I was in Poland, there was admiration in me for the bravery of the people and their zest for life, but also a full awareness of how cruel Poles could be to Poles and of the miasma of anti-Semitism that hung over the country before, during and after World War II.

· Twenty-five years later, I returned for the first time and saw the Poles rising again, sometimes in demon-strations whose stony silence re-sounded londer than screams or trumpets. And I saw a new generation of Poles, unconnected to any ugliness in Polish history, bright and daring and open. I felt for them a tenderness that f sometimes found difficult to summon for their parents.

Everybody in Poland, most particularly the men in the Communist Party headquarters, knows this truth: If a free election were held, the Communists would be swept into the garbage cans of Polish history. More than four decades of Communist rule have resulted in total failure - failure to provide a decent standard of life and failure to win anything but revulsion from the Polish people.

The fact that Poland is the most "open" country in the Communist bloc is sometimes seen in the West as a tribute to the Communist rulers of land ft is not ft is a tribute to th determination of the Polish people and their willingness to fight, year after year, defeat after defeat. The regulated bberties have not been awarded by the government but squeezed out of them by the wrath and courage of the Polish people.

That is reality. So is the fact that only Soviet power keeps one Polish government after another alive. The threat has always been plain to the Polish people: push too hard and the Soviet Union will strangle you economically; push even harder and Soviet tanks will roll into Warsaw. That always is the fear that prevents the people and the Polish church from overthrowing the Communist government.

Moscow has not dared permit real freedom in Poland - real unions, real newspapers, real elections - for fear of the contagion of liberty crossing the border. Already, Western voices are heard cincking at the Polish people, warning them not to go too far, lest Mikhail Gorbachev be embarrassed and Kremlin opposition. to him somehow be strengthened.

bachev - to urge him to allow the Poles to have their free election, choose their government. Poland would be free, but pledge never to be hostile base against the Soviet Union. If he does not fear freedom, be need not fear the people of Poland That would be the real test of how deep the changes in the Kremlin are. And oh, what a triumph for Mikhail Gorbachev to be the bringer of freedom to Poland, what a glory! Then all Poles, in joy, would toast him: Sto lat, may be live a hundred years.

Is that just a dream? What else makes Poles arise? What else is Poland? The New York Times

Campaign or Pudding, This Is Tasteless just boring, it is downright soporific. Take what he did at the Neshoba

N EW YORK — It is said that at a dinner party once, Winston Churchill looked down as a pudding was placed before him and said, "Pray remove it, it lacks theme." Churchill is not around to comment on the current U.S. presidential race, but if he is, as we hope, looking down, he is almost certainly repeating that remark. The current campaign is a themeless pudding.

Fairness would insist that the blame for this silly campaign be equally apportioned. Alas, the facts get in the way. George Bush is doing more than Michael Dukakis to turn the race for the Oval Office into a frivolous event. The issue at the moment is the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The pledge was first published by a vouth magazine, The Yonth Companion, in 1892 and has been recited by most of Americans ever since. In 1954, Congress gave atheistic com-munism a mortal blow by inserting the words "under God." In this form, it was recited by all the potsmoking Vietnam War protestors who infest Mr. Bush's imagination and who were, it seems, put on earth to make Dan Quayle look good by comparison. The efficacy of the pledge is somewhat in doubt.

In 1977, Mr. Dukakis vetoed a Massachusetts bill to require school teachers to begin their students' day with the pledge. He did so, he says, for two reasons: The U.S. Supreme Court in 1943 ruled it unconstitutional to compel the recitation of the pledge and, in an advisory opinion, Massachusetts' highest court, the Su-preme Judicial Court, agreed, ft would have been sheer grandstanding for Mr. Dukakis to have signed what is, after all, an unenforceable bill. Now Mr. Bush is grandstanding on

You may or may not agree with

By Richard Cohen

what Mr. Dukakis did. You will surely agree, though, that as an act of state it is a trivial matter. The next president of the United States is going to have to deal with the challenge of glasnost in the Soviet Union, apartheid in South Africa, debt in the Third World, communist insurgencies in Central America, a staggering federal deficit at home, acid rain, unemployment, the plight of the inner city, the farm crisis, competitiveness and the loss of the ozone layer, which, I take it, will make all of us look like Yul Brynner. Should a nation of bald people be required to recite the pledge?

Should a nation of bald people be required to recite the pledge?

I don't know. And I don't care. I do know, though, that this is one of the sillier issues on which to campaign. But we now have yet another momentous issue: the debate about the debate. Once again, Mr. Bush is the culprit. His campaign organization says that two dates set for presidential debates are too early. Mr. Dukakis says be will show up for the first debate anyway. Maybe he will talk to his snow blower.

But Mr. Dukakis is not entirely blameless for a presidential campaign that has become unenlightening. He absolutely refuses to work without safety nets. Having bared his soul in Atlanta with his acceptance address --he choked on a mention of his late father - Mr. Dukakis has since gone back into his shell. His caution is not

County Fair in Mississippi. The event was redolent with history. Nearby is Philadelphia, Mississippi, where, in 1964, three civil-rights workers were lynched. Mr. Dukakis spoke on the 24th anniversary of the discovery of the bodies. Did he mention them? Nn. He was speaking to a mostly white audience and it would have been most unDukakis-like to have actually said something bold. In-stead, he merely alluded to what had happened 24 years before, and left it at that. As president, Mr. Dukakis would go to Pearl Harbor and probably not mention the bombing for fear of offending the Japanese.

The polls say that voters flit from candidate to candidate like bees to flowers. First one leads and then the other, and never by very much. Is there any wonder? Mr. Bush has raised the pledge of allegiance issue. Mr. Dukakis raises almost no issue. The two of them stand for everything and, therefore, for nothing. Mr. Bush will give Americans new social programs and a terrific military and not raise taxes. Mr. Dukakis will give Americans the sun in the morning, the moon at night, and competence. Mr. Bush has already given us his sun. He's called Dan Quayle.

I write this week from New York. Outside my window, the traffic in Manhattan is relatively light. At lunch, the restaurant was nearly empty. Summer is staging its finale and much of America seems to be on vacation. For the candidates, this is a lucky state of affairs. Maybe the pudding they've offered in August will harden after Labor Day and both will address the issues. If not, Churchill's remark will have to be amended:

Pray, remove them both. Washington Post Writers Group.

1888: Imperial Warning BERLIN - The Kaiser in his Frankfort speech voiced the feeling of nearly every Prussian, and there is universal delight at having so able a spokesman. The talk about returning Alsace-Lorraine has always been exasperating to Germans. The recent gossip about returning portions of Schleswig Holstein has to Prussian ears been even worse, and, in fact, almost high treason. Now the emphatic Imperial declaration that a single clod of Alsace soil is worth the lives of eighteen army corps, if this price must be paid for retaining it, falls on delighted ears,

1913: Currency Control NEW YORK - Washington despatches received here today [Aug. 26], to the effect that President Wilson will reject all the changes in the new Currency Bill which have been proposed by the bankers at the Chicago Convention last week, created indignation in Wall Street. Advices quote the President as saying that the Government must control the new system or there will be no Currency Bill. This is taken to mean that the President would veto the measure, if it were radically amended.

Japanese government for permitting the unwarranted attack on the C.N.A.C. air liner, which was brought down in the Pacific and sunk done new year and a many of the laws are remained but the laws a minute prison of the laws are remained by the laws a many of the laws are remained by the laws are remaine by machine-gun fire Wednesday [Aug. 24], drowning thirteen of the seventeen passengers. The protest was delivered in Tokio by Ambassador Jo-seph C. Grew. The American Ambassador quoted the report of pilot [H. L.] Wood, now in a Hongkong hospital, that Japanese planes had machine and a possible in charge of the could face a charge of the could face a charge of the could face in possible in sensor.

The possible is sensore that the could face a charge of the could face a charge of the could face a charge of the could face the charge of the could face the could face the charge of th gunned the Chinese air liner, forcing it

WIERSHIES IN THAT IS --DEPOSITOR OF THE PARTY OF THE P Chinese-Sovie 1 400 mg . us 15.40 The second second The same of the same of Miles C. 1.00 M 1---The M ----To whether Carried Service with the Paris TO THE PARTY AND EC. J. 14 0.00 SELL MAL

Officials Predict To Assess Darna

By Rote: BAD Sill General - To the Control of the Cont DATE OF THE PARTY meth are an area and a second Actor 10 S Copy

nde V-US ARE REPORTED IN THE PARTY OF dd sycu The Feat

國figuration amonto de la constanta de la c Terror and the BOSTOT VOLUMENTS & WREEZ: ... :

US ಕಾರ್ಮಕ್ಕಿ ಅಕ್ಕಬ್ಯಾಪ್ತಿತ್ತ. . missi are a second and the tree to a viere BEETE COLL has been sen sen une her -推立: なかで: cr

Mr Chica 10 を は ない こうしゅ PR-72 Marie Control Title Table 1 Read ...

State of the state

State of Sta

Was Commented to

West body 121 the agen-

Marie to Comments It was Salar was German para and salar sala

the state of the prose

the Mr Comer ahous

to refer to except the and the believed that U.S. and

And the state of t

the West German part of

Section 1

the charge of th Po (Care Marie 20 20 20 The same of the same The second secon Cartina 1 Bellevin and the With the Color

But now is precisely the time for friends of Poland —and of Mr. Gor-A STATE OF WORLD A CONTRACT OF THE STATE OF THE A STATE OF THE STA

100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1938: Airline Attack WASHINGTON - In a note of emphatic protest. Secretary of State Cordell Hull tonight castigated the to come down on the sea, and then continued to fire on it until it sank.

وكرامن التُعمل

interesting quasi-confessional public dis-cussion of Vietnam and the way young vague on the issues, horrified if anyone calls him a liberal and determined to assert that be people of draft age thought about it and behaved in relation to it then - and how is entitled to the support of a conservative constituency that rightly suspects he is not they view their thought and behavior at this distance. The bad that has come of the one of them. So that rules out either defending or arguing about liberal policy intentions uproar is that it seems to have intensified the Bush campaign's determination to fight things out on a demagogic political level.

We think there is a legitimate issue con-Abusing the Pledge cerning Mr. Dukakis' foreign and national security policy savvy and skills. But this Mr. Many issues can be honorably and profitably addressed this fall, yet the 1988 presidential campaign has begun with a coarse Bush has largely passed by, stepping up his exchange over the pledge of allegiance, initi-ated by Mr. Bush. As a political ploy, it shrill attacks instead on his opponent's patrintism. This ugly line has become a theme. From the passage in the keynote speech of the usually sensible Governor Tum Kean of demeans him, insults his opponent and threatens to turn the pledge - an honorable and decent ritual — into a political football.

New Jersey denouncing "pastel patriotism" to Mr. Bush's absolute fixation with the Mr. Bush raised the issue in his acceptance sprech and again Monday. A fired-up Mr. pledge of allegiance non-issue, the Republi-Dukakis responded that Mr. Bush wasn't fit can campaign has increasingly (and it is still to be president if he couldn't understand the only August!) taken to drumbeat sugges-Constitution. Mr. Bush replied that he untions that there is something disloyal and derstood the Constitution but that the Masunpatriotic about the Democratic ticket. It sachusetts bill had never been legally tested; had he been governor, he would have signed is, not to be too dainty about it, disgusting. And the really sad thing is that, as it has it and let the Supreme Court decide. always been before when the Republican It's silly. The pledge expresses noble sencandidate campaigned in ways that ultitiments and celebrates shared values. But mately brought him ridicule, you know that George Bush - the real George Bush the pledge is not the issue. The issue is knows better. In fact, Aug. 18, when the whether the pledge can he required. It does nothing to elevate the level of political dispublic got at least a glimpse of his true and question into a litmus test of patriotism or of how to vote in November. - THE NEW YORK TIMES.

course to turn a complex constitutional

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE JOHN HAY WHITNEY, Chairman 1958-1982

KATHARINE GRAHAM. WILLIAM S. PALEY, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

JOHN VINOCUR, Executive Editor . WALTER WELLS, News Editor . SAMUEL ABT, KATHERINE KNORR and CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors • CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor • ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editorial Pages • JAMES R. CRATE, Business/Financial Editor RENÉ BONDY. Deputy: Publisher • ALAIN LECOUR and RICHARD H. MORGAN, Associate Publishers • FRANÇOIS DESMAISONS. Circulation Director • ROLF D. KRANEPUHL. Advertising Sales Director • KOURDT HOWELL, Director, Information Systems

International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92200 Neurilly-sur-Seine, France Tel.: (1) 46.37.93.00. Telex: Advertising, 613595; Circulation, 612832; Editorial, 612718; Production, 630698.

Directeur de la publication: Walter N. Thaver. Editor for Asja: Michael Richardson, 5 Camerbury Rd, Singapore 0511. Tel.472-7768. Tix RS56928
Managing Dar. Asia: Malcolm Glern, 50 Gloucester Road, Hong Kang, Tel. 5-8610616. Telex: 61170
Managing Dar. U.K.: Robin MacKichan, 63 Lang Acre, Landon W.C.2. Tel. 836-4802. Telex: 262009
Got. Mgr. W. Germany: W. Lauterbach, Friedrichstr. 15, 6000 Frankfurt/M. Tel. (069) 726755. Tix 416721
Pres. U.S.: Michael Convoy, 850 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. Tel. (217) 752-3890. Telex: 4C7175
S.A. au capital de 1.200.000 F. RCS Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Paritaire No. 61337
© 1988, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

Mr. Dukakis' refusal to do that.

Carried St.

Marie Marie Marie S

The state of the s

At the second se

of the second

The second of the second

375 5 1 1 1 1 2 A

The space of the

Section 1

The same of the sa

m : 4 1. 1

1000

1111

ALTERNATION INC.

7.7 2 707 129

14 2 2

" 101, 1 by Name

4-1-1- W. #.

1000

*** ** * * * * * *

Pr. 1 92 22 2

who has been 2227

Control of the States and the second re-

1 22

12 t 2 :

ು ಬಿ≒ಡ್ಫ್

4 5.0 1 5

化工作 医洗红斑

U 21 12 1

and the second second

医人名英格兰氏菌素

, , , <sub>ii</sub> , =

2.17

in the second

4: 6:

تشار للملة أأديا

the state of the state of

S. 11 (12)

أنتشارا أأماري

التسديد من المراد ا المراد المرا

1. 10 July 224

12

47.4

فارخصوا وورو

50 mm

· 大大學 (1)表面:

Property

17 112 WE

---

Mar. 1 79 -21

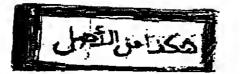

The Train Mic

a same ar are

gi gemt, i line file

With the same

ADVERSARIES OFF AUSTRALIA — The U.S. battleship New Jersey being shadowed Friday in Gage Roads Harbor off Perth, Western Australia, by the yacht Waskasoo, which was carrying protest banners. The New Jersey is in Australia for the bicentennial naval salute in Sydney late next month. The U.S. ship, which was built in 1940, was completely refitted and recommissioned in 1982.

Chinese-Soviet Talks Focus on Cambodia

By Daniel Southerland Washington Post Service

BELIING - China is entering into its first talks with the Soviet Union on resolving the Cambodia conflict amid increasingly positive signs pointing to a possible Chinese-Soviet summit meeting next > Bnt Asian and Western diplomats warned that the two sides were still far apart on Cambodia. The diplomats said they did not expect a breakthrough in the talks, which were to open Saturday and be conducted by Soviet and Chinese deputy foreign ministers.

On the positive side, the fact that the Soviet Union has agreed to

And China is showing new flexibility on a demand for safeguards to prevent the Khmer Ronge guerrillas, whom they support, from re-gaining power in Cambodia once Vietnamese troops withdraw.

China is expected to urge the Soviet Union to press Vietnam to agree to a rapid withdrawal from Cambodia under e fixed timetable. The Chinese Communist Party leader, Zhao Ziyang, told the visiting Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita of Japan on Friday that "the international community is understandably concerned about how to prevent the Khmer Rouge from returning to power."

But Mr. Zhao said that the Victsuch talks after resisting the idea namese-supported regime of Heng for so long is considered progress. Samrin had the strongest army in "trying by every possible means to four days. legalize" that regime. Some Western diplomats, mean-

He said that oeither China nor the international community wanted a Cambodia dominated either by Mr. Heng Samrin or the Khmer Rouge. For the first time, Mr. Zhao proposed a unified national army for Cambodia to prevent renewed conflict and insure general elec-

He said a solotion depended on a complete Victnamese withdrawal "as soon as possible."

The Soviets are expected to argue that if they press Vietnam too hard it will undermine their influence with Hanoi.

A Soviet diplomat said the talks

■ China Seeks Technology Deng Xiaoping, the senior Chinese leader, told Mr. Takeshita on Friday that increased transfers of high technology and investment to China were more important than getting loans, news agencies report-ed from Beijing.

would take place next year.

tion are there to stay."

while, are showing little concern about the prospect of a Chinese-

Soviet summit meeting because, they say, China needs the West for petitors.

economic modernization more

Mr. Deng also said he hoped that Chinese and Japanese leaders would force a new relationship "based on mutual trust."

shita for Japan's offer of 810 billion "I would stress that having a top high technology was more imporsered clearance doesn't mean you have access to everything marked said."

Yen ($6 billion) in loans, but he said high technology was more important to China, Xinhua news agency said.

Japan is the largest lender to

China and its biggest trading partner after Hong Kong. (Reiders, AP)

PRANCE

American School

of Paris

The American School of Paris was founded 42 years upo for the selection of young Americans as well as for stodents of other outeres. Located in abstract 8. Cloud, AST effects a comprihensive selectional experience:

• A stellard body reminering 700, of which 52% are American and 45% represent some 50 different authorities.

American and 45% represent some 50 different materialities.

**Pro-Kacheyaran ferrogh Grotte 12 claum.

**An cuttarating American-based stockpric progress that inducin setsemble Maint, Drusso, Arts and Composite course of of levels.

**The interrectional forestionared IA3 progress, on intensive course of study leading to an advorced alphanar recognised by artiserpism workfalds.

**Broulest college placement records, One 1995 of 1998 ASP graduates are observing institutions of higher learning south as Yole, Contribute, ALT, Princeson, AMAGE, Rosten University, Onlo Wester, on Onlocal.

**Study of the French language and onlocal for oil.

Study of the French language and column for all students.

students.

A vide range of estructuralists administ inducing on orbitals program offseing international comparison is stony sports.

Program in English for Specialist of Other Language (ESCLL) at all graph levels.

Subsect adheds in July at both elementary and stomatory levels.

Applications are foring constant for Foll 1988.

Contact Alex. Foulint in the Administration for the contact at literature.

92210 Select-Closed - FRANCE Tel: 46,02,54,43

REBELLING TEENAGER?

Religence evaluate, Sprod creat most cases, Soperance Mother Naurice consequences and seen like suspening solds impacts low seel as-pear, presignity and brings most language and of their fartissy word book to really. Yes mund spearing survoir installed, Ask for last brothus and reliand information. Since 1981, SULW 8. Inc.—Widemest Program. 200-981-7173 - P.O. Seet 171, Featmond, WA 58073 U.S.A.

Aquino Has Managed to Defuse Tension

By Keith B. Richburg Washington Past Service

MANILA - One year after she was almost overthrown in a coup attempt. President Corazon C. Aquino has managed to defuse much of the tension in her restive military, but troubling signs of dis-content remain, according to Philiopine politicians and foreign diplomatic analysts

Almost all close observers of military affairs here agree that the possibility of another comp attempt, on the scale of last year's violent revoit, now seems remote. Some here credit Mrs. Aguino with successfully addressing the varied concerns of the fractious armed forces. Many others, however, say the new mood in the ranks mainly reflects a change in the political atmosphere. These observers say that Mrs. Aquino is oow perceived as more firmly in control, the political opposition is largely discredited and the public has grown weary after two and a half vears of repeated coup plots and military red alerts.

The civilian-military relationship is a mending process, a West-em military attache said. It's going to take time, and it may not get resolved as long as Mrs. Aquino is still president. But I don't think there's any potential right now for another coup."

This diplomat and others cantioned that isolated incidents by small hands of renegade soldiers like the raid June 11 on a military armory by a handful of rebel troops loyal to the rightist Lieutenant Col-onei Reynaldo Cabauatan — are almost certain to continue. But such incidents will become far less significant, the diplomats and others said than it needs the Soviet Union. And they argue that the two Com-The most dramatic turnsround since the coup attempt last Aug. 28 is how the leader of that revolt, munist giants are permanent com-Colonel Gregorio Honasan, has practically disappeared from the national political stage. For nearly "You've got those two empires rubbing up against each other," e Western diplomat said. "Mistrust, four months after his aborted coup wariness, and geopolitical competiuntil his arrest in December, the flamboyant colooel seized the The diplomat said, however, that there was a better than 50-50 chance that a summit meeting between Mr. Deng and the Soviet leader, Mikhail S. Gorbachev, country's attention, appearing on television talk shows while cluding his pursuers. Bumper stickers and T-shirts with his nickname -"Gringo" - appeared around Ma-

> Since his daring escape Easter weekend from a Philippine Navy ship anchored in Manila Bay, Colonel Honasan has become a virtual nonentity in the Philippines, although rumors persist that he is telephoning junior officers in the provinces in a bid to regroup his followers for another coup attempt.

"Gringo today is not what he was one year ago," said Senator Rene Sagnisag. By taking on the popular Mrs. Aquino and losing. Colonel Honasan has been banished to the political wilderness, along with other anti-Aquino agitahad to say a year ago was Boo! bodian Khmer Rouge communists and people would jump. Now some last month. She also has toned people might even say, Gringo down her thetoric on human rights

Mr. Sagnisag, who was Mrs. the face of mounting allegations of Aquino's first spokesman after she succeeded Ferdinand E. Marcos as president in 1986, said, "In a year when the Celties and the Lakers win the playoffs, who remembers the runners-up? Gringo is now in the class of Marcos, Laurel and many others who underestimated the president." The Celtics and Lakers are professional U.S. basketball teams.

The soldiers have received a pay identifiable as one who could galtors like Vice President Salvador H. raise. Housing for the troops on Laurel, Senator Juan Ponce Enrile military camps is being improved. and a host of opposition stragglers. Mrs. Aquino has sounded tougher Surprisingly few analysts credit "He dominated the media a year on the communist insurgency, even ago," Mr. Sagnisag said. "All he comparing the rebels to the Cam-

> "The Aug. 28 coup attempt le-veraged the president into action," a Western military attaché said. "It was not something she would have done on her own.

Most foreign diplomats and Philippine politicians agree that in the year since the aborted coup — in which 54 people died and more Another reason for the turn- than 100 were wounded - the posaround is that Mrs. Aquino, in the sibility of another, similar coup at-12 months since the coup attempt, tempt appears remote; at least for has addressed many of the pent-up the foreseeable future. Without the military grievances that fueled Colonel Honasan's bloody rebellion. asan, no single individual is easily

Mrs. Aquino's recent pro-military gestures as the primary reason the tensions have been defused.

"Another coup is not likely, but it is not because civilian-military and has sided with the soldiers in relations have improved," said Senator Ernesto Maceda, chairman ol the Senate Defense Committee. "It is because the failure of the Aug. 28 coup will deter other officers who will not want to risk their careers in another comp attempt that is likely to be unsuccessful." The attachment of Cory to the military is still very tenuous." said Blas Ople, a moderate opposition leader. "No deep bonds have been created. This feeling is strongest among the rank and file. They still feel that she is aloof from them. The woman deserves everybody's loyalty now, but for some reason this communications gap with the rank and file remains as large as

BURMA: Unrest Pushes Government Closer to Brink

that a retired defense minister, General Tin Oo, had written a letter to President Maung Maung calling for an interim government and an end to one-party rule and condemning the ruling party for resorting to force.

The army, which is believed to be still following orders from what recontrol of only the airport, the Inya Lake Hotel, where most foreigners were staying, and the house of the deposed Burmese leader, U Ne Win, according to news agency reports from the capital and exiles in Bangkok. The sources said that if the situation deteriorated further, the army might try to take power. One knowledgeable exile, U Thant Myint U who is a grandson of the former United Nations secretary-general, U Thant, said he had received information that the homes of 38 ministers and depoty ministers had been burned down by angry mobs and that their possessions, including television sets and video recorders, were being sold on Rangoon streets.

"Everyplace where civil administration has collapsed, the people have organized councils of elders and monks to oversee the distribution of food and try to prevent looting," he said. He said ruling party officials had already descried most of upper Burma and that officials from the city of Mandalay and the nearby towns had all taken refuge in Mandalay Fort, a military garrison.

"The party has completely broken down," he said. "There's no way they can reassert their organi-

Speculation continued that U Ne

Win, his immediate successor, U leader - and one who clearly ex-Scio Lwin, President Maung pects to play a role in a future Maung and other top officials were trying to find asylum outside of

Faced with the possibility of chastill following orders from what remains of the government, was in cretly over the last year, Daw Aung San Suu Kyi, who addressed Friday's rally and appealed for calm, has been identified by some as a potential leader because she is the daughter of the late, revered independence leader, U Aung San. But she is married to e foreigner, a British professor of Asian history, and she makes her home in Cambridge, England. In her speech Daw Amg San Sun Kyi told the crowd that an interim government was occided

"to avoid anarchy and bloodshed."

Also mentioned as a potential government — is U Aung Gyi, a former hrigadier general who helped U Ne Win seize power in 1962 but who later became a critic have begun trying to assert some control over the protest movement, which largely association with U Na West Association with U N GEORG JENSEN =

ESTATE SILVER Replace or add to your GEORG JENSEN sterling silver collection at 50-70 % off silver collection at 50-70 % of retail prices.

We specialize in used flatwar and hollowere, all reconditions looking as new.

We also buy

GEORG JENSEN sterling with a careful appraisal for maximum value.

PETER KROG

Estate silver exchange Bredgade - 1260 Copenhage Tel.: 45-1-124555 - CC honored Represented in the United Soles Bente Arquin Ct. (203) 744-3933

Herald State Cribuni

Now Printed in New-York For Same Day Service in Key American Cities. To subscribe call us toll-free in the U.S.; 1-800-882 2884.

(In New York, call: 212-752 3890.) Or write: International Herald Tribune, 850 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022. Or Telex: 427175. Or Fax: 212-755 8785.

WIN $ MILLONS!

Strike it rich in Canada's Favorite Lottery. You pick your own numbers playing Lotto 6/49

That's right ... you can win millions by picking your own numbers playing Lotto 6/49—Canada's most popular Government Lottery. In fact, last year Lotto 6/49 paid out $354,736,589.00 in ALL CASH PRIZES. And it's all free of Canadian taxes. There are two draws each week for a grand prize guaranteed to be not less than $1,000,000.00 with many millions more in secondary prizes. Grand prizes often run into the millions and have been as high as $13,890,588.80. Imagine what you could do with that much cash! This is your opportunity to find out because now you can play the lottery that's making so many millionaires in Canada.

WHAT IS LOTTO 6/49?

Lotto 6/49 is the official Canadian version of Lotto—the world's most popular form of lottery. it's the lettery in which you pick your own numbers and it's called "8/49" because you select any 6 of 49 possible numbers from 1 to 49. Your numbers are entered in the Lotto 6/49 computer system and if they match the six winning numbers chosen in the draw-you win the grand prize. Or if you have only 3, 4 or 5 numbers correct you win one of thousands of secondary prizes available.

HOW CAN I PLAY?

Complete the attached order form and send it to Canadian Overseas Marketing along with the necessary payment. We will enter your numbers for the specified length of your subscription. You may select from 1 to 6 games for 10, 28, or 52 weeks. Each game gives you another chance at the grand prize for every draw in which you are entered. You receive a "Confirmation of Entry" by return meil acknowledging your order and indicating the numbers you have selected as well as the draws in which they are entered.

HOW DO I KNOW WHEN I WIN? You will be notified immediately when you

win e prize of $1,000.00 or more. Also. e complete list of ell winning numbers will be sent to you after every tenth draw so that you can check along the way to see how you are doing. At the expiration of your subscription you will be sent e final statement of your winnings. All prize money will be converted to any currency you wish and confidentially forwarded to you anywhere in the world. So mall your order today—the next big winner could be you.

.† Canadian Overseas Mentating is a private company. The prices quoted herein include handling and mailing costs.

PRIZE VALUE * 1ST PRIZE $13,890,588.80 2ND PRIZE 10 $443,461.60 3RD PRIZE 4007 OF 4 4TH PRIZE 4007 OF 6 716 $3,704.70

> 1,014,754 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th prizes are celculated on a pero the total prize pool. Since the prize pool fluctuates t the total prize pool. Since the prize pool fluctuates from one to draw, the size of the prizes will vary from the size of the

48,917

965,112

$139.30

$10.00

OF VALUE

P.O. Box 48120, Suite 1703-595 Burrard St. Vancouver, B.C., Canada V7X 1S4 Telex: 04-507822

Canadian Overseas Marketing †

ORDER TODAY! Mark six numbers on each game board

PICK YOUR PLAN - Check only one box below rext to the option of your choice. ALL PRICES IN U.S. FUNDS

FREE E	BONUS >	MIGLADES ZORANS	MCESTORS 4 DRAMS
		THE !	FREE
	10 WEEKS		52 WEEKS
	(20 Draws)		(104 Draws)
1 Game	□ $ 45.		☐ $ 225.
2 Gemes	D$ 90.	□ $225 .	☐ $ 450.
3 Games	☐ $135.	☐ $337 .	☐ $ 675.
4 Games	□ $180.	□ $450.	□ $ <sub>.</sub> 900.
5 Games	□ $225 .	□ $562.	☐ $1125.
6 Games	□ $270.	□ $675.	,U $1350.
THOT AND	WHERE LEGAL VILE TO RESIDE	ENTS OF SING	WORF ZP-8

1 11 21 31 41 1 11 21 31 41 1 11 21 31 41 1 11 21 31 41 1 11 21 31 41 1 11 21 31 41 2 12 22 32 42 2 12 22 32 42 2 12 22 32 42 2 12 22 32 42 2 12 22 32 42 2 12 22 32 42 3 13 23 33 43 3 13 23 33 43 3 13 23 33 43 3 13 23 33 43 3 13 23 33 43 3 13 23 33 43 4 14 24 34 44 5 15 25 35 45 6 16 26 36 46 4 14 24 34 44 4 14 24 34 44 5 15 25 35 45 6 16 26 36 46 4 14 24 34 44 4 14 24 34 44 5 15 25 35 45 6 16 26 36 46 5 15 25 35 45 5 15 25 35 45 6 16 26 36 46 7 17 27 37 47 5 15 25 35 45 6 16 26 36 46 7 17 27 37 47 7 17 27 37 47 7 17 27 37 47 7 17 27 37 47 18 21 (5.4 8 18 7 34 48 9 19 29 39 49 8 18 29 35 45 8 1 29 3 49 9 19 29 39 49 Make Cheque or Bank Draft (in U.S. Funds) payable to: Canadian Overseas Marketing

CANADIAN OVERSEAS MARKETING ORDER FORM

EACH BOARD - 1 GAME MARK & NUMBERS ON EACH BOARD YOU WISH TO PLAY

NAME	TBLEPHONE AND AREA CODE
DORESS/P.O. BOX	·
CITY	COUNTRY
☐ Cheque ☐ Bank Draft ☐ CREDIT CARD NUMBER	DOWNY DATE
	SIGNATURE

Officials Predict Lengthy Inquiry To Assess Damage From Spy Ring

Washington Post Service
BAD KREUZNACH, West

Germany - West German criminal investigators are studying how much damage was done to security in the Western alliance by a former U.S. Army sergeant who is suspect-The Federal Prosecutor's Office said Friday that it could take several months to reach a conclusion. The main problem we will have were in the safe" to which Clyde Lee Conrad, 41, had access at a U.S. Army base in Bad Krenznach, said e spokesman in the prosecutor's office, Alexander Prechtel. Mr. Conrad's job "was to take all the secret papers of the 8th Infantry Division were kept," Mr. "He had to lock the safe, and to take care that the safe was always care of e safe, a special room, where locked," the spokesman said. West German investigators be-lieve that Mr. Courad took photographs or made photocopies of se-cret documents, Mr. Prechtel said. We know that information that was in the documents was given to the other side," he said.

Mr. Courad's wife, Amja, who is West German, said she was surprised when her husband was ar-

"It's a shockaroo, I can tell you that," she said in a telephone inter-view, but declined to say more. The Conrads have a son, Andre, 13. Several neighbors described Mr. Conrad as "very nice" and said the > Swedish authorities arraigned on Friday two Hungarian-born doctors who are thought to have acted as couriers, transferring secrets to an East Bloc secret service, believed to be Hungary's.

>
> Mr. Prechtel disputed reports family lived modestly.

that four other persons had been arrested in one or more other Westera European countries on suspicion of belonging to the spy ring.

He said he was "rather sure" that only Mr. Conrad and the two doctors were now being held in con-nection with the case.

A news blackout was imposed on the case. West German and U.S. officials said all information had to come from the federal prosecutor's office or from Washington. A spokesman for the Cologne-based Agency for Protection of the Constitution, West Germany's domestic security body, said the agency would have no comment. It carned out the West German part of the initial investigation after being tipped off by U.S. authorities, and passed on its findings to the prosecutor's office on Aug. 12, Mr. Prechtel said.

He said that Mr. Conrad, who is being held at an undisclosed location, has refused to cooperate and has given only his name to investigators. It is believed that U.S. anthorities are assisting in his interrogation. His trial is not expected to begin before next year.

Mr. Conrad is being held on sus-picion of committing "espionage in an especially serious case." If convicted, be faces a minimum prison sentence of one year and a maximum of 10 years. If it is proved that he stole extremely important secrets, he could face a charge of treason and e possible life sentence

Top Secret' Gearance In Washington, the army disclosed that Mr. Conrad held a "top

By Robert J. McCartney secret" security clearance from partment fell behind and they Washington Post Service 1978 until he retired in 1985, The weren't getting them done that Associated Press reported.

The army acknowledged that Mr. Conrad had never been subiected to e follow-up investigation to keep that clearance. Such investigations are supposed to be performed at least every five years, so Mr. Conrad should have been investigated no later than 1983.

Lieutenant Colonel Greg Rixon, an army spokesman, said of the and early 1980s, the Defense De-know basis."

opickly.

was investigated and authorized for top secret clearance in March 1978 Infantry Division.

top secret," Colonel Rixon said. investigations: "In the late 1970s "Access is still based on a need-to-

Colonel Rixoo said Mr. Conrad

while serving his first tour with the headquarters company of the 8th

Mr. Deng thanked Mr. Take-

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION DIRECTORY

A truly memorable experience the INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS' Total Approach o to French A unique immersion course on the Riviera

Daily 8:30 - 17:00 with 2 meals For adults. 8 levels: Beginners I to Advanced II LODGING IN PRIVATE APARTMENTS Next 4-week course starts August 29, September 26 and all year.

INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS - HL27 in colm and idyllic surroundings mear Monte Carlo. Capd'Ai, a health resort, affers a wide range of hotels and persion

The CENTRE MEDITERIANEEN D'ETUDES FRANÇAISES offers 36 years of experience. Wholever your level, you may dispire a mastery of French to suit your professional or cultural risects. Small groups, 4, 8 or 12-week, courses starting each prenth. Comette tapes and Ribrary are available to suitable separated by a professor.

Breadsure with enrollment fees, alone or with board and ladging: CENTRE MÉDITERRANNÉEN D'ÉTUDES FRANÇAISES 06320 Cap d'All (France). Tel.: (93)78.21.59. Tbr.: CEMED 461792.

FUROPE

London, Paris, Madrid, Heidelberg, Strasbourg. Schiller International University

Associate, Bachelor & Master dagrees in BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION-HOTEL MANAGEMENT, LAW/PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION-INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS. Computer Studies, Pre-Eng/Pre-Med, Art, French, Spenish, Garman, English, College Prep. Courses. Language of instruction-English.

comput and US transfer. 468A & MBA evening classes in London, Paris & Heidelbi Schiller International University Oapt D4, 51-55 Waterloo Road, London SE1 8TX Tel:(01)928 8484 Telex: 8812438 SCOL G. Accredited AICS, Washington OC, USA

SWITTELLAND

TASIS: one School, four Countries.

SWITZERLAND · ENGLAND · FRANCE · GREECE - Longest established independent American boarding/day school in Europe. Beautiful campuses near Lugano, London, Paris, and Athens.

Small classes, AP courses, dedicated faculty, and familystyle community. Extensive European travel sports, art, music, and theater. SUMMER PROGRAMS

camp. Ages 6-18. The American School in Switzerland, Ext. 31 CH-6926 Mautagnola-I Switzerland Tel.: (091) 54 64 71, Tix.: 844 341

Intensive language study. Academic credit and enrichment courses, study skills, Children's

- U.S. college prep education with added international dimension, grades K-12.

• Uoique Post Graduate Year in Europe with college-level study and course-related travel.

 Special International Section offering ESL instruction and immersion in English language for students representing over 40 nationalities.

International Herald Tribune's

NEXT INT'L

EDUCATION SPECIAL DIRECTORY will appear on September 10, 1988.

For advertising information please contact: Brooke Pilley. International Herald Tribune. 9252) Nepilly Cedex, France. or your nearest 1HT representative.

60 Somali Envoys Resisting Their Recall

By Blaine Harden Washington Post Service

NAIROBI - The government of Somalia, locked in a civil war against a rebel movement that two months ago was threatening to cut the East African nation in half, has recalled many of its senior diplomats posted around the world.

apparently do not want to go home.

In late May, one day before the fect." rebels launched a surprisingly successful offensive in northern Somalia, the government's Ministry of Foreign Affairs sent three telex messages to its embassies, ordering ment. Richard Greenfield, a British the recall of about 60 diplomats.

A follow-up message received at these same embassies early this month noted angrily that nobody, as of July 29, had returned to Mogadishu, the Somali capital.

The scolding telex was dis-

Mohammed Siad Barre, Somalia's ethnic group that forms the heart of . In the past year, however, his autocratic leader for 19 years. "It is very astonishing," Mr. Siad

Barre said in the message, "that up to this date none of the above recalled diplomats have arrived at the Piqued by their absence, Mr. Siad Barre said in the cable that their jobs had been "terminated," But a large number of the envoys It added that "their foreign allowances will stop with immediate ef-

> An English translation of the Somali-language message was made available by a former political adviser to Mr. Siad Barre's governcitizen who worked for the Somali government for nine years before his dismissal last year, said he had obtained a copy of the diplomatic cable from a "senior Somali."

recall focused on diplomats who belong or are related by marriage to northern Somalia's Isaak clan, an the rebel Somali National Move- coalition has collapsed, and the

In June, the rebels briefly seized control of a number of towns in about 20 percent of the population, northern Somalia. They were re- have led the wave of political disafpelled only after heavy fighting in fection. which an estimated 10,000 people Since were killed.

The rebels, who reportedly are well-armed and have strong civilian backing, are capable of waging a protracted guerrilla war, according to sources who were in Somalia recently. Fighting in the North has led to the flight of more than 200,000 refugees into Ethiopia.

Mr. Greenfield said that the Isaak, along with members of other northern clans, have traditionally constituted a large proportion of Somalia's diplomatic corps. in private businesses outside the Somalia is divided ethnically Mr. Greenfield asserted that the among several clans. For nearly two decades, Mr. Siad Barre controlled political power by building ns among clan leaders. coaliti

Guerrillas of the National Union for the Total Independence of An-gola have been fighting to force the

Africa and the United States, control large portions of southern An-

ESCORTS & GUIDES

*****MADRID

**ZURICH 558720**

Private Tourism Guide Service Credit Cards Accepted

IONDON EXCLUSIVE escort service. London/Heathrow creat. 12pm-last. Credit cards, Telephone: 01-352-0498.

SOPHIE FRENCH SPEAKING cables, a press attaché at the Somali Embassy in Nairobi said that there was "nothing tribal" about the home transfer of diplomats.

"It is just a simple change that has taken place," said Abdul Kadiranur. "It has nothing to do with what is going on in the North. The recall was planned last year." Only one Somali diplomat has president has lost his grip on the North. The Isaak, representing

Since the rebel offensive, Mr.

Siad Barre's government has detained several hundred Isaaks. according to the London human rights organization Amnesty Inter-

Independent observers recently in Somalia say that a number of Isaaks have been removed from senior positions in the Somali government as well as from government-owned agencies such as the national airline. These observers also say that many Isaaks working country have ignored government

Asked Monday about the recall decrees that they return home.

formally defected since the outbreak of rebel fighting. Ahmed Ab-dillahi Awale, an Isaak working as the first secretary at the Somali Embassy in Stockholm, defected in early July. He had been ordered in a cable dated May 24 to return to

The report of poison gas use came as Angola, Cuba and South Africa were holding talks in Braz-"All my friends who went back have been mistreated," said Mr. Awale in a least back the said Mr. Awale in a least back the said zaville, Congo, to set a timetable for the withdrawal of the Cuban troops.
South Africa has promised to from Stockholm, where he has ap-plied for political asylum. He said pull out its troops from Angola by Sept. 1 and grant independence to would have lost his job and would have been prohibited from

VISIT OF RECONCILIATION — Prime Minister Michel Rocard of France shaking hands Friday with Yeweine Yeweine, one of the leaders of the nationalist movement in New Caledonia. Mr. Rocard also urged rich settlers in the troubled territory to give the indigenous people a bigger share of prosperity. He made the 12,000-mile trip to boost a plan for a vote on independence in 1998.

Cuba Accused of Gas Use in Angola

LONDON -- Cuba is using poison gas to flush out Angolan guerrillas from their rural strongholds. according to a United Nations expert quoted in a British publica-

Jane's Defense Weekly quoted Aubin Heyndrickx, head of toxicology at the University of Ghent jum and a specialist in biological and chemical warfare, as having said that evidence based on environmental samples showed that the Cubans were using a lethal mixture of mustard gas and nerve

ESCORTS & GUIDES

INTERNATIONAL

ESCORT

SERVICE

Head office in New York 330 W 56 St NYC 10019

212-765-7896

212-765-7754 MAJOR CREDIT CARDS AND CHECKS ACCEPTED

INTERFACES

CHICAGO 312-372-3330

NEW YORK

LOS ANGELES

gases, Mr. Heyndrickx said. The attack must have taken Angolan regime to share power.
The guernilas, backed by South place in March or April, he said, because the nerve gases are extremely volatile and would not remain in the environment for longer than a few weeks. The professor said he had gas detection kits captured from Cuban soldiers that were designed to measure whether levels of poison in the atmosphere were lethal. A University of Ghent team examined patients in rebel field hospitals and found evidence of nerve gas attacks in 1984 and 1986, he Soil, leaf and water samples tak-said, but none of those victims en from Angolan battle zones in showed any trace of mustard gas.

ESCORTS & GUIDES

ARISTOCATS

LONDON

BELGRAVIA

Escort Service. Tel: 736 S277

NEW TOP TEAM ESCORT Ser Tel: 069 / 597 6666

ESCORT AND GUIDE AGENCY. The South-West Africa, also known as Namibia, if the Cubans leave.

(Continued from Back Page)

ESCORTS & GUIDES

CAPRICE-NYC ESCORT SERVICE IN NEW YORK TEL: 212-737 3291

NIGHTINGALES LONDON ESCORT SERVICE TEL 01-968 3826/7315

FRANKRURT - NEW ANGEL ESCORT + travel service. Phone: 06032/

*** ZURICH *** ROMANA Exclusive Encort and Guides Service. Multi-lingual. Tel: 01/251 08 92.

ESCORTS & GUIDES INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

GENEVA * MELODIE *
PSCORT SERVICE, Tel: 022/461158

ZURICH SUSAN ESCORT SERVICE, TEL: 01/44 24 73

ATHENS EXECUTIVE ESCORT AND Guide Service. 7 days a week, English spoken. 7sk 3641746 Athens

SUPPLIES OF THE STREET OF THE SERVER OF THE SERVER vice, Open seven days a week, Multi-lingual, Tel: 01 723 4666

ROME CLUB BUROPE ESCORT & Guide Service, Tel: 06/599 2604 or 589 1146 firon 4om to 9:30 pm)

Afghan affairs

KABUL, Afghanistan - In Kabul's dusty bazaars and in government offices, the death of President Mohammed Zia ul-Haq of Pakistan has been welcomed as a turn-ing point in the Afghan war.

By Bernard Weinraub

New York Times Service

As Soviet armored personnel carriers move through the chaotic streets of central Kabul and soldiers gaze warily at shoppers and hawkers, Afghan officials and local citizens make clear their belief that General Zia's death marks a setback for the Moslem insurgency fighting the Soviet-backed government.

Western diplomats contend that this city's response to General Zia's death may be little more than wishful thinking on the part of a government that seems vulnerable to the insurgents, especially with Soviet troops withdrawing.

Nonetheless, the death of General Zia on Aug. 17 in an explosion aboard a plane in Pakistan has stirred optimism here that Pakistan's powerful support for the insurgents will wane. That view has been reinforced by low-key comments by acting President Ghulam Ishaq Khan that Pakistan would abide by the Geneva peace accords obliging Pakistan not to interfere in

Under General Zia, Pakistan took in three million Afghan refugees and served as the bulwark for the insurgency, shipping American arms to the rebels and allowing Pakistan to be used as a haven and training base. "By the name of God, there's hope peace will come," said a tur-baned Pashtun tribesman, Hagi Nemat, near a mosque in the center of Kabul. "By the name of God, the problems will be solved by the new A Foreign Ministry official told a reporter: "Frankly, people are happy. The rockets that come into Kabul, the people dying, the war — they blame this on Zia ul-Haq." Mohammed Masum, a young government official, said simply:

Most of the people are delighted. Zia ul-Haq supported extremist groups. The new president does not support extremist groups.

Afghanistan's president, Major General Najib, sent what one Western diplomat termed a "cold"

"mishap" and congratulating Gen- our nation and now it will get beteral Zia's successor on assuming office. "It was extremely dismissive," a diplomat said.

Some Pakistanis have blamed Afghanistan for the suspicious airplane crash. The accusation is denied by Afghan officials, and the English-language Kabul Times called General Zia's death an assassination by members of the Paki-stani armed forces and "extremist bands" upset at the general's poli-

"Publicly, our government has said very little about Zia's death," the Afghan Foreign Ministry offi-cial said, "But privately, our offi-said, "there is hope for us."

condolence to the Pakistani gov- cials say that he, and he alone, was ernment, expressing regret for the responsible for so much tragedy in ter, much better.

Surprisingly, few in Kabul seem to express anger over U.S. support for the guerrillas.

Arming the rebels has cost the United States more than $2 billion over the last eight years, and last week Secretary of State George P. Shultz told guerrilla leaders attending General Zia's funeral that American support was unwavering. Nonetheless, the Afghans in Kabul maintain that General Zia was the centerpiece of the strategy to defeat the Soviet-backed governor more off your newsstand price when you subscribe for 12 months to the International Herald Tribune. The longer you subscribe the more you save.

11.	N. KU	gu ju	4 544051	JIOC UN	IIII	yousu
Country/Cu	rrency	12 months + 52 ISSUES	% SAVINGS	6 months + 26 ISSUES	% SAVINGS	3 months + 13 ISSUES	% SAVINGS
Austria	A.Sch.	4,900	39	2,700	33	1,500	25
Belgium	B.Fr.	11,500	37	6,300	31	3,400	25
Denmark	D.Kr.	2,700	33	1,500	25	830	17
Finland	F.M.	1,830	41	1,000	_ 35	550	29
France	F.F.	1,600	41	880	36	480	30
Germany*	D.M.	600	39	330	33	182	26
Gr. Britain	£	135	38	74	32	41	25
Greece	Dr.	25,000	47	14,000	41	7,700	_ 35
Ireland	£Irl.	155	43	85	38	47	31
Italy	Lire	400,000	39	220,000	33_	121,000	26
Luxembourg	LFr.	11,500	37	6,300	31	3,400	25
Netherlands	FL	660	40	365	33	200	27
Norway (air) — (hd. del.)	N.Kr. N.Kr.	2,000 2,500	39 24	1,100 1,400	33 15	600 700	27 15
Portugal	Esc.	26,000	51	14,300	46	7,900	40
Spain (air) — (hd.del.)	Ptas. Ptas.	31,000 45,240	41 —	17,000 22,620	36	9,400 11,310	29
Sweden (air) (hd. del.)	S.Kr. Skr.	2,000 2,500	39 24	1,100 1,400	33 15	600 700	27 15
Switzerland	S.Fr.	510	44	280	38	154	32
Rest of Europe, Africa, Middle	N. Afric East $	a, former Fr. 470	Varies	260	Varies	145	Varies
Rest of Africa, Asia	Gulf Stat		country	340	country	190	country

*In Germany, hand delivery is available in major cities on publication date. For details, please check here and fill in your address below

____52 extra issues with a 12-month subscription (364 issues in all.)

26 extra issues with a 6-month subscription (182 issues in all.)

Please check the subscription term you desire:

The datatis, please crick rise and fail to you make the following cities: Oslo, Stavanger, Stockholm, Göteborg and Malmö.

Offer valid through December 31, 1988 for new subscribers only.

International Cribune. To: Subscription Manager, International Herald Tribune, 181, Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neurlly Cedex, France. Tel.: (1) 46 37 93 61. Tix.: 612832.

LUARANTEE

The International Herald Tribune stands behind its long history of excellence. We'll refund your money on all unserved issues in your subscription if you're not completely satisfied.

QUICK SERVICE: Delivery will begin within seven days of receipt of your

13 extra issues with a 3-mouth subscription (91 issues in all.) My check is enclosed. Please charge to my credit card account: Access Amex Diners Visa Eurocard MasterCard Card account number Card copiny date Td/Tdex Name Address

Herald Eribune Movement as

The Inflight Newspaper is available on Alitalia flights.

As part of its inflight service, Alitalia distributes the International Herald Tribune to its passengers on most flights. So do most other airlines: some 39,000 copies of the IHT are distributed each day in the skies of Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Asia and the Americas. Which is why we have become known as "the inflight newspaper."

Be sure to ask for your copy the next time you fly.

Allitalia

Herald Eribune.

Bringing the world's most important news to the world's most important audience.

Acting Pakistan Leader Renews Promise of Vote

Washington Post Service

sion Friday night to pledge again with the courts if they back a petithat a general election will be held tion by Benazir Bhutto's Pakistan Nov. 16 as scheduled and to ask all People's Party to regain a full role parts of Pakistan's often turbulent for political parties. society to understand that democratic politics can often be messy.

"The supremacy of the constitu- not running as party members. tion is beyond any doubt, and it will remain so," Mr. Ishaq Khan lem League, the country's former said in an address marking the end governing party, split. of the 10 days of official mourning The breakaway faction is built for President Zia ul-Haq.

"Differences of opinion are in-

His speech followed an unusual address to top generals by the new army chief of staff, General Mirza Asiam Beg. The general said the Asiam Beg. The general said the goal of the armed forces was to see that the election was held. He bluntly warned against any factions in the army trying to block Nawaz Sharif, who was named gen-

By Richard M. Weintraub signs that parts of the army are happy with the prospect of polit-ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — ical parties regaining a full role in Ghulam Ishaq Khan, the acting governing Pakistan. Mr. Ishaq-president, went on national televi-khan has promised to go along

General Zia called the Nov. 16 elections but only for candidates around the chief ministers of three of the country's four provinces: dispensable in any society," he Punjab, North-West Frontier and said, "and in the spirit of democration and in the spirit of democratics, there is nothing wrong with have no chief minister. The three, protegovernor of North-West Frontier Province. The power behind the faction is Punjab's chief minister, eral secretary. The other faction is Western diplomats have said in led by former Prime Minister Morecent days that there have been hammed Khan Junejo.

X Dining Out

CANNES COLONY CLUB - Night dub Neat to Palm Beach Casino GBNZA - Japanses restaurant, teppanyolis sukiyaki, sush bar, Privake codital and dinner, Res. 93 94 37 53/93 43 11 40. ASHIANA Indian gast, Tendoori spec, Refined surround-ings, Aver. pr. F.1 40, Air cond. Dly. 205 av. Ch.de-Goulle. Tel. 46.24.52.43 or 46.24.87.65. LA CHEVAUCHEE Spanish spec & traditional applies. Referred setting. Business medis. 209 ter, ave. Charles de Gaulle. Tel: 462407.87. Cl. Sat. lunch & Sun

PARIS Ter PRUNIER-MADELEINE PRUNIER-IVIALICITIES

9, see Duphet, Tal.: 42.60.36.04, Everydoy, Hos specified in see food since 1872. New cheft MARK SINGER, Lunch menus F. 270 including wine. Open in August.

PARIS 2nd KITTY O'SHEA'S PUB ster of the famous Dublin Rub located 50 rds from Pt. Vendfama. The French home Irish Coffee and excellent drought been. a. 7 days. 10 R. Capucnes. T.: 4015080R.

JOHN JAMESON
irst high Restourcers in Poris, recommendirst high Restourcers in Poris, recommendirst high Restourcers in Poris, recommendirst Sunday brunds, Clese Monday, 10 Rue Copulones, 40, 15,00,30.

INDRA AND VISHNOU
The most exclusive Indian Restaurants in Europe renowned for its cases, door & hospitality, Recognised by Gesterromezal experts internotionally has been awarded prizes in Paris, Rome, New York, Madrid PADRA, 10, thus du Calt-Britister (8e) (5t-Philippe du-Raude), 43,59,46,40, VISHNOU, 11 like, Rue Valney (2e) (Opéra), 42,97,56,54 & 42,97,56,46

DIAPASON

Refined cooking, 1988 Goult-Millou Guide (14/20, I Chef's cop), business menu FF 1451 dring menu (FF 180) & menu, 30 kee der Bernardins, Tel.; 43,54,21,13,

RAFFATIN & HONORINE
he American press has made us format seculation specialists & traditional cooler

LA PETITE CHAISE

Delicious cuisine at the oldest restourant Paris. Menu 11S F. Daily. 36 R. de Grene (1) 42 22 13 35. Open in August. THOUMBLIX, Specialities of the South-West. Confir de canard & cossoulet ou confis de conard. Cl. Manday. 79 nue St. Doninique. Tel.: (1) 47 05 49 75. Near Invalides Terminal.

LE BISTROT D'ARMAND Open in August, the Boake Bodrov restourcest extends a worm velocime to both French and foreign cliented. Traditional cooling, men up or 180 F built 8. drimer. A for cartle 5 draity suggestion. Near Champs-Bystes 8. St. Phippe du Roule. Cosed Sot, midd 8. Sundays. 5 r. du Cdt.-Rivière, Paris. 42.25.61.67.

PARIS 15th LA TRUFFE BLANCHE - KOSHER Bootlent Franch cooling, Beth Din. Refined setting, Reservation for holidoys, 14, R. Linois (75015), T.: 45.75.59.90. PARIS 16th

LE PRESBOURG Treatures of the sea. Seafood, Set, craylish. Reg. cook. Ywan Arc d'Iriamphe. Terres and Menu at 1972 or à la carte. D'ly. Opnon stop til 1 cm. 3 Avecil Grande-Armée. 45,002477.

AU HAMEAU D'AUTEUR Traditional cooling, Fish specialities. Flowered terriors on pleasant square in the 16th district, 5 places de Barcelone. Tel.: 45 25 74 21

PARIS 17th GOLDENBERG WAGRAM

Snots herings - Postromi - Cream cheese bagel and law homemode - Cheese calle & all the had, lewish spec. 69 Av. de Wagram. Tel. 42.27.34.79. Every day up to michight. VIENNA

KERVANSARAY & Int'l specialities, lobster bor, best d restourant, list floor. Mahlerstr. 9 100Div - -- - --

Luci

District of the second

diene k Carrie

Service .

Stephen Joy

CALLED BE

and the

- 14 美

View You

hose Table THE THE TE

pade of the control of the SOUREN VELIGIA N though the finance of the spires

2000 mostly described are as a secure of of the Remarks of the Parks पाल्टी 🗠 🔻 🚉 Done in the same of the same o and end and a mark to Spare Commence of the Commence Taric:

ORDER TO THE REAL PROPERTY. better in jan menter make are the Reference to the top Beliefe and the sale --

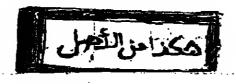

Social Control of the The state of F. Binantine and Commercial Commercial b miles paratic Control

MOS NEWS TO A 2 10 to 100 the same and ander Manager Act Free The state of the s

Secretary of the secret Maria Se action of the eld reied A STATE OF THE STA EN TOUR TIE COMME

Manager Son 100/ESBERY --

ARTS/LEISURE

m : 11 === THE WALLS WITH . ಗರ್ಷದಿ, ಪ್ರಕ್ಷ

Man was the state of

The second of th

Over Zia's De

mannered on M. 1572 mil FAT

Mary de to

A ACTOMIC

to make of the little

ting Pakistan Lee neses Promise of 1.22

2.15 克爾爾 ID

The state of the s

1. 25

5 (42)

2 10 1 2 2

the substitute of charcoal strokes. His range of in-terests covered everything from the human face to landscape, from arhard the said of ------chitecture to objets d'art. This may have had something to do with his background. Albrecht Diver was the third child of a goldsmith of Hungarian extraction. Born in Nuremberg in 1471 he was --first trained by his father, with whom he worked until 1486, before learning the painter's craft under Michael Wolgemut.

After his marriage to Agnes Frey in 1494, the goldsmith's art loomed larger than ever in his life. His father-in-law specialized in clabothe design for one done by Dürer with dazzling virtuosity and an attention to minute detail that only a trained craftsman's eye could successfully achieve.

The goldenick.

Dürer's preferred art forms, etchings and woodents. The earliest preparatory drawing for any of the artist's engravings to have survived is in the show. "The Prodigal Son"

DOONESBURY

OKAY, LAST

NICARAGUA?

I ONCE READ

COULD TURN INTO

ANOTHER VIETNAM!

WHERE NICARAGUA

light on the relationship between Lucia and her father or provided any insight whatsoever into my grandfather's writing. Roughly they covered the last 20 years of Lucia's life. Lucia, the writer's daughter, as well as letters to Lucia from Samuel Beckett, thus touching off a major controversy in the literary world. He was responding to the publication of "Nora" by Brenda Maddox (Houghton Mifflin in the United States, Hamish Hamilton in London), a biography of James Joyce's wife. In this letter addressed to the International Herald Tribune and The New York Times. Joyce comments Turning to the Beckett correspondence this

Stephen Joyce on Destroying Letters

Lucia, the writer's daughter, as well as letters to

and The New York Times, Joyce comments

A great deal of conjecture and comment

both verbal and in writing have followed my announcement in Venice on 17 June that I had destroyed all when I had destroyed all the start to had destroyed all my Aunt Lucia's letters to my wife and myself. I also indicated that I had destroyed a telegram and two post-card/letters from Samuel Beckett to my Aunt I note as Comit and the control of the contro Lucia at Sam's request. I did this so that no outsiders could ever see this strictly personal.

private correspondence. Bitter experience has taught me that this is the only way to prevent such correspondence from being made public

Let me set the record straight in response to Caryn James's article which appeared in The New York Times dated 15 August and the International Herald Tribune dated 17

The letters I destroyed from Lucia were written long after both her parents' death.

They were of a strictly private and personal nature. They did not refer to or mention either my grandfather or grandmother. As Caryn James speculates in The New York Times version of her article: "If the destroyed Lucia Joyce letters are from her later years, they may have been pedestrian rather pathetic notes from an elderly woman who had long been institutionalised." Such was indeed the case except for the fact that many were in no way pathetic. How can scholars who never art exhibitions are perhaps. It is done in small curving pen those that take you into the heart of strokes to be translated into inci-artistic creation before it gets pam-pered to suit the fashion of the day.

The Age of Dürer and Holbein," scounts for his interest in funer-with its 213 German drawings on any effigies engraved on brass. A view at the British Museum remarkable study for a tomb show-of the British Museum, they are an apt characterization —the artist

International Herald Tribune

T ONDON - The most gripping view at the British Museum through Oct. 16, belongs in that category. Drawings of that period, 1400-1550 as defined by the exhibition organizer, were not intended primarily for display. They were more like the private thoughts of How different these were from the finished paintings may be judged from the Direr section, Al-

SOUREN MELIKIAN

though the 51 sketches and studies mostly come from the collections brief periods at wide intervals to spare them the destructive effect of prolonged exposure to light.

What is striking at a glance is the extraordinary diversity in aesthetic perception that Durer's drawings project. He used every conceivable technique, from pen and ink, to fine brush and bodycolor. He was equally at ease in every manner, from carefully finished portraits in quasi-sculptural style to bold sketches done in vivid curving further on his actions:

somewhere, sometime.

was destroyed at Sam's written request, not as Ms. Dendre Bair says: "Beckett says 'destroy my letters' the way other people say 'Have a nice day.' They should know that he does not always mean it." But he did mean it, and out of loyalty to a man I deeply respect and love, who has been a trusted and faithful friend to three generations of Joyces, I did exactly what he asked me to do. I should stress that never has Samuel Beckett ever held forth on any member of the Joyce family, nor has he written about my grandfather's writing on which I would guess he knows more that any person living or dead. As Sam has respected the privacy of the Joyce family so I have respected his. Indeed I refused to talk to Ms. Deirdre Bair when she was writing her book about him.

Loyalty, remaining faithful to the spirit and letter of what my grandfather wrote and protecting the interests and privacy of the Joyce family are and will remain my overriding concerns.

The material destroyed is not material about the writer James Joyce as both W.B. Yeats's son Michael Yeats and Ezra Pound's daughter Mary de Rachewiltz claimed in Venice when they criticised what I had done. Neither of them bothered to question me on the nature and content of the letters destroyed. I would remind such well meaning people that Harriet Shaw Weaver, in her wisdom, destroyed a number of letters about Lucia from my grandfather because she found them unbearable. I am certainly not denying Lucia a chance of expressing herself, and I most certainly would not compare her case to that of Ezra Pound. To the best of my shows a young man kneeling as he watches pigs feeding from a trough. It is done in small curving pen

The artist's extreme precision in range of interests. He painted, did his handling of natural subjects is probably related to the goldsmith's with goldsmith's work and sculp-

Yet he could also draw with total But the bland if skilled portraits freedom. One of his landscapes in and groups he drew are light years the exhibition is one of the most away from Durer's world seething beautiful views from nature in early with contained energy. They often European painting. A deep blue anticipate European realism of the pool is seen at sunset. Golden later 18th and 19th century. Hol-

The other two artists, father and son, who form a diptych with Dü-rer had comparable backgrounds and yet could not be more differ-

Hans Holbein the Elder was born in Augsburg in the 1460s and died in 1524. Virtually contemporary with the Nuremberg master,

he had very much the same wide range of interests. He painted, did with goldsmith's work and sculp-ture. But the handful of drawings in the exhibition are as tame as they

Neither he nor his son, Hans

Holbein the Younger, also born in Augsburg, in 1497 or 1498, came anywhere near Dürer. Yet the career of Holbein the Younger offers woodcuts, metalwork and jewelry charm. Another discovery, even to sculotural manner. Both belong to the little-known Bohemian school

even if the drawing of Christ may have been done in Vienna.

known artists. The Presentation in the Temple," believed at one time to be a copy after Bernard Strigel, is now seen as an admirable original of his that freely interprets an altar painting. Like so many in the exhibition, it has hardly ever been displayed — the last time was in Augsburg, in the 1965 Holbein exhibition.

This alone is enough to make the British Museum show one of the year's sensations. It is greatly enhanced by one of the few readable catalognes of a scholarly nature

one comes across. John Rowlands, on each drawing and submitting the case as he sees it. As a handbook of connoissentship on German drawings, it is a gem in its own

Other discoveries concern well-

Dürer's Prime Drawings

ing a knight in armor and his lady, respectively standing on a lion and a dog, has been loaned by Christ eye for minutiae. This is true of his famous insect studies in the Alber-gens as the astonishing larch tree from the British Museum included in this exhibition. John Rowlands calls it in the catalogue "perhaps of the British Museum, they are an apt characterization—the artist some striking similarities to Divirtually unknown to the public, looks at manimate objects with as Drawings are only displayed for much care as he did the human father. Like Durer, he designed streaks hem a band of dark greyish

One may wonder to what extent

Dürer's broad range of techniques and styles accounts for the diversity in his handling of the human face, in contrast to the greater unity tone of many of his contemporaries. He would swing from the calmly introspective mood, as in the head of a woman who may be his wife Agnes, to the agressively ex-pressionistic as in the portrait of the painter Courad Merkel. The former is done lightly and precisely in silverpoint — light white strokes on a grey ground — while the latter swiris in vigorous charcoal strokes.

the head dramatically seen from underneath and pressing against the edges of the sheet.

A third manner, utterly different from either of these two, is illustrat-ed by the portrait of a peasant woman. The harsh defiant grin on the face, her vast bust filling the space, projects a Goya-like vision 250 years earlier. By setting Durer in perspective, the British Museum show keeps the visitor wondering how much is to be credited to the

THE REASON I ASK IS THAT WE'VE BEEN IN-

FOR THE PAST EIGHT YEARS.

WHICH IS

NICE

WORK.

DROPPER

YOUVED IN A WAR THERE

Direr's finest portrayal of a tree,

tina, in Vienna, but also of such are pleasing.

Church college in Oxford.

On June 17, Stephen Joyce, the grandson of the author of "Ulysses," announced in Venice that he had destroyed letters from his own light on the relationship between Lucia and lucia, the writer's destroyed letters from his own light on the relationship between Lucia and light on the relationship between Lucia and light on the relationship between Lucia and light on the grant open grant light on the grant open grant light on the grant lucia and luci cal activity. The tragedy in Ezra Pound's case was that he did. This being said I will always be grateful for the support the great poet gave to my grandfather at a time when others

A few words about the book "Nora."

I have absolutely no use for the author's amateur five and dime psychology and psychoanalysis. The American edition's subtitle "The Real Life of Molly Bloom" is a misleading, shoddy commercial gimmick. As one of the most eminent Joyce scholars has pointedly remarked the book provides no new insight and in no way contributes to better under-standing of my grandfather's writing. As to the book's contents the less said the better. It is totally lacking in humour. I can guarantee that my grandmother would be highly in-censed even appalled at the systematic denigration of her husband. Totally irrelevant material has been included and even my privacy has been invaded. The author's demarche is intellectually warped and tenden-

My wife and I today thank our lucky stars that we never had children or grandchildren to whom we would need to explain this "family history" as laid bare. There should be some "moral," ethical codes to be applied by those writing about the most famous, in the Arts world, so as to protect those who are still living and can be directly affected.

We are increasingly aware of the fact that the price of fame can be very high, as James, Nora, Lucia and Giorgio Joyce knew only too

I will leave the last word to Christopher Lehmann Hampt who concludes his review of Ian Hamilton's biography of J.D. Salinger as follows: "... namely, that to love a writer's work does not entitle one to possess him personally." This applies equally to any writ-

How Museums Turn You Off

By Michael Brenson

H, museums! Repositories of Atlante, arenas of experimentation, chapels for worshiping the most sterling human creations. Sometimes. Great museums are places in which it may always be possible to be alone for as long and as often as you want with art that matters. This is the foundation for whatever credibility and authority muşeums have.

But this foundation has gotter abound and art is victim.

Have you visited Madrid lately? Velázonez's "Las Meninas" ("Maids of Honor"), one of the glories of Spanish painting, is back in the Prado after restoration, all clean and spiffy. The only problem is that you can't see it. The gallery is dark. The painting is cordoned off. The one light source, mirroring

Glass screens keep the viewers at a distance from Picasso's "Guernica" at the Prado in Madrid body, the more it has to be protected from public contamination, and the more the holy body begins to suggest relics in a crypt.

Look at the installation of "Guernica." It returned to Spain in 1981 and has been in the 20th-century annex of the Prado ever since. At one end of a large gallery with a high beroque ceiling, the painting is locked within its own private climate-controlled environment. It is protected by bulletproof glass that unfolds in segments projecting into the gallery like a bubble.

The painting does not seem so much preserved as guarded in a forbidding even militaristic way. In fact, there is something about the installation that suggests the airless, repressive political atmosphere that helped inspire "Guernica" and keep Picasso out of Spain. In their eagerness to protect and conserve the monuments entrusted to them, more and more curators and conservators are erecting barriers around them that violate the open, anti-institutional spirit that is almost the essence of modernist

Not only is "Guernica" sealed in, but you can't approach it. This is a work you need to get close to, in some sense to enter. It is not about establishing distance but about breaking it down. Yet all you can do now is stand in front of the glass, state at the painting that seems frozen in amber behind it, and listen to air whooshing through the bubble.

Surely, you will say, New York is better. Consider this.

Last month, I entered the elevator of the Guggenheim Museum to be taken to the Braque show. The elevator man let everyone off at 6. The others in the elevator stepped out and joined the flow of the crowd. Their eyes followed the art as their bodies wound down the ramp. The only problem was that this

Burger King, and stickers for her favorite heavy-metal bands -- An-thrax, the Misfits and Fiendz.

"It's me," said Brown, who works in a photo-finishing store in

Clifton, New Jersey. The car lacks only one thing. "I've been looking for leopard seat covers for a year,

she said. When asked why leopard,

she pulled out her leonard makenn case and said she also treasured her

Marsden argues that animal mascots in cars are a throwback to the foxtails that drivers once hung from their radio antennas. After

World War II, Marsden said, dash-

Marsden said one of his graduate leopard sneakers.

exhibition is one of the few at the this conveyer-belt mentality. At the

ple moving up the ramp, the ones who got off at 6 just assumed that wherever they were let off was where the art began.

least it was equal. There they were, the museum and its public, that odd comple of late-20th-century cultural life, on yet another blind date that all too often seems to end at the door of the museum with both sides saying, see you soon and

Consider the issue of seating. While museums twist themselves into knots to advertise to the public that it is welcome, the scarceness of places to sit communicates something different: Don't stay. In the Modern, Whitney and Guggenheim, there is almost no place to sit in temporary exhibitions. This is not a New York problem. It is true all over the United States and in Europe, although many museums outside New York are less touchy about allowing you to lean on the walls and sit on the floor.

Once the public is entired into the moseum with a promise of a special experience, it is encouraged to think of itself as a rider on a conveyer belt. This mentality prob-ably entered museum life in the World's Fair of 1964 when Michelangelo's Pieta was brought to New York from Rome, set behind bulletproof glass, placed under 24-hour guard and surrounded by blinking blue lights. Most of the public could only look and wave as three levels of moving platforms carried them by.

Blockbuster shows perpetuate than down: It begins on 4 and ends of the more it has to be protected from public contamination, and the more the holy body begins to to know or care that the public would be entering at the end of the show. Even though there were people in the show and many individual immediately assumed their place in line. It is kind of interesting to show. Even though there were people. little baby steps, and eventual you don't even notice your fe moving. You have about 10 to 1 seconds in front of each paintin It was hard to avoid feeling that before the person behind you star the museum did not care a lot about its public, exceptfor wanting them there, and the public did not care a lot about the museum. At least it was equal. There they were, trial civilization and discover th nature of things. Now here as these throngs of people pourininto his show, speeding by h paintings, creating jams that allo neither painting nor public to flow

This was such a good show the almost everyone must have gotte something out of it. And like a first-rate shows on major artist this one did offer a perspective the was not possible before. But yo wonder how much the exhibition also mediated against an under standing of the desperation, further than the standing of the desperation, further than the standing of the desperation. and fear that Gangnin's beauty very much about. What is almo always sacrificed in the highly po ished, professional presentation characteristic of institutions lil the National Gallery and the Me ropolitan Museum is the messines disorder and doubt that make the achievement of a Post-Impression ist like Gauguin a triumph.

The ESCADA Corner in Paris NEW FALL-WINTER

COLLECTION Export discount Marie-Martine

8 Rue de Sevres, Paris 6th.

COLLECTOR'S GUIDE

BAREO GALLERY

 Ethnographic Arts
 Tanglin Shopping Centre #02-02 and #02-41 •Tel.: 737 3211 and 732 2115 •Fax: 337 3281 - •Thx: RS 27234 BAS

AUCTION SALES

Habsburg, Feldman

GENEVA · FINE ART AUCTIONEERS

Fabergé presentation cigarette-case, signed, naster Michael Perchin, St. Petersburg, before 1899 - Sold for S.Fr. 49,500 on June 29, 1988 -

We are now accepting consignments for our November auctions in Geneva and New York

Jewels, Fabergé, Islamic Objects, Silver Watches & Clocks, Art Nouveau & Deco

Old Master & Modern Paintings & Drawings Objects of Art, Stamps & Postal History

Habsburg, Feldman S.A. 202, Route du Grand-Lancy 1213 Onex, Geneva Tel.: (022) 57 25 30 Telex: 422757 HFSA CH Fax: (022) 57 64 98

Habsburg, Feldman S.A. Pascale Villiers le Moy 15, Avenue Victor-Hugo 75116 Parls Tel.: (1) 45 01 78 55. Telex: 620893 Fax: (1) 45 00 69 50.

GENEVA - PARIS - LONDON - NEW YORK - HONG KONG

New York Times Service

more and more cluttered and overgrown, to the point where it may be increasingly hard to locate or even recognize it. Although these secular churches, with their courted crowds, corporate boards of trustces and bottom-line mentality, contime to present some of the bright-est stars in the history of art, they have also become theaters for not so wonderful farces in which ambivalence and contradiction the light source within the painting is grossly inadequate.

What we see is less a great painting than a picture of the way a museum believes a great painting now has to be treated. It is becoming a fact of life in museums that the more revered the art, and the greater the public desire to make Direr's expressionistic portrait of painter Conrad Merkel (detail). Guggenheim that moves up rather recent Gauguin retrospective in

Dice or Bears, Car Kitsch Is In

By James Barron Vew York Times Service

bein the Younger's designs for met-RIN Murphy Schneeweiss E RIN Marphy scans on keeps two tiny teddy bears on clump of larches is sketched in a broader style than the single tree in the study. the dashboard of her sporty white car: One wears a white dress with a veil; the other, a dinner jacket and While Holbein the Younger does "Everyone sees them," said not come out of this exhibition a Schneeweiss, who lives in Midland towering genins, some early anony-Park, New Jersey, and drives a 1986 Pontiac Fiero. "Everyone asks mous drawings are remarkable revclations. One is a much written I'm married, everyone says conabout but seldom displayed collecgratulations, and they bring back memories every time I look at them. They're a very personal tion of 28 miniatures intended as illustrations to "Sir John Mande-ville's Travel Book." Done around 1410-1420, they have a fairy-tale

If you are what you drive, as some car-conscions consumers most specialists, is a masterly drawmaintain, then personalizing the ing of Christ carrying the cross exe-cuted at about the same time in a passenger compartment can be as time-consuming and emotionally demanding as choosing between Chippendale and Louis XV. It certainly is as lucrative: Automobile accessories have become a billiondollar business.

> But in the tiny space of a car, the result is usually more kitsch than elegance: Fuzzy dice dangle from rear-view mirrors, and stuffed cats creep in on suction-cup feet.

"We identify so closely with our antomobiles that it makes sense to think of them as extensions of the home," two British psychologists, Peter Marsh and Peter Collett, wrote in "Driving Passion: The Psychology of the Car."

Ever since the early automakers put tops on their motorized bug-gies, the car has been a kind of keeper of the department of prints and drawings, sets every drawing in the context of the artist's work, summing up past and present views board that Dr. Michael Marsden, a professor of popular culture at Bowling Green State University in Ohio, maintains is "a kind of mantelpiece on which we display objects of affection."

> INTERNATIONAL ART EXHIBITIONS

Scuola Grande San Teodoro - Campo San Salvador

LONDON GIMPEL FILS = 30 Davies St., London W1.

DE SAINT PHALLE The Wounded Animals : Until September 10=

"ART EXHIBITIONS" "ANTIQUES" "AUCTION SALES"

"Look at what you're proclaiming," Marsden said. "I went to this But some motorists are not concerned with trendy items. Hanging from the rear-view mirror of Linda university; I like this cartoon character.' You are projecting yourself Brown's red 1967 Camaro is a to the outside world. It's a remarkwhite foxtail, the tassle from her able kind of thing. People are using their automobiles as a giant billhigh school graduation and a small bear. On the dashboard are Rodboard for their own particular ney, a bulldog she acquired at a Dangling from the rear-view mirror of Marika Guyton's Ford EXP is a little plastic hamburger in a bun; a Garfield, the comic-strip cat; a ballpoint pen, and a deodor-izer. "I like stuffed animals and hamburgers," she said, "and I like my car to small nice."

tastes and their own particular val-

As in home furnishings, there are trends in automotive accessories. Popular in the United States this year are stuffed animals anchored to windows, a marketing bonanza for Garfield. One motorist, Clara Pugh, has a veritable zoo in her car: hons, tigers and bears, and even Minnie shelflike, and what he calls "the Mouse. "It's a home away from personal icons" came in from the home," said Pugh, who belos man- cold, the rain and the dust. This age a K mart store in Paramus, marked the beginning of the statue. New Jersey. "I had stuffed animals era and the heyday of religious obin my bedroom, so having them in jects. the car is a natural." One of last year's biggest sellers, school classmates tied a Christian yellow plastic signs, are seen less statue and a voodoo doll to his often this year. Whether this means rear-view mirror. "I asked why that there are fewer "babies on both," Marsden recalled. "The anboard" or "mothers-in-law in swer was, When one quits, the othtrunk" is unclear.

er takes over."

ARCOLE
G.I.E DE COMMISSAIRES PRISEURS PARIS DROUOT RICHELIEU-ROOMS 5 & 6

AUCTION SALES

9, rue Drouot 75009 PARIS, Tel.: (1) 42.46.17.11 Telex Drouot 642260 - Telefax (1) 42.46.65.13 Direct number during the auction: (1) 45.23.59.39 September 20 to 30, 1988

October 24 to 26, 1988 SALE OF "LE DOYEN" RESTAURANT'S WINE CELLAR IN PARIS 160,000 bottles

Finest wines from various regions of France Alsace, Bordeaux, Burgundy, Beautolais, Champagne, Côtes du Rhône, Rhine, Loire Valley, Eaux de Vie, liqueurs, armagnacs, Calvados, Cognacs, marcs, ports, Whiskies. Sale directed by:

Mº J.J. MATHIAS Auctionnee 19, rue Ampère 75017 PARIS - Tel.: (1) 46.22.70.25 Organizer of soles
Assisted by: Mr. J.C. JAMBON, expert, chosen best Sommelier of the world in 1986

Catalogue on request, contact Mª MATHIAS: F.Fr. 150 ARTUS & ASSOCIES - RENAUD - OGER - DUMONT - MATHIAS -LEROUX - GROS - DELETTREZ-RUBINER - BALLLY-POMMERY -SARGET - RABOURDIN - CHOPPIN do JANVRY.

(Original sculpture, drawings, gouaches, illustrated books, rare lithographs.)

■ Open daily 9:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. continuously. ■

Tel.: 01-493 2488.

SATURDAY

ANR of 247 104 ARX ASA 3.00 7.7 AVX .066 3 3.00 .06e 1.20 1.00

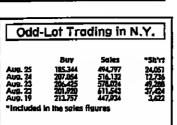

3.00 8.6

1.20 .60

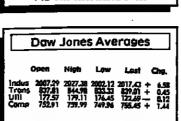

1.75 t2.1 25e 2.6

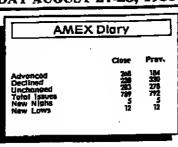

SIS. Close 100s High Low Qual, Chipe

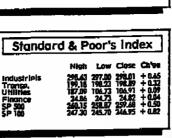

Market Sales

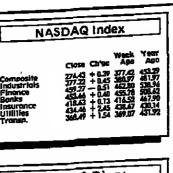

NASDAQ Diary

12 Morth High Low Stock

Div. Yid. PE 180s High Low Quot. Chrae

16779 9945 3845 2667 2782 2149 1997 1997 1971 1157 1157 1111 813 788 Chimda NY Tim TexAir EAL Pi Garona BirPh s WangB BAT Oronga FAUSPY Glantf: ComCr Moranf ENSCO HrnHar 251/2 1176 151/4 18 91/2 1776 1276 214 214 61/2 AMEX Stock Index Low Close Chas 293.88 293.13 293.87 +0.66

11.67 8.8 2.10 3.1 80 2.1 1,48 2.7 405 5.0 1.00 3.9 2.00 15.4 11.50 12.5 32.271.3

.20 3.2

AMEX Most Actives

NEW YORK - Prices on the New York Stock Exchange closed slightly higher Friday in worries over higher interest rates continued to keep market participation at a minimum.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had fallen 15.82 Thursday, rose 6.58 to close at 2017.43 For the mark the 20 marks in the second 2,017.43. For the week, the 30-stock index rose 1.43 points.

Advances led declines by about a 5-4 ratio. Volume slowed to 89.24 million shares, com-The volume was the lowest daily total since when 86.4 million shares changed hands.

"There is very little happening in this mar-ket," said Gail Dudack, a market analyst with S.G. Warburg in New York. "There's some activity by the big money managers."

In economic news Friday, the government said personal income rose 0.6 percent in July, while personal spending rose 0.5 percent. Ms. Dudack said the personal income number was slightly lower than expected, but taken together the two reports had little impact on the quiet market kept investors out of the market. Firm bond prices offered some offsetting support.

"All the technicals seem to be lining up on the possibility of a decent bounce, but everyone's concerned about tightening worldwide," said Andrew Riley, portfolio strategist at Yamaichi

"The market's focus is still very much on interest rates," Ms. Dudack said. "And there is come confusion over whether rates are peaking or going higher.

"The best thing for the market, of course, would be for rates to ease. The real concern is whether rates will press against the double-digit level. My guess is that they will not and could ease as we get closer to the election."

She said she expected the market to remain relatively quies until after Labor Day, and would then watch with great interest the first presidential debate between Vice President George Bush, the Republican candidate for president, and Governor Michael Dukakis, the emocratic candidate.

Northeast Utilities ex-dividend was the most active NYSE issue, up 1/4 to 1814. Wickes Cos. followed, gaining % to 13%.
Sunshine Mining was third, down % to 4. AT&T was unchanged at 25. IBM was up %

Among other blue chips, General Electric was down % to 39%, Boeing was up % to 59, Eastman Kodak ex-dividend was up % to 42% and USX was down 1/4 to 271/4

Macmillan was up % to 83%. The company rejected as inadequate Maxwell Communica-tion Corp.'s $80-a-share, or $2.32 billion, takeover bid

.02 00 1-81

.15e

DetE pf 7.48 103
DetE pf 7.45 109
DetE pf 7.45 109
DetE pf 7.45 109
DetE pf 7.45 109
DE prR 3.24 118
DE prR 3.13 115
DE prR 2.15 104
DetE pr 2.28 10.7
Destpr 2.28 10.7
Destpr 3.13 12 12
Disgor 4.4 12 12
Disgor 5.4 12 12
Disgor 5.4 12 12
Disgor 6.4 12 13
Dissor 7.4 10
Dissor 7.4 10
Dissor 7.4 10
Dissor 7.4 10
Dissor 7.5 10
Dissor 7.5 12
Downer 7.5 12
Downer

Combod
Co

2.20 4.8 110 3.50 0.2 1.100 9.7 1.60 3.3 9

Sis. Cross
Div. Yid. PE 1985 High Low Qual Chips

Tables include the natismwide prices up to the cissing on Wall Street and do not reflect late trades elsewi 12 Month Nigh Low Stock Sis. Clase 1866 High Low Qual. Chige 120

Fuque .24 .9 FurrsB n 1.30 14.2

.10 3 12 1.64 1.3 11

48 1.4 32 2.0 420e 6.2 50 5.2 80 2.6

1.96 2.28 40 3.18 1.60 1.64 2.42 2.42

55 36% 10% 86 18% 16% 1734 14 22% 133% 14 22% 133% 14 22% 133% 16 23% 15 25% 16 25%

2.04 3.7 6 909 1.12 3.1 16 2028 119 .56 2.9 10 34

3.00 | 10.7 | 22.25 | 23.4 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 | 23.5 10% +

7 Vs. 20 Vs. 20

Pres.

هكذا من الأحمل

NYSE Gains in Slow Session

the slowest trading session in nine months as pared with 127.64 million traded Thursday. Nov. 27, 1987, the day after Thanksgiving, Broader market indexes also edged higher. The NYSE composite index rose 0.30 to close at 147.24. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose 0.50 to 259.68. The price of an average share activity between the professional traders. But there is little public participation and very little

Traders said concerns about higher interest rates after European rate increases on Thursday

Div. Yid. PE 100s High Low Quot. Chrys

231/2 191/2 253/4 197/2 147/2 187/4 64 591/2 167/2 111/2 2146 1644 1774 1774 1274 1274 1274 1274 13874 13874 13874 13874 1488 1488 1488 1488 1488 1488 17 1225 17 115 7 140 11 74 10 1500 1512 21 394 16 253

14 7% ECC 20 20 11
27 4 ECC 30 20 11
27 4 ECC 30 20 14
12% 77 ECK G 10 97 22
12% 11 ECK R 144 122343
15% 4% ERC 144 122343
15% 4% ERC 144 122343
15% 4% ERC 144 123343
15% 5% EGG 10 12 80 11
27 21% Edger 1 10 10
17% 50% Ecchin 10 11

March Baller

The state of

William Artist

ECONOMIC SCH

he lew U.S. Tra

How Round 2 Was

Fig.

M ...

REF 4

THE SE

. .

垂 .....

Sec. 22. B := ==

dean : 2 TECT .

X:22:2-

$20.7 13-OTTET : n actual DESC (7 CLE botton to the 60---V ....

> THE RESIDENCE 300

Herald Eribune. BUSINESS/FINANCE

ECONOMIC SCENE

The New U.S. Trade Bill: How Round 2 Was Played

By LEONARD SILK

New York Times Service EW YORK - President Ronald Reagan, in signing the trade bill into law on Tuesday, declared that it would "help us continue our efforts to open markets."
He thus reversed his earlier veto of an almost identical trade bill as protectionist. This time he went with those advisers who said the second bill, despite some flaws, was essential to expanding "free and fair" trade—and to protecting the interests of the Republican Party in the November elections.

Probably the most influential adviser in the latter camp was Clayton K. Yeutter, the U.S. trade representative, who grants that there are ambiguities in Insisting that he is as much a free trader as anyone in the administration, Mr. Yeutter urged the president to sign the bill if it could be stripped of its plant-closing provision — which would have required companies with 50 or more

The original bill might have carried protectionism a giant step further.

workers to give 60 days' notice of plant closings or major layoffs

- and of its curbs on Alaska oil exports.

Both were removed from the revised bill, although Mr. Reagan then decided not to veto a separate bill that contained only the plant-closing provision.

Apart from domestic political considerations, Mr. Youtter argued that there were two reasons why the president should sign the revised trade bill.

First, it contained a number of beneficial provisions, especially authority for negotiation of trade agreements within the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the worldwide trade body. It also provided the authority to adopt the harmonized system of customs nomenclature that took 10 years to negotiate, stronger intellectual-property laws and authority to implement the bilateral trade agreements worked out over the last couple of years, such as the Canadian-American free-trade agreement.

To that list of benefits, labor spokesmen would add the $1 billion a year that the new law provides for retraining workers.

HE SECOND reason for signing the bill, according to Mr. Yeutter, is that the top people in the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative had "battled vigorously and successfully to change language that was intended to tilt protectionist in its original form."

With the incorporation of discretionary language, qualifiers and waivers, he added, "We are firmly convinced that we can administer this bill in such a way as to preserve a climate of free and open trade in the United States."

But he said that the discretion and other "wiggle room" provided in the bill could "also be used by an incoming administration to tilt protectionist if that be their desire."

Nevertheless, the original language of the trade bill might have carried protectionism a giant step further by making restrictive or retaliatory actions mandatory; these are now discretionary. Some champions of tougher trade legislation contend that it has become even more urgent as a response to the scheduled creation of a single European market in 1992.

They argue that the dropping of trade barriers within Europe, by increasing the flow of goods and services in the European Community, will in effect discriminate against American, Japanese or other foreign goods, on which tariffs and nontariff barriers will remain. Zbigniew Brzezinski, a government professor at Columbia University who was assistant to the president for national security affairs in the Carter administration, says that the best U.S. response to the single European market would be for the Umted ating a new trans-Pacific free-trade community. It would link the United States with Japan, Canada, Mexico and possibly other Latin American countries.

Currency Rates

Amsterdom Brussels(a) Frankfurt London (b) Miton New York(c) Paris Tokyo Zurich 1 ECU 1 SDR Closings in o: Commerc quotad; N.A.	133.50 13687 1.1121 1.2955 London,	. 0. 100	3.3985 71.95 0.8437 2.074 2.417	F.F. 0.3224 6.1725 10.6675 218.69 6.3115 	1,908.19	18.5735 0.8856 3.545 63.00 2.0795 3.3101 63.78 9.3472 2.3421 2.7271 paters. None dollar	5366 * 4769 * 4567 25.07	1,338 24,8515 1,1847 24,522 860,15 1,544 4,9245 85,13 1,751 2,9465 closing r c of 100;	1.5734 ° 0.2971 1.3972 1.2927 133.00 4.7296 ° 1.1723 ° 146.996 172.004 urless
Other I	ollar	- Valo	106		CHEMINA	y Po	rs a	HIGHCA	Per S

Carrency Per 4
Fig. morklos 4.4214
Greek droc. 150.00
Hons Kows 3 7.8045
Indian ruspes 14.00
Indo, ruspes 2.4585
Adalary, rusp. 2.4585
Adalary, rusp. 2.4585 Carrency Per S
S, Afr. rund 2.4058
Soviet rubie: 0.634
Spen. peseta 122.80
Sweek trones 4.633
Talvens $ 28.60
Tanibalit: 25.475
Turkish tira 1574.00
UA& dirtem* 3.673
Venez, boliv. 36.00 Currency Mex. Pers 229(10)

1. Zeofcond $ 1,5625
100, naixer
100, naixer
100, 100
11,055
11,055
11,055
12,055
12,055
13,7496
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00
10,00 11.96 1.2323 13.13 38.46 274.61 1.237 New York rates unless marked * (local rate.)

38-day 40-day 1,6838 1,6791 133,36 132,95 1,8539 1,8485 90-day 1,6754 1,32,50 1,8435 Sources: Indexus: Bank (Brussels); Banca Commerciale Hallana (Mich); Banca et de Parls (Parls); Bank of Takya (Takya); IMF (SDR); BAH (dinar, riyal, dirham); G (ruble), Other data from Reuters and AP.

Interest Rates

ECU SDR 74-7/2 6 % 7/2-7/4 7/4 Sterilau 12-12% 12-12% 12 %-12 % 5-5% 5%-5% Sources: Margan Guaranty (Dollar, DM, SF, Pound, FF, yen); Llayds Bank (ECU); Reuters (SDR). Asian Dollar Deposits

8%-8% 8%-8% Clase United States 8 NL - 8 NL Prime rate Federal feads 814 7.83 7.33 8 3/16 Pederal folia:
Com paper 98-77 days
Omoeth Treasury bills
f-menth Treasury bills
2-menth CD's
3-moeth CD's 7.46 7.95 U.S. Money Market Funds 292 3 13/16

3½ 5,80 4,68 5,15 5,40 5,70

12 5/16 11 15/16 12 5/16 11 15/16

Key Money Bates Aug. 26

West German

3% 4% 41/16 Telerute interest Rate Index: 8.206 Source: Merrill Lynch, Telerate.

Gold

Hoes Kons 43329 Laxembours 44239 Perik (125 kilo) 43239 Zurich Loadon 43375 GU5 432.00

Luxembourg, Paris and London official flu-ings: Hone Kone and Zurich apenine and closing prices; New York spot market close. All prices in U.S. Sper ounce.

Source: Reuters.

Toyota Profit Up 31%

Domestic Sales Spurred Increase

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches TOKYO — Toyota Motor Corp., Japan's largest automaker, reported Friday a 31 percent in-crease in current profit for the year that ended June 30, citing brisk

Current profit, or pretax earnings after receipts from nonoperat-

Jaguar reported a 51 percent drop in profit in the first half. Page 11.

ing revenues or expenses, was 521.71 billion yen ($3.89 billion), compared with 398.01 billion yen the year before.

Sales rose 11.1 percent, to 6.69 trillion yen from 6.03 trillion yen, Another factor behind the rise in profit was that Toyota considera-bly reduced its foreign-exchange losses, which totaled 100 billion yen, compared with 270 billion yen.

The value of the Japanese currency has climbed to an average 134 yen from 153 yen during the year, company officials said. Net profit climbed 18.9 percent, to 238.01 billion yen from 200.21 billion yen. Net income per share rose to 89.23 yen from 75.09 yen. Toyota said yearly domestic sales topped 2 million units for the first time, causing the company to pay a special dividend of 1.50 yen a share. The annual dividend per share will be 18.50 yea, it said.

Toyota's exports, however, remained sluggish, falling 0.2 percent to 1,796,682 units, valued at 1.96 trillion yen, down 2.9 percent. Exports to the United States fell 11.5 percent to 851,998 units, mainbecause of the appreciation of the ven against the dollar.

Exports to the European Com-munity fell 3.2 percent to 282,091

Regarding prospective opera-tions in Europe, the company said Friday that it preferred a joint venture formula to produce passenger cars rather than make its own investment. A spokesman said the company was waiting for offers from interested partners.

Toyota already has agreed to moduce commercial vehicles with volkswagen AG of West Germany beginning next year.

The spokesman said Toyota had cars to Europe.

Toyota's domestic sales gained 13.7 percent to 2,034,772 units, valued at 2.85 trillion yen, up 13.7

The company predicted that exports would remain sluggish in the current year, totaling about 1.7 million units, down 5.4 percent.

Domestic sales were projected to climb 4.7 percent; to 2.13 million units. (UPI, AP, Reuters)

Rotterdam Docks With the Future

World's Largest Port Fathoms Distribution Business

By Ronald van de Krol

Special to the Herald Tribune ROTTERDAM — Having reigned as the world's largest port for more than 25 years, Rotterdam is being forced to step up its involvement in new technologics and in the growing field of physical distribution to keep its healthy lead.

The port, which grew after World War II to become the "gateway to Europe" for such raw materials and commodity imports as iron ore and grain, is now striving to switch from being simply a transit harbor to establishing itself as Europe's distribution center.

To do so, it will have to rely less on its natural geographical advantage of being atnated in the Knine River delta and more on providing services that meet industry's needs. But the prob-lem is that other European ports that do not have Rotterdam's natural advantages are adopting the same strategy.

"Every other port in Enrope is trying to nip at our heels," according to Hendrik Schut, secretary-general of European Container Terminus, the largest container handler in the port.

"During the period of strong growth in Rotterdam's oil and grain activities, not enough attention was paid to building links with industry," he said.

Rotterdam, while not even remotely in danger of being by any other European port in terms of size, is conscious of the need to concentrate on new sources of growth. It is becoming less concerned about the numbers of vessels using its docks than on wringing every last economic advantage from the goods the vessels carry.

"We're not as concerned anymore with volume or tonnage as we are with achieving value-add-ed," according to Roel den Dun-

 ${\bf Economic\ Cooperation:\ A\ Chimera?}$

After the Interest Rate Rises, the Debate Heats Up Anew democracies hold annual summits.

France Intervention

W. Germany Discount Rate

Finance ministers and central bankers from the Group of Seven nations meet regularly. At any given moment, bilateral talks on eco-

Economic Cooperation and Develnomic policy are under way.

nen, the city's port commission-

"We don't just want to unload commodities and goods and for-ward them untouched into the European hinterland," he said.

The definition of a harbor has changed.' Roel den Dunnen, Rotterdam's port

"We want to process them into semi-finished or finished prodncts and arrange their physica distribution throughout Enгорс."

Jan Verboom, general secre-tary of the association of port employers, described Rotter-dam's ambitions in another way: The idea is not just to be Europe's biggest entry point for for-cign fruits, for example, but to set up factories to turn the fruit

Rotterdam's search for a new role marks a turning point in its postwar history and comes at a time of change in the transportation sector.

Since Rotterdam became the world's biggest harbor in 1962, with its vast berths for oceanships and its skyline domi-nated by tan cargo cranes, it has been obsessed with chalking up ever-increasing numbers of ves-sels, cargo and containers — and with considerable success.

The port, which stretches for 40 kilometers (25 miles) from the mouth of the Rhine and Maas rivers to the city itself, handles 250 million tons of cargo a year, half as much again as its nearest competitor, the Japanese port of Kobe, and nearly twice as much as third-ranked New York. Reperdum's figure also ex-ceeds the combined tonnage of its nearest European competi-tors, Bremen, Hamburg, Ant-werp and Le Havre.

Bulk cargo such as crude oil, oil products, coal, iron ore and gram traditionally accounts for 80 percent of Rotterdam's tonnage. Much of it is destined for West Germany's industrial heartland, the Ruhr, farther up the Rhine

It was the resurgence of the Ruhr after World War II and its proximity to Rotterdam that helped fuel the port's growth. But now the center of economic gravity in Europe is moving gradually from north to south, as northern Italy and southern even more important industrial areas.

Even within West Germany, new high-technology industry has tended to concentrate around the southern cities of Munich and Stuttgart rather than around the traditional steel and coal centers. "The fear has been expressed

See PORT, Page 13

U.S. Reports Incomes Up,

Spending Off

WASHINGTON - Americans' personal incomes rose a healthy 0.6 percent in July while consumer spending slowed from its breakneck pace of the previous month, the government said Friday. The Commerce Department said He said: "The first task of eco-that the increase in incomes matched a 0.6 percent rise in June framework -- is to create the neces- and would have been even stronger sary room for development of mar-except for a drop in government ket forces to promote world trade subsidy payments to farmers. The and the division of labor for the June increase was revised down advantage of everyone, to prevent from an originally reported 0.7 per-

Personal consumption spending cooperation is a global economic political order," be added, "that provides for the maintenance of the freest possible exchange of goods, The June figure had been reported as I percent. The report attributed All the G-7 nations endorse much of the July slowdown to a The slower consumer spending mid-1970s after the Bretton Woods was seen as good news for the econsystem of fixed currency exchange omy because of worries that derates collapsed under the strain financing the Vietnam War put on ping the ability of factories to the U.S. dollar. But the nations produce the goods, thus creating often are divided on how to achieve rising inflationary pressures. The income gain looked particu-

"Theory is one thing," Mr. larly impressive because the key Seidler said, "but cooperating in a component, wages and salaries, This was offset somewhat by a $9 billion rate of decline for farm subsidy payments. Excluding these payments, which show extreme month-to-month volatility, personal incomes would have risen 0.8 phones and computers adds to the complexity of international coop-spending in June, which was the biggest advance in 10 months, the 0.5 percent July increase reflected gains in purchases of nondurable goods and services. Spending on nondurable goods rose at an annual rate of $3.5 billion, compared with a $5.5 billion June increase. Purchases of services, which include housing costs, increased $12.2 billion after a $18.6 billion June increase. (AP, Reuters)

Japanese Say GNP Is Growing More Slowly

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches TOKYO - Japanese officials quarter should be slightly less than said Friday that growth in the gross national product slowed markedly in the second quarter. Word of the slowdown came amid unusual efforts by Japanese officials to assure financial markets that Japan does not plan to follow European central banks and raise key interest rates.

A Finance Ministry official said. Friday that "current Japanese monetary conditions do not require a discount rate rise." He noted that Japanese prices and the yea were still stable.

Japan could see a quarterly de-cline in gross national product of over 0.5 percent from the preceding quarter, a senior official at the Economic Planning Agency said Fri-day, quoted by the Kyodo news agency. He cited sagging internal demand and negative net exports.

An official announcement of second-quarter results in GNP, the measure of the country's total out-put of goods and services, is not expected until next month.

Seven Enropean nations, led by West Germany, raised interest rates on Thursday in an attempt to curb the dollar's advance against other currencies. The higher rates will make it more profitable for investors to hold European currencies instead of dollars. Officials both at the Bank of Japan and in the Finance Ministry insisted that major nations were not about to embark on a competitive round of interest rate increases.

These officials, normally reluc-tant to discuss U.S. monetary policy, said the United States would not match the European interest rate increases announced Thursday as long as U.S. inflation remained under control and exchange rates stayed stable.

Private sector economists agreed that a Japanese rise was unlikely now. Japan's key discount rate stands at 2.5 percent.
Officials said Friday that the sudden decline in GNP growth, reflecting technical adjustments and seasonal factors, was one reason the Bank of Japan did not feel a threat from overheating and had decided not to tighten monetary policy or raise interest rates. In this year's first quarter, Japanese GNP grew 2.7 percent from the preceding quarter, an annual rate of 11.3 percent. The central bank official said # that the annual rate for the second

percent after seasonal adjust-

"The economy is operating at a very comfortable tempo," the offi-cial said. "There is no sign of a rekindling of inflation.

Japanese officials said they ex-pected the European rate rises to help discourage speculative selling of the Deutsche mark and ensure stable exchange rates in Europe.

The central bank official said European interest rate rises were in line with policy coordination among the Group of Seven industrialized nations, which is committed to preventing a resurgence of inflation. Data released Friday in Japan confirmed that inflation remained under control. Consumer prices fell 0.2 percent in July from the previous month, the government said, although they rose 0.5 percent from a year earlier.

And in an indication of slowing growth, Japan's mining and manufacturing production index for the second quarter fell from the preceding quarter in the first such de-cline since the end of 1986, a government report said.
But Japanese economists

stressed the fundamental sound-ness of the economy in saying that a rate rise seemed unlikely.

"For the next month or so there is little possibility of the Bank of Japan raising its rate," said Masaru Taleng of Emil Penk y Takagi of Fuji Bank Ltd. "There is no reason for Japan to tighten policy at this time," said Shoichi Morino, an economist at Nippon Credit Bank Ltd. "Eco-shape."

The interest rate increases helped weaken the dollar not only against European currencies but nomic fundamentals are in good against the yen, they said.

Many economists said Japan would act to head off inflation if the dollar climbed above 140 year from its current level of below 134, but the weaker U.S. currency makes that less likely.

Mr. Takagi of Fuji Bank said he saw no signs of a boost in Japan's discount rate. He said if the yen started to slide, the central bank would begin intervening by selling dollars for yea. If that failed, he said, it would raise market interest rates, using a discount rate increase only as a final resort.

Dollar Finishes Mixed In New York Trading that it had raised its discount rate

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches NEW YORK — The dollar to 7.5 percent and its advances rate closed mixed Friday against major currencies in trading here, ending a week of heavy central bank intervention that sapped the dollar's recent strength.

"This market was very thin," said Hubert Pedroli, manager of the corporate foreign exchange desk at Credit Suisse, "People got banged around this week and everybody was happy to take it easy today.

The dollar closed at 1.8585 DM, down from 1.8645 at Thursday's close, and at 133.80 Japanese yen, up slightly from 133.30. It closed at 1.568 Swiss francs, down from 1.5725 Thursday, and at 6.3115 French francs, off from It strengthened against the Brit-ish pound, which ended at $1.6865, from $1.6975 Thursday. Earlier in London, the dollar eased against the Deutsche mark as traders appeared stunned by Thursday's interest-rate increase by major European central banks. Joining other central banks, the Belgian National Bank said Friday to 7.75 percent, each up 0.25 point, effective Monday. It had raised the rates 0.25 point on Aug. 10. In New York, the dollar reached a high during the week of 1.91 Deutsche marks before central banks began selling dollars to halt the currency's risc. Analysts said they did not be-lieve the dollar would weaken much next week. "I don't think we'll go to 1.82

[marks]," said Mr. Pedroli, "but there is a chance we'll stick between 1.84 and 1.85. I'm not looking for a much stronger dollar. In London, the dollar closed at 1.8585 Deutsche marks, down from 1.8623 at the opening and 1.8658 at Thursday's close; at 133.85 year, up from 133.60 at the start Friday and 133.43 on Thursday. It closed at 1.5690 Swiss francs. against 1.5755 at Thursday's close, at 6.3100 French francs, against 6.3340. The pound fell to $1.6905 from an opening $1.6950 and the previous close of $1.6970.

See DOLLAR, Page 13

Value Line INTRODUCTORY TRIAL only $95 If no member of your household has subscribed to Value

Line in the past two years, you can now receive full-page analyses of about 130 American stocks each week for the next 12 weeks for $95. As a double bonus at no additional charge, you will also receive the 2000-page Investors Reference Serv percentage of those who try Value Line for a short period stay to be charged our long-term subscribers were their number smaller. Send payment along with name and address together with this ad to: Dept. 213027

The Value Line Investment Survey

Payment in local currencies (British £60, French £675, Swiss £145, DM 175) and requests for information should be directed to; Value Line, Att: Alexandre de Saint-Phalle, 2 Ave. de Villars, 75007 Paris.

you will also receive the 2000-page Investors Reference Service (covering 1700 American stocks) and the 72-page booklet, "A Subscriber's Guide" which explains how even inexperienced investors can apply thousands of bours of professional research to their own portfolios by focusing on only two unequivocal ratings, one for Timeliness (Performance in neal 12 months), the other for Safety. We make this special offer because we have found that a high with it on a long-term basis. The increased circulation en-ables us to provide this service for far less than would have

Value Line, Inc., 711 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017

Distributed by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Publication Distribution Service Holland. Allow 4 weeks for delivery.

economic cooperation at work. Others saw them as the opposite, a Central Bank sure sign that cooperation among Lending Rates the major industrial nations is in tatters and that the banners of national self-interest are being un-

Those polarized views of the concept of nations working together toward common economic goals are not unusual, and they surfaced again after the Bundesbank and seven other European central banks raised key interest rates on Thursday and Friday.

By Ferdinand Protzman

International Herald Tribune

economists, the new round of European interest rate increases was a prime example of international

FRANKFURT - To some

Defining international economic cooperation, let alone judging whether or not it is working, is a source of almost perpetual debate among economists.

There are people here in Germany, and the rest of the world for that matter, who will tell you international economic cooperation doesn't work, it's pointless and evcry country should go its own way," said Horst Seidler, chief economist at the Deutsches Institut für Wirtschaftsforschung in Berlin, a leading West German economic research institute.

Part of the reason for this is that there is no clear-cut model of how it works," he said. "There are so many factors, levels and considerations involved with international cooperation, that a simple model, that every layman could grasp, is virtually impossible." International economic cooperation is a lot like a group of neighbors from different cultural, ethnic and religious backgrounds, trying to decide on what is best for the neighborhood they all live in. Degrees of wealth and the size of their homes and yards also vary

But when economists talk about greatly, yet each must try to see beyond its own personal values totion, they are usually referring to ward a collective goal. Even when cooperation works there are strains. When it fails, common ground can turn to scorched earth. To avoid such consequences, the leading industrial democracies Within this group, the United States dominates, economists said, have been getting together, breakalthough possibly less than in the past. Japan and West Germany ing bread and trying to thrash things out since the end of World War II. The 10 leading industrial rank second and third. The vice president of the Bundesbank, Helmut Schlesinger, described the essence of cooperation among those nations in a recent speech.

> nomic policy in an international framework - as in a national barriers as much as possible, and to cent. dam protectionist streams." Personal consumption spending,
> "The foundation of international which includes almost everything services and capital."

those macroeconomic goals, which decline in sales of new cars. they have been pursuing since the world where there such enormous imbalances in trade and in government budget deficits is another." The economic power of the markets, which as a whole far exceeds that of any government, and the Nations outside this group are fact that information and money linked to international cooperation through such organizations as the move at the speed of light via tele-International Monetary Fund, the complexity of international coop-World Bank, the Organization for eration. The media also plays an important role, as each piece of opment, the United Nations, the economic data is quickly analyzed European Community and the General Agreement on Tariffs and and labeled good or bad.

As a result, governments that say they are cooperating may end up international economic coopera-trading jabs through the media. As the dollar soured to a peak of 3.47 cooperation among the so-called Deutsche marks in 1985, West Ger-Group of Seven nations - Britain, man officials, including Finance

Germany and the United States. See COOPERATE, Page 13

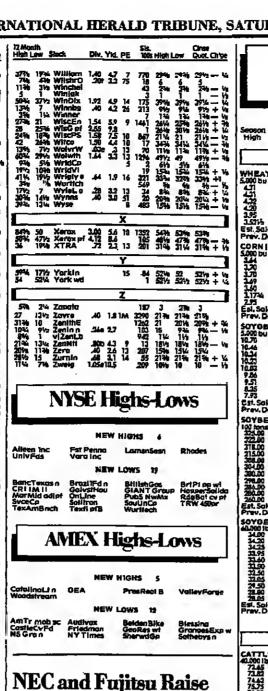

U.S. Futures

Macmillan Board Shuns Maxwell Tender Offer

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches NEW YORK — Macmillan Inc. said Friday that its board had rejected as inadequate the $80-a-share tender offer from Maxwell Communications Corp. The offer valued the company at $2.34 billion.

Macmillan said it had had discussions with other parties and the board believed that more than $80 could be obtained if it decided to sell the company. The Maxwell offer exceeded an earlier bid by Robert M. Bass Group Inc. for Macmillan stock consistently has traded above $80 a share recently. Macmillan shares closed Friday on the New York Stock Exchange at $83,875, up 62.5 cents.

NEC and Fujitsu Raise Yearly Profit Estimates

TOKYO-NEC Corp. and Fujitsu Ltd., two of the world's leading semiconductor makers, raised Friday their earnings estimates for the current fiscal year. NEC is the world's largest maker of computer million), up from a previously forecast 85 bil-ion yen. In the previous fiscal year, NEC carned 74.18 billion yen.

The electronics giant also said it expected parent net profit to rise to 52 billion yen in the year ending March 31, up from an earlier forecast of 45 billion yen. In the year ended last company spokesman said.

Sales are expected to rise to 2.5 trillion yea. against a previously forecast 2.45 trillion yen. In the year ended March 31, sales totaled 2.304 The spokesman said the booming world semi-conductor market, strong demand in Japan for electronics products, and a weaker than expected yen were the major factors prompting the revision of the forecast. Fujitsu is likely to record parent company current profit of 100 billion yen in the year ending March 31, a company spokesman said, if change rates stabilize around current levels. The company earlier forecast current profit of 80 billion yen, up from 60.45 billion yen in trillion yen, up from an earlier forecast of 1.95 trillion yen. In the year ended March 31, sales totaled 1.71 trillion yen.

Swire Pacific's Profit Rose 23.6% for Half

Reaters

HONG KONG — Swire Pacific Ltd. reported Friday that net profit in the first half of 1988 rose 23.6 percent, to 1.36 billion Hong Kong rose 23.6 percent, to 1.36 billion Hong Kong dollars ($174 million).

Revenue rose 22.8 percent from the year-earlier period, to 11.64 billion dollars.

Swire Pacific's shares fell 70 cents to 17.20 dollars on the Hong Kong exchange on Friday.

David Gledhill, chairman of Swire, said prospects for the full-year 1988 were good.

"I expect that the final dividends to be recommended will be at least double the interim dividends," he said.

Swire declared a dividend for A shares of 23 cents for the six months ended June 30, un from cents for the six months ended June 30, up from 19 cents in the first half on 1987. The 1987 final dividend was 43 cents for each A share.

The company said net excluded an extraordinary gain of 385.9 million dollars derived from the sale of a stake in United Dockyard to the sale of a stake in United Dockyard to Cheung Kong (Holdings) Ltd.

Mr. Gledhill attributed the satisfactory interim results to the sound performance of its aviation and hotel operations, under Cathay Pacific Airways Ltd., and Swire Properties Ltd.

Mr. Gledhill noted problems in certain areas of the industries division and a lack of activity in the chimsien and officiaries.

of the industries division and a lack of activity in the shipping and offshore sector.

"Both Swire Magnetics and Swire Technologies made progress," Mr. Gledhill said.

But, he said, results were affected by "escalating costs and a chronic shortage of skilled labor in Hong Kong."

Cathay Pacific, in which Swire holds about 50 percent and Beijing-controlled interests a minority stake, on Wednesday reported a 23 percent rise in net profit, to 1.02 billion Hong Kong dollars.

IMF Sets Up Fund to Aid Nations With Export Ills

Resters

WASHINGTON — The International Monetary Fund said its executive board approved the establishment of a new facility that would assist countries hurt by export problems and disruptions in their economic programs from adverse external shocks.

The new pool of funds is called the compensatory and contingency financing facility. It replaces the export-oriented compensatory financing facility and a facility for countries hurt by increases in cereal import prices.

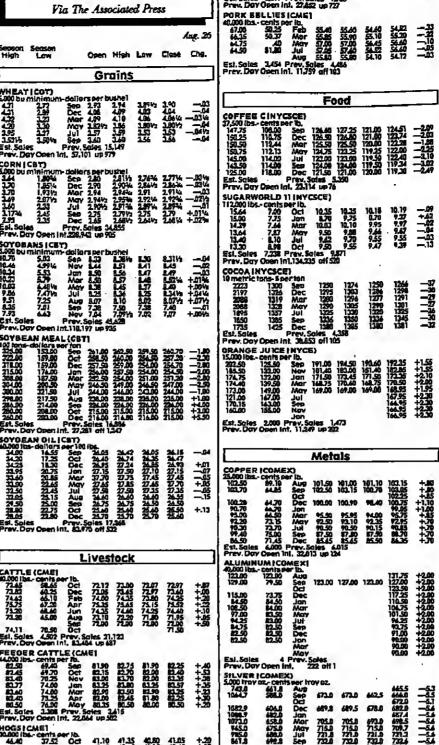

by increases in cereal import prices.

The IMF said its action followed agreement reached by the policy-making interim committee at its spring meeting.

The IMF said the new facility would provide financial assistance to member countries that encounter balance-of-payments difficulties that arise from temporary export shortfalls, adverse contingencies, or excess costs of cereal imports. Disbursements under the facility will be financed from the IMF's ordinary resources.

Currency Options Financial

2.25 1.30 0.46 Card Per

London Metals

Discount 842 Offer 7.25 7.23 7.49 7.47 7.73 7.71

7.57 7.57 7.59 1.39

VALUE LINE (KCBT) points and cents 233.00 22.85 Sep 235.70 255.40 230.80 Dec 238.10 257.00 249.50 Mar Est. Soles Prev. Day Open Int. 1,294 of 7

1,113.20 f N.A. 136.11 246.60 Moody's: base 100: Dec. 31, 1931. p-preliminary; f-final Reuters: base 100: Sep. 18, 1931. Daw Janes: base 100: Dec. 31, 1974. Market Guide

Paris Commodities Company Options Results Dividends S&P 100 Index Options

> London Commodities

Carles folial volume $1,071; leftel open ind. 30,555
Pails: folial volume: $1,594; leftel open ind. 20,555
SEP 198 lefter;
HIST 20,30 low 26,75 close 16,35 +,82

US.Treasuries

製売与お客館の 7.35 ep 128,00 128,25 128,50 127,00 128,25 128,50 128,50 128,50 128,50 128,50 128,50 128,55 128,50 128,55 138,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 132,55 132,50 1

0 21 10-3 0 92 10-3 0 97 14 9-18 0 96 4 9-18 0 22 10-1 0 25 10-3 0 55 10-3

Spot Commodities

DM Futures

New York Times Sees Lower Quarterly Profit NEW YORK — The New York

NEW YORK — The New York Times Co. expects its third-quarter earnings to be lower than in last year's third quarter, citing lower advertising volume.

The company also disclosed Thursday that it had repurchased 2.5 million shares of its class A common stock this year, at an average cost of $27 a share, and that it planned to buy up to 2 million more shares, to be used mainly for stock options and an employee stock plan.

stock options and an employee stock plan

MENTAL THE PARTY HAVE

K Inches

de con la la contraction de contract

al mountain in the dealer

falor grant Same ties to the

- T = -

aguar's Earni il% in the Fir

the issues, trends

from the house ting edge. Who see or hinder research How I

Why

From

The ber 14th 1988

ting Pakistan la mous Promise of ALAMOND TO THE CONTROL OF THE STATE OF

The second secon

Carlotte State

Over Zia's De

want of select the selection of the sele

the state of the s

the movement of the control of the c

A comment of the state of

Marie and the second se

And the second second second

A commence of the territorial state of

4 % Sec. 11 11 11 11 12 2 2

Salah and I was to will all the salah and the

and the second of the second the contract of the whole of the age.

management of the set of the set of 10 00 00 00 00

10 to 100 to · inti al 🗠 🗢

the services of the section to the second section of the second section of the second section of the second section se

Brown was a series of the parely

LONDON — Jaguar PLC, the British luxury car maker, said Friday that singgish U.S. demand and a strong pound had contained as s a strong pound had contributed to a 51 percent drop in profit in the Jaguar has lowered its initial production targets to about $2,000 cars this year and about $5,000 in 1989. The Coventry-based company predicted more hard times shead. compared with just over 48,000 Pretax profit for the first six months fell to £22.5 million ($38 units made in 1987. million), from £45.7 million a year

Sales were up by 19 percent in Britain and 44 percent in the rest of earlier. That was about £7.5 million Europe, the company said. less than market analysts had been Share analysts have now downgraded their forecasts for pretax profit for the full year and do not expect them to exceed 1987's £97 Revenue in the half rose 14.5 percent to £537 million, from £469

The stock market had been expecting bad half-year figures from Jaguar, but not as bad as this," said an analyst for the brokerage Hoare Govett

Jaguar, which became an inde-pendent, publicly quoted company in 1984, clawed back from deep financial troubles in the 1970s to regain its past reputation for fine cars and to become one of Britain's leading luxury automakers.

States, its largest single market, af-ter the October stock market collapse. The pound's strength against other currencies also had a negative Jaguar shares closed Friday on the London Stock Exchange at 253 pence ($4.30), down 11 pence from Thursday's close. impact on some export markets, he

EUROPE: Investors Take Notice

(Continued from Page 1) managing director at Drexel Burn-ham Lambert.

million a year earlier.

cantly down on 1987,"

"The company expects the current trading conditions to continue throughout 1988 and into 1989," Jaguar's chairman, Sir John Egan, said in a statement. "Profitability for 1988 will therefore be signifi-

Sir John blamed sluggish demand for luxury cars in the United

Mr. Vanderdoes said that rising interest rates, which make bonds more attractive, and signs that inflation is picking up are dimming the outlook for stocks in many

This uncertainty may be indirectly contributing to the growing interest in the prospects for Europe

Some Wall Street firms are urging investors to pay closer attention to Europe because they see the Continental stock markets as the safest short-term bet for investors.

Merrill thinks West Germany offers the lowest risk because it has been through a bear market dating from May 1986, "It's off 35 percent from its peaks and people who don't want stocks have gotten out," Ms. Kuenstner said.

Morgan Stanley has a different short-term view. Italy is the only market it currently favors in En-

However, Morgan Stanley sees opportunities for investors.

In his model portfolio for 1992, Mr. Roche is especially enthusiastic about companies that he thinks will benefit from an expansion in trade, transportation and travel within Europe. They include Crossair, a Swiss regional airline positioned to benefit from growing Swiss ties to the ain, are others on several buy lists.

EC and from growth in air travel to secondary European airports; La-farge-Coppée and Bouygues, of France, and Holderbank, of Switzerland, in the construction and cement sectors; Ansaldo, of Italy, in the engineering sector; and Dan-zas, a Swiss trucking firm.

Mr. Roche also favors Wagon-Lits of Belgium as a company with its strategic planning fixed on 1992 and the capacity to operate an inte-grated European leisure travel net-

Alsthom Atlantique, of France, and FKI Babcock as well as Dowty

Group and Davy Corp. in Britain

work. And, as a higher risk investment, he likes Center Parcs, a Dutch company focused on building indoor recreation centers throughout northern Europe. Analysis say that consumer goods companies are among those most likely to quickly find opportunities and new competition during economic integration. A favorite on several lists is BSN, a French food conglomerate.

"This is one of the few industries where the French do not have to worry about competition from either the Germans or the Japanese," said Bertrand Facon, who follows Continental food and drink companies for First Boston Corp.

Unilever, a British-Dutch comwide M&A experience and have the pany; Nestle of Switzedand; and Grand Metropolitan PLC of Brittechniques and intellectual agility to adapt very fast to changing envi-ronments," said Georges Ugens.

Japan Insider Trading: A Tradition Is Ending

Exchange Reproves 2 Firms

TOKYO - The Tokyo Stock Exchange has reprimanded two companies, including Japan's largest steel maker, for insider stock trading by employees, an exchange executive said on Friday.

Takao Nojini, an exchange managing director, said an investigation found that 19 cmployees of Nippon Steel Corp. and 15 at Sankyo Seiki Mann-facturing Co., a maker of pre-cision machines, had traded 68,000 Sankyo Seiki shares while possessing confidential information about a planned link between the companies.

Inst before Nippon Steel bought 18 percent of Sankyo Seiki, Sankyo's stock rose 10

The exchange has told the two companies to take steps to prevent such trading in the fu-ture, Mr. Nojiri said. However, the exchange will mete out no punishment as new laws against such trading have not yet come into effect.

The case is one of several stock trading scandals uncov-ered in recent months.

Nippon Steel's president, Hiroshi Saito, on Thursday apologized to the exchange and to senior Finance Ministry officials for the lax supervision of corporate information that led to the insider trading.

The company is adopting strict guidelines for its employees, he said.

sive investment bankers - especially from American and British

Indeed, one reason sedate Europe has started to resemble the go-

go U.S. scene is that Wall Street investment banks have beefed up their European offices. The deal-making expertise they developed at home as well as their financial innovations have won many Europe-

"The American firms have a firms — are greasing the wheels.

By David E. Sanger

TOKYO — Insider trading is becoming as hot a scandal in Tokyo as it is on Wall Street.

But this insider trading Japanese-style, where buying and selling shares based on advance information is a time-honored tradition to coment relationships between brokers and their biggest clients. Tokyo's insiders typically bear little resemblance to Ivan F. Boesky, the most noted U.S. offender. In Japan they usually work for their companies betterment, rather than their own.

Because until recently Japan had no laws pro-hibiting insider trading, few have ever been brought to court.

But Japan's Ministry of Finance, worned that international investors would lose confidence in the Tokyo stock market, the world's largest, is starting to crack down. On Tuesday, Japan an-nounced regulations that will allow the ministry for the first time to investigate cases of suspicious

The new law specifies what constitutes inside trading and includes new criminal penalties. Even so, few expect the new rules to have much effect any time soon in the centralized, clubby world of the Tokyo Stock Exchange. There, ad-vance access to inside information is part of the finely honed science of taking some risk out of trading in an incredibly volatile market. "When you talk to most brokers here about inside information, they stare at you blankly," a European investment banker said recently. "They never even heard the words until a few years ago. "In Japan, information always belongs to someone. The whole idea of equal access to information is an alien one." Nonetheless, a crackdown of sorts has begun, and seeking to fend off more regulation, the country's huge securities firms have began promulgating new rules and lecturing employees about mar-

In a practice only now beginning to change, a company's investment banker is frequently its portfolio manager as well. He is privy to sensitive information and is likely to trade on it and pass it on to his colleagues long before the rest of the market gets the news.

When a big brokerage house is about to recom-mend its stock pick of the day to millions of retail customers it alerts its best institutional customers in advance. If anyone needed a reminder of how quickly cosporate news spreads before it is formally announced, it came in the first week of August. Shares of Canon Inc., the camera maker, soared

MERGER: As '92 Nears, Europe Changes Its Tune

Stanley, the New York-based in-

Mr. Ugenx said that U.S. investment banks had represented one side or the other in most of the cross-border European deals worth

in Britain from experienced London merchant banks such as S.G.

Warburg, such American invest-ment banks as Salomon Brothers and Shearson Lehman Hutton Inc.

have stepped up their activities on Investment banks such as Ban-

Having met tough competition more than $100 million.

on cross-border deals.

vestment bank.

the Continent

by 130 yea, or about $1, to close at 1,520 yea, on reports that it would announce stronger than expected earnings. The trading became so frenzied that the exchange reportedly asked the company to release its half-year earnings earlier than expected.

Meanwhile, at a session of Parliament, Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita spent most of his time answering questions about how his aides, along with several other prominent political figures and the head of Japan's largest financial newspaper, reaped inge profits from a tip-off about a compa-ny planning to go public.

No one has been sent to jail for insider trading in

The biggest insider case so far, involving price manipulation of a new stock issue, dates from 1972. And that case was resolved only last month, when the Tokyo High Court upheld a fine equivalent to $2,300 and the suspended sentences given to two top officials of Kyodo Shiryo Co., a food processor in Yokohama, and four brokers from Daiwa Securities Co. and Nikko Securities Co. An executive of Nomma Securities Co., the world's biggest securities firm, had earlier pleaded guilty.

At the Tokyo Stock Exchange, where officials maist that reports of rampant insider activity are overblown, the main spur for the recent crackdown seems to be outside pressure. With the link be-tween trading in New York and Tokyo growing closer every day, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission had been pressing for uniform regula-tion of insider activity in both markets.

But so far Japanese investors have been largely

"In the United States, where individuals hold so many of the shares, the hatred of insider trading is great," Yoshiaki Kinoshita, the manager of the surveillance department at the Tokyo Stock Ex-change, said. But here, until recently, insider activity was a matter between professionals. "No one outside was affected. Now, that is

The new regulations prohibit advance trading based on knowledge of mergers, carnings reports, new products or technology and new stock or bond offerings. Such changes may save the government the kind of embarrassment it suffered last fall, in a case involving Tateho Chemical Industries. In September, Tatcho reported $210 million in losses in the bond futures market. Just before the announcement, Hashin Sogo Bank, one of its lead bankers, sold all its holdings in the company. The Osaka Securities Exchange said the sale was suspi-cious but could not prove the bank acted on inside

Bond Controls

Agence Prance-Presse

Bell Units' Boards

head of the European merger and que Paribas and Banque Indosnez acquisition operations of Morgan in Paris and Mediobanca SpA in Milan dominate their domestic PERTH, Australia - Directors markets, but many companies turn of Robert Holmes à Court's former to U.S. investment banks for advice flagship, Bell Group Ltd., resigned Friday as the Australian entrepren-"The American banks have good ner Alan Bond took control.

Bell and its major subsidiaries, Bell Resources Ltd. and J.N. Tay-lor Holdings Ltd., said their direc-tors had stepped down after receiv-ing notices from Bond Corp. Holdings, which holds 59 percent of Bell Group, Mr. Bond replaced Mr. Holmes i Court as cheirman of contacts from their Eurobood activities," said Vincent Thomson, director of the European merger and acquisition operations at Morgan Grenfell, the London-based invest-Rolf Brever, a board member of Deutsche Bank AG, does not ex-Mr. Holmes & Court as chairman of pect the European deal-making to Bell Resources and J.N. Taylor, but approach the torrid pace in the Mr. Holmes a Court remains chairman of Bell Group.

Court Blocks Eastern Air From Cutting Flights, Jobs

WASHINGTON - A federal udge on Friday blocked plans by Eastern Air Lines to end operations to 14 cities and eliminate 4,000 jobs, giving a victory to East-

Judge Barrington Parker of the U.S. District Court granted a preliminary injunction sought by the Air Line Pilots Association and two other unions to prevent Eastern, with headquarters in Miami. from making the cutbacks, sched-uled to take effect Aug. 31.

The judge's action follows his decision on Aug. 3 granting a tem-porary restraining order that tem-porarily blocked the cutbacks. Eastern said it would appeal the

A spokesman for the Air Line Pilots Association said his group was "extremely pleased" with the ruling.
The Air Line Pilots, the Interna-

changes in wages, hours or working conditions during contract talks. They accuse Texas Air of trying to strip assets from Eastern to transfer them to another Texas Air subsidiary, Continental Airlines which is predominantly nonmion Last week, Continental announced

tional Association of Machinists and the Transport Workers Union, which represents flight attendants

in the action, contend that Eastem's moves to curb operations violate a federal law that forbids an airline from launching major

t would lay off 900 workers. In late July, Eastern had an nounced plans to cut flight opera tions by about 12 percent, ending service to 14 cities and closing it Kansas City hub, meaning the elimination of a total of 4,000 jobs

Last year, Eastern had a loss of $182 million and in the first six months of 1988, its loss has totaled $120.8 million.

Chrysler and Maserati to End Future Output Cooperation

DETROIT - De Tomaso Industries Inc. announced Friday that all future programs between Chrysler Corp. and the Italian automaker Maserati SpA have been terminated but that produc-tion of the long-awaited TC coupe would begin early next week.

Alejandro De Tomaso, the president of De Tomaso, which holds a controlling interest in Maserati, also said Chrysler had agreed to suspend and then waive its options to acquire further Maserati stock, and had granted Mr. De Tomaso the right to reaccuire the option he granted to Chrysler to purchase his De Tomaso stock

Chrysler has had a 15.6 percent interest in Maserati since October 1986, and had an option to acquire a majority stake in the inxury and performance car maker by 1995.

Luxembourg, August 27, 1988.

"For now we're going to concentrate on the TC," a Chrysler spokesman, John McCandless, said in confirming the announcement. Chrysler and Maserati announced plans in May 1986 to produce additional cars, including a four-door sedan The move underscores the apparent difficulty the two automakers have had in developing new huxury cars to give Chrysler a link with a prestigious name like Maser-ati in the U.S. market.

Although Chrysler says a debu date had never been formally an nounced, the introduction of the $30,000 TC coupe has been delayed umerous times within the pas three years.

Its latest introduction date should be sometime before the end of this year, Mr. McCandless said to notify the holders of the above mentioned issue, that the bonds chawn in the annual redemption instalment due October 1st 1988. bear the numbers comprised between 27251 and 30000 (instead of 27951, and F30000) and between 1 and 2250, these numbers

CORRECTION NOTICE

The council of Europe resettlement fund

for national relagees and over-population in Europe ECU 30,000,000 13½ % 1982-1992

Reference being made to the publication dated August 25, 1988, this is

Banque Internationale a Luxembourg

Societe Annayme

Herald Eribune

TechnologyQuarterly

A special news section— four times a year in the IHT

Every three months, Technology Quarterly puts readers in touch with the issues, trends and developments that are shaping the world of high-technology—from the home and workplace to outerspace. Which companies are on the cutting edge. Who are the people behind the discoveries. Why national policies help or hinder research. In recent issues:

AUTOMATION

How innovations in robotics are cutting costs on the assembly line.

COMPUTERS Why the search for a single operating standard has split the industry.

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

Who will be first to bring superconductors to market — and why.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS
Where digital technology stands to make the biggest gains.

TRANSPORTATION
From magnetic trains to superplanes, how the next generation will travel.

SPACE
Why man may be the weakest link in the rush toward Mars.

The next issues of Technology Quarterly will be published September 14th 1988, December 7th 1988 and March 14th 1989.

The art of the understatement.

At Lloyds Bank we've always taken an independent stance when reporting good news. We usually err on the side of understatement.

But it's hard to understate the performance of our Inter-national Money Market Fund.

Since its launch in 1983 the Fund's value has increased to US$93 million, with increases in assets of 237% and 58% over the last two years.

Also out of a total of 207 similar funds we have no less than three classes in the top

There are a full nine single currency classes to choose from. Furthermore, we now offer two managed currency classes denominated in Sterling and US Dollars, which give you the benefit of our professional management of currency exposure.

In addition, there are no additions. No hidden charges, | say the least.

no front-end fee, no price spread and, depending upon your country of residence, no income or capital gains tax.

It is also worth remembering the security offered by this type of investment when compared with the volatility of equity markets.

The Fund represents a highly liquid form of investment requiring a maximum of just seven days' notice prior to withdrawal Application procedure is simple and investments can be switched between currency classes free of charge.

A fine set of features, to

If you would like more details on how to apply and the opportunities offered by investing in this Fund, simply fill in and send off the coupon.

Lloyds Bank Fund Managers (Guernsey) Limite PO Box 136, Dept. IFIT. St. Pener Port, Guernsey, Channel Islands Telephone: 0481 24983 Telex: 4191514 Please send me the latest prospectus of the Lloyds mational Money Market Fund on the sole

It should be remembered that the prices of the managed currency classes and any income from them may go down as well as up.

THE THOROUGHBRED BANK.

مكذامن التعمل

FRENCY MARK WILLAR: Mark

Exchange Chie After U.S. Inve

and a med l

while service on the Secret and an other the To tree and Press.

THE REAL PROPERTY AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PROP

DOLLAR: Mark Gains as Traders Study Rate Rises

London dealers said they were wary after Thursday's turbulent market and were continuing to assess the dollar's short-term direc-"Operators were reductant to open fresh dollar positions after volatile moves yesterday and ahead of the bank holiday weekend" in Britain, one dealer said.

The dollar's firmness against the large German bank noted that "the yen reflected comments from a senior Bank of Japan official that the central bank had no plans to raise its discount rate, dealers said.

Kromlin L. Moning

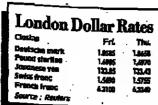

pintental ka

emperative Bank life

way to an arrange the 200 1100 1100 1100

1000

mark is back in favor again after yesterday's events." The Bundesbank, said James

O'Neill, an economist at Swiss

Exchange Chief Resigns After U.S. Investigation United Press International NETTY VODE STREET Chairman of the New

NEW YORK - William Bradt, chairman of the New York Mercantile Exchange, has resigned after the federal agency that regulates futures trading said his conduct "appears to have been inappropriate for the chairman of an exchange."

The Nymex announced Mr. Bradt's resignation late Thursday after the Commodities Futures Trading Commission issued a report that cleared bins a second property of the Commodities of the Commission issued a report that cleared bins a second property of the Commission issued a report that cleared bins a second property of the Commission issued a report that cleared bins a second property of the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared bins are considered by the Commission issued a report that cleared by the Commission is the Commissi that cleared him of violating securities laws or exchange regulations but raised questions about his personal business contacts. The exchange said Mr. Bradt was succeeded by the vice chairman.

The exchange said Mr. Bradt was succeeded by the vice chairman. Zoltan Guttman. The Nymex is the third largest U.S. futures exchange and the dominant market for crude oil futures trading. The CFTC report criticized Mr. Bradt for carrying on negotiations about creating a new business partnership with Kevin Conway, former Nymex vice president for compliance.

Mr. Conway, who was dismissed in January after an internal inquiry by exchange lawyers, was responsible for the Nymex's surveillance and resulatory compliance activities and was required surveillance and regulatory compliance activities and was required to maintain an arm's-length relationship with members of the

Mr. Bradt, an independent oil trader, was elected to a two-year term as chairman in March 1987 after serving three years as a board member. As is usual for exchange officials, most of whom are Nymex members, Mr. Bradt had maintained his business, WMB Associates, while serving on the board and as chairman.

Bank Corp. in London, "was in-The uncertainty about the dollar caused by Thursday's round of interest rate increases was amplified by strong comments from the Bundesbank president, Karl Otto Pohl. who criticized the dollar's recent appreciation.

Opinions over the dollar's shortterm direction remained divided Friday. Some analysts said it retained a long-term upward poten-tial. But others said the Bundesbank's determination to prevent a further devaluation of the mark had effectively declared a ceiling on the dollar. Many dealers foresee the dollar holding to a range of 1.8500 to 1.8800 DM in the short term. With U.S. interest rates expected to remain firm, dealers said the currency market may try to test Mr. Pohl's expression of displeasure with a stronger dollar. Dollar/yen rates are seen re-maining within a narrow range. Interest rate differentials suggest that the dollar will continue to have support against the Japanese cur-rency. Dealers predict that the dol-lar will hold between 132 and 135

The West Germans, in raising their discount rate Thursday from 3.0 to 3.50 percent, wanted to make Deutsche mark assets more attractive and stop a powerful rally of the Money has been attracted to the dollar this summer as U.S. interest rates moved higher to deal with inflation in the United States. But a strong dollar raises the costs of imports to Europe.

Enropean currency dealers said Friday that a cap appeared to have been put on the dollar for now.

(Continued from first finance page) Minister Gerhard Stoltenberg, West Germany has been criticized by the United States and its

Economics Minister Martin Bangemann and Karl Otto Pohl, president of the Bundesbank, were openly critical of what they viewed as the Reagan administration's ef-forts to "talk the dollar up."

But public criticism is a two-way street. Before the global stock collapse of October, when West German interest rate increases triggered a round of monetary ightening around the world, James A. Baker 3d, then the U.S. Treasury secretary, threatened to talk the dollar down if the Bundesbank persisted with such policies.

The collapse made it a moot point, as all major industrial nations slashed interest rates to ensure liquidity to the financial system. Economists are still arguing about whether closer economic cooperation could have prevented the collapse.

He also pointed out that West Germany has the highest real percapita income growth of any industrialized nation, averaging 8 percent over the past two years. European trading partners for Despite these positive factors, what they see as too sluggish ecothe foreign-exchange market has driven the mark lower and the dolnomic growth and an obsession with inflation. That argument typilar higher. West Germany is headfies the inherent conflicts between ing toward its second consecutive pursuing the goals of international record trade surplus and the U.S. cooperation — in this case reductrade deficit has begun to grow. ing imbalances in global trade -

"Growth was slow because we and those of a national nature, such were importing more," said Mias shoring up the beleaguered chacl Zapf, managing director of Matuschka Group's TRV venture capital division. "Now we're grow-The conflict and the sniping get under many Germans' skins, ining better because we're exporting more. But that's no good because it "The notion that West Germany threatens the global trade-balance is the slow man of Europe's economies is objectively false," Mr. Pöhl

Mr. Seidler said: "It is very diffisaid. "Over the past five or six cult for nations to take care of their years, our gross national product responsibilities in both the international areas.

COOPERATE: After Interest Rate Increases, the Economic Family Debate Is Renewed

The problem of inflation is dif- pean Community market planned ferent in the U.S. than it is here. interest rates that are economically bearable in the U.S. are not here and there is danger that the Bundesbank's move will give impeus toward further increases elsewhere. This could lead us into a situation similar to the pre-crash

Part of the problem in balancing international cooperation against national responsibility, economists said, is that politicians will readily agree at a summit meeting that strong economic medicine is needed to solve a particular problem. ical winds and change their minds. greater international cooperation.

Bilateral relations also can slow global cooperation. While West Germany and France have been working to more closely link their with an eye to the integrated Euro- become internationalist."

for 1992, there has been at least one bout of mudslinging between the Bundesbank and the French Finance Ministry over interest rates.

While both sides made it clear that they had coordinated the rate rises on Thursday, tensions remain in the neighborhood.

Like it or not, France's monetary policy and role in the European Monetary System remain subordi-nate to the Bundesbank's, because of the mark's role as the world's second leading reserve currency and because West Germany has Europe's largest economy. That Then they go home, judge the polit- may have led the French to seek

"The French may feel they are too much at the mercy of the Bundesbank," Mr. Zapf said. "They haven't been able to solve economic and military policies their bilateral problem, so they've

PORT: Rotterdam Fathoms New Technologies and the Growing Business of Distribution

(Continued from first finance page)

that this southernward movement will put Rotterdam on the periph-ery of Europe," Mr. Verboom said. "But Rotterdam can continue to compete with Mediterranean ports simply by doing things better, by offering shorter waiting times and better service." Mr. den Dunnen said Rotterdam had yet to feel any pinch from southern European competitors, citing the examples of customers in southern Germany who continue to choose Rotterdam over the Italian port of Genoa, which is nearer.

"Distance and speed are often less important factors than the certainty of arrival times and logishe said.

Rotterdam has developed two strategies to maintain its lead in Europe. Last year, it launched an electronic message network linking the port's customers to shipping lines, cargo agents and freight for-The move was made in response cluding Mr. Pöhl's.

to the use of similar systems by other ports and firms. Called the International Transport Information System, or IN-

TIS, it is designed to create a "pa-periess" transfer of documents and to allow exporters and importers to keep track of cargo movements. A second project, the construc-tion of a distribution center, or

"distripark," in the neighboring town of Aibrandswaard, is expected to get started later this year despite objections from local residents.

"The definition of a harbor has changed," Mr. den Dunnen said.
"A harbor used to be defined strict-

Now, a harbor is just part of the long, logistical chain that links producers and consumers. What we want is to be the nerve center of that chain, because that's where the growth is." He said the transportation of goods had become an integral part of manufacturers' inventory control. To keep down costs, manufacturers seek to time carefully the arrival of their goods in the harbor to coincide with expected deliveries to customers. This would avoid the expense of storage. "It used to be the case that the barbor did not spring into action until a ship had actually arrived," sea, firms in the harbor can operate more efficiently and extend their

So far, about 50 firms have joined INTIS, from the Dutch electronics giant Philips and the Heine-ken breweries to the Netilloyd shipping lines and a number of Rotterdam stevedores and shipping agents. Eventually, the port's electronic mailbox aims to link up hundreds of exporters and shipping companies.

In its 1987 annual report, the Dutch national planning agency warned that the automated information systems of Hamburg, Bremen and Le Havre were further along than Rotterdam's. City and Similarly, in physical distribu-tion, the Belgian port of Antwerp, role over a longer segment of the logistical chain." with its strong links to the car and chemicals industries, is considered to be ahead of Rotterdam.

Antwerp has also made greater headway than Rotterdam in capturing another "value-added" harbor activity — the combining and repacking of "less than container loads" into full container loads. LCLs account for 20 percent of Antwerp's container trade, compared with just 10 percent for the Dutch port.

Although the largest Dutch transportation companies are already involved in distribution, the Albrandswaard distripark, with a planned annual capacity of 110,000 containers, would allow many port officials deny this, arguing that the agency's view has been overtaken by events.

more smaller firms to become active in distribution and other value-added services.

12 Month High Low	Stock	Div. YId. PE	Sis. 100s High Low	4 P.M. Ch'y

20 20 26 .16 .26 .18

CHICK

THE CONTROL

THE CONTROL 12 Month
High Low Stock Div. Yid. PE 100s High Low 4 P.M. Chige

学校 17年後 17年を 17年

he said. "By keeping track of goods electronically while they're still at 12 Month
High Low Stock Drv. Ykl, PE 1905 High Low 4 P.M. Crise High Low Stock Drv. Ykl, PE 1905 High Low 4 P.M. Crise

ACROSS

1 Contained

5 Summon

9 Flicka's

13 Mount

lootstep

Greek

monastic

19 Melville novel

set in Tahiti

"Little lodine"

district

20 Creator of relative dramatist

28 Cato's "to be

22 Rumba

24 Director-

29 Osprev's

30 Azimuth

31 Bernard

32 "Call Me

Madam'

prototype

34 Home-school

36 Epicedia, e.g.

38 Rival of 87

Across

40 Teredo

producis 43 Collar

46 "The - film

47 Stomata

48 Actor-hero

Murphy

orgs.
35 Francis, for

Haar, Dutch

18 Heathen

ACROSS ACROSS Trace the Transitions By T. W. Underhill 96 Former N.Y.C. 50 Author-clergy mayor 98 Presidenter man 56 Granny Smith, tamer 57 "— Bitsy 102 Rehan and Huxtable Spider," children's song 103 On the ball 104 Adores, with 58 New Zealand 105 W.W. II scene beetle grubs 59 System of action practiced by Jackson 106 King, in Castilla 107 Fuses 60 Huff 108 Gods for Galba 61 Fable, e.g 109 Tenuous 63 Mindanao 113 Actress Louise municipality 64 Pilaster 114 Stens and 65 Mark Antony's Brens 115 Author bodyguard Bagnold 67 Decline 116 Diminutive 69 Certain berths suffix 72 Expert 117 Calcined 73 Australian 120 Society-page American singers word 123 Actress 80 Essay O'Conno 81 Oise cathedral 124 Where Farsi is 10WI spoken 82 Lothian slope 125 Acior Pickens 83 Market town of 126 Bridge Normandy champrima 84 Sculptor donna 131 Macadamized 86 Metal 132 Stendhal containers protagonist 133 A son of Adam 87 Radamės's beloved 89 "The 134 Cookie pan 135 Transmission Dance Kid' parts 136 Auction 90 Loath 92 East Coast fish 137 Affirmatives

DOWN 1 Horse-drawn vehicle

Brando's firsi

2 Goads 3 Hait 4 Genetic initials 5 Snakes often charmed 6 Last words

7 Body of 8 Birler's need 9 Silent-film star of "Forever Amber' 11 N.L. home-run champ: 1942 12 Scheme 13 Sigh in Stuttgart 14 Schoot compositions

TOLSTOY

TOLSTOY:

10110.

DOWN 15 Cods' retatives 16 Baron of "Der Rosenkava delicacy naturalist

94 West Coast

17 Jigger 18 Buonarroi masterpiece 21 Undivided 23 Hawaiian beverage 25 Where abounds 26 French operatic barnone: 1848-

27 Author of "Halter's Castle' 34 Factory

By A. N. Wilson. 572 pages. $25. W. W. Norton

& Co., 500 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

The Ultimate Reconciliation

By Martine de Courcel. 458 pages. $27.50.

Charles Scribner's Sons/Macmillan, 866

ONCE for all I must accustom myself to the idea that I am an exceptional being, one who is ahead of his period, and who is by temperament absurd, unsociable and always dissatisfied," wrote

Third Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10022.

Reviewed by Michiko Kakutani

DOWN 35 Vicious eel 37 Musicologist

39 Nobelist von

138 Cry said with a

Behring: 1900 — Τοwπ,'' 1938 Rooney 41 Nobel Peace Prize winner:

42 Japanese veggies 43 Kind of ball

Johns 45 Bistros 47 Exclusive

1984

44 Journalls: St.

68 "...rights 70 Kid

DOWN

of Doc

85 SAC com-

88 Let up

mander: 1948-

71 Difficulties 48 Hitchcock's "To Catch 72 Describing some cheese 49 Seedy blueberries 74 Salad green 75 Tangle; snare 50 Jacket part 51 "Rienzi" or 76 Where the Lomami flows

'Jenufa' 77 Essential oil 52 Author 78 Vicuña's rela-53 Where to see 79 A companion 'The Last Supper" 84 Dodge

DOWN

54 Go beyond 55 Rapidly 62 Not at home 63 Panel drvider 66 Lampoons

90 Slightly open — I saw 91 TV's Barnaby

O New York Times, edited by Eugene Maleska. DOWN

DOWN

92 Scram! 111 Omits 93 Judges' suites: 112 Absolve Abbr. 113 Word with cotta or firma 115 Muse or Dryad

94 Apportions 95 Shoshoneans 117 Statute 97 "Psychic War-118 Pile fare..." au-119 Lagomorph 121 Inquiring in-lerjections

99 Prussian cavalrymen 100 Mailer or Lear 101 Civet, e.g. 107 Bette from Palerson, N.J.

108 Greek wreath 127 Ames and Beg-109 Scythe shafts 110 "David and 128 Pay diri 129 Uraeus 130 Youth org.

122 Selves

124 Journey, for

Juvenal

125 Comedian

Mort

BOOKS

Leo Tolstoy. "I have oever met a single man who was morally as good as I am, who has always in every situation been drawn, as I have been, to the good. Who, like me, is always ready to sacrifice everything for this ideal. It is on this account that I find no society in which I feel at home."

Tolstoy was not only a monumental egotist, but in the words be once used to describe his rival Dostoyevski, be was also "a man who was all struggle": a womanizer and gambler who later preached a doctrine of chastity and renunciation; a member of Russia's doomed aristocracy who envied the peasants' uncomplicated faith; a great writer who consigned his masterworks "to the category of bad art"; a prophet of brotherly love who coded his days in an atmosphere of recrimination, dying in a Solution to Last Week's Puzzle

EIRE DIGITIS HOTTEN HAT IT

railroad stationmuster's bouse as he attempted to flee his family and home.

Tolstoy's contradictions, like the facts of his life, are well known — thanks, in oo small measure, to his compulsion for chronicling his daily existence in diaries and letters, a compulsion apparently shared by his wife and children, who also kept copious notes on life with the master. In addition, we have had multiple studies of Tolstoy, most notably his secretary Aylmer Maude's lengthy reminiscences, Isaiah Berlin's famous essay "The Hedgehog and the Fox," John Bayley's critical assessment of his oovels and Henri Troyat's magisterial biography, published in 1967.

In terms of information, then, neither of these two latest volumes offers much that is really new; instead, they attempt to orchestrate familiar material to support their authors' interpretations. Martine de Courcel, on her part, tries to give a Freudian reading to Toistoy's life. She emphasizes the emotional consequences of the early death of his mother and she contends that by internalizing the roles of his parents, he developed "a sort of super-superego" unts for his fierce moralistic fervor. These arguments read like the sentimental elfusions of a biographer reluctant to accept the unhappy ending

A. N. Wilson's book, in cootrast, stands as a model of the biographer's art: intelligent and opin-ionated, yet judicious — and, what's more, deliciously readable. In fact, Wilson, who has written 10 novels, narrates the story of Tolstoy's life with the same aplomb that distinguishes his fiction. Like an old-fashiooed omniscient oarrator, he moves fluently from ooe point of view to another, occasionally pausing to comment oo characters' foibles and their fates.

Michiko Kakutani is on the staff of The New York

PEANUTS

BLONDIE

GUESS WHAT, CHUCK! WE WERE LOST IN THE WOODS ..

IT WAS SO DARK WE COULDN'T SEE A THING!

HOW WAS YOUR IT WAS A DINNER LAST DISASTER! WHAT WAS THE PROBLEM ?

SEE YOU IN THE WINTERGREEN?

DARK CHARLES

* "

Distance

OF DOLENG FOR

The Book

Rahe Bott

NINE COLUMN COLU

hear is made to man a

MARK THE THE THE Mountain Promise

after a pitter days the same and Althorney Edward Co.

animal account of the contract of and field every fire and field every fire and the contract of the contract o promises to the same of the sa hem minutes and the second of the second of reducine are with there will be a second adifical to and and the second seco

on projudice toward to the toward

The was accommission of the Rich

VANTAGE POI

NEW YORK - The Bong Set-

mis he is continued.

recent reisers

Monday, he waster to the un

The Boss - Standard Test

Springstern to 20 ...

lusion — the: Wall

he did not understand his limed hance. Then Manua pay.

was planning print.

fall from grace and in place. and why the harry harry - over the disgranted To the second 5.25 that they should be titled after-tled After In her are the control of the

as bell not maken; realized of dollars a year planting 2 parties On Sunday Maying 1, extend himself of semanary the said had been in the come fair players feel they reserve the Croix de Guerra

Boss gives the there's no reand carping and lower in the lames moaning makes they have been been the brain that prints and forced Franciparcavel a de memodimands of material and and an area

able antagents to the tage pop fly. Since he we proving his operatives a landsome select. That is the incident

The places, measurable, pre-less that they find a cifficult to perform under such demands.

SCOREBOARE

Major League Statisticat Le

The Boss is a second

0000 of तम्बीरस्थ

bis instinct.

Matungly community and the

WE FOUND OUR WAY HOME BY

AND MAKING SPARKS! PRETTY

YOUR STUPID DOG HOME ..

CHOMPING WINTERGREEN CANDY

CLEVER, HUH? ALSO, WE BROUGHT

GARFIELD CALL THE POLICE! JIM PAVTS 8-27

Canadian stocks via AP

DENNIS THE MENACE 'She makes you glad you're a boy,huh, Joey?

Herald Eribune

Reaching More Than a Third of a Million Readers in 164 Countries Around the World.

Via Agence France Presse Closing prices in local currencies, Aug. 26

Composite Stock lodex : 1753 Previous : 1762 Hom

154/2 154/2 154/2 154/2 1131 141/2 154

Componition
Compon

Aug. 26

INTERNATIONAL

IN THE IHT EVERY TUESDAY. A COLUMN ON NON-US STOCK MARKETS, ESSENTIAL READING FOR INVESTORS AND PROFESSIONALS WORLDWIDE

STOCK MARKETS

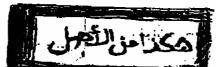

وكذا من الأجل

handay's Line Scores

later league standings

计区域的过程

ではなない。

SPORTS

A Distance Runner's Marathon of Disputes

By Jill Jolliffe New York Times Service
FOZ DO DOURO, Portugal — Portugal's leading athlete, Rosa Mota, who won the marathon at the world championships last year and the Boston Marathon carlier this year, is in peak form to win a gold medal at the Olympic Games

Mota's biggest hundle may not be her opposition in Seoul, but the be nex opposition in severe stress and disruption in training caused by a clash with Poringuese officials.

Mota has faced the possibility of exclusion from Portugal's Olympic team after a bitter dispute with the Portuguese Athletics Federation, the national governing body for track and field, over her competition schedule.

The dispute became so heated that President Mario Soares of Portugal promised to intervene on the runner's behalf if her troubles con-

Mota has faced problems since she began running at age 14, but in those days they were more straightforward. There was an economic struggle, with occasions when it was difficult to get the money for a running suit or track shoes. And there were problems stemming from prejudice toward female run-

This was accentuated here in Ro-

NEW YORK — The Boss admits he is confused. In his most recent missive, circulated on Monday, he wasted no time in confessing it. He began, "The Boss is really confused."

The Boss — Steinbrenner, not Springsteen, to avoid further confusion — then went on to say that he did not understand why one of his hired hands, Don Mattingly, was blaming him for the Yankees fall from grace and first place, and wby the hired hands were so disgruntled. The implication was that they should be rather gruntled. After all, he wrote, "I'm sure as hell not making millions of

On Sunday, Mattingly divested dollars a year playing a game."

himself of something that, he said, had been on his chest for some time, and it was not a medal, although a lot of the Yankee players feel they deserve the Mattingly complained that the Boss gives the laborers no respect, and his constant barping and carping and complaining and mouning makes their teeth hurt.

Frend perceived as the irremediable antagonism between the demands of instinct and the restric-

The Boss is a fellow who can tions of civilization.

BASEBALL

Croix de Guerre.

in the hat.

VANTAGE POINT/Ira Berkow

man Catholic northern Portugal. at in the women's marathon in Sports journals urged that she be Unmarried women usually were Seoul and that she would be train-Mota first began running in the her races. streets of Porto, she faced jeers place was at home doing the house-

Today, no one would dream of saying such a thing to the champion, who is a folk hero to the average Portuguese. But now she has problems of a different order.

Since she became established as a national figure, Mota, 30, has become known for her clashes with officials. She is not a temperamental personality; she is modest and level-headed. The conflict is essentially one between a modern athlete geared to international competition and the more provincial outlook of local officials.

The contention stretches back to the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics when her trainer, Dr. Jose Pedroso, who also is her companion, decided she should move out of the Olympic Village in the interests of better training conditions. Portuguese au-thorities accused her of behaving like a prima doma. Her response was to bring home a bronze medal.

Now, as before, her conflict centers on her preparation for the Olympics. Last year, Mota made it known that all her efforts would be geared toward winning a gold medchaperoned everywhere, and when ing to a strict discipline, choosing

As a member of the federation from men who told her that her she was obliged to represent Portugal in a certain number of international races. When the federation demanded that she run in the Monte Carlo road race in November, she refused.

She did so on the grounds that the race would interfere with her program, and that the Monte Carlo course would aggravate the chronic inflammation she suffers in both Achilles' tendons.

The federation insisted; Mota refused and was suspended for four months. She also was served with a humiliating letter of reprimand. Carlos Gaspar Santos, a lederation official, upheld the federation's position

"An athlete can't pick and choose," he said. "In any country an athlete has to represent the nation when called to do so." The dispute that followed was rancorous. It was insimuated that she ran only in races with high cash dividends, that she is afraid of competition, and even that she is a Communist (she says she is a moderate Socialist verging on apoliti-cal). Her relationship with Pedroso, which she had never kept secret, also was raised.

arose that she would be excluded from the Olympic team. And Soares said he personally would intervene if the federation persisted in this vein. When the suspension ended, Mota refused to rejoin the federation. But she has maintained good relations with the Portuguese Olympic Committee, whose offi-cials have assured her of a place on

When Mota enters the living room of her sunlit apartment at Foz, on the outskirts of the northern capital of Porto, she looks like a tiny stick figure. Her weight is down to 99 pounds (44 kilograms) and she stands 5 feet 1% inches (1

At the height of the dispute it was suggested that she might be forced to seek another flag for the Olympic competition, but she has never seriously considered that. She says she runs for two motives: for Portugal and because she derives pleasure from running.

She trains for much of the year in Boulder, Colorado, which is one of her favorite training sites, and she speaks movingly of the sense of fellowship among athletes of all nationalities she found there. The conflict has left a strong mark. "This, an Olympic year, any walk of life. My father was a know that if there was a boss on him all the time, it would affect

In another part of the clubhouse, it was mentioned to Jack

Clark that some people -- some fans, possibly even some owners

-believe that if a baseball player makes a million dollars, give or take several hundred thousand dollars, he should be different from other people.

"Oh, yeah?" said Clark. He grabbed a bat, and continued:

The problem is that we're all individuals, we all respond differently crying in front of his locker."

the quality of effort."

ailman in Evansville, and I

Rosa Mota's biggest hurdle may not be her opponents in Seoul.

should have been tranquil for me," for Seoul. But she does not undershe said. "Instead, I've been under enormous psychological pressure and wasted much time traveling to meetings in Lisbon with officials."

estimate her competition. She says her main rivals are Lisa Martin of Australia, Grete Waitz of Norway, Katrin Doerre of East Germany, Desnite the intense pressure, she Zova Ivanova of the Soviet Union is confident of being in top form and Zhao Youfeng of China.

double to pace the Brewers.

Aguayo's second-inning single.

Reggie a Yankee Again?

Rookie Lifts Reds Over Cardinals, 4-1

"He gave us a big lift," said Pete over 500 for the first time this season and closed within 21/2 games of second-place San Francisco and Houston, and seven games of firstplace Los Angeles in the National tion earlier Thursday. "Yes, I'm a little surprised at doing so well. I go Goodstein said Jackson works out four hours a day and is in excellent physical condition, but he acknowledged that the former star has not swung a bat recently. "I talked to him about the possimutual admiration and respect."

bility of going to Columbus," the lawyer said, referring to the Yankees' minor league team, "and he said he would go." Jackson, 42, retired at the end of last season after a 21-year career.

He played for the Yankees for five years, from 1977 through 1981.

Goodstein said the idea of a return for the final month came up last Saturday night while he was having dinner with Jackson. Goodstein has done legal work for Jackson in the past, and Jackson was in New York for a baseball-card col-

"Reggie is anxious to do anything be can to help bring a pennent to the Yankees," Goodstein said. "He understands he might have a very limited playing role, but he might be able to help build a 563 home runs, Jackson played in 11 league championship series with Oakland, the Yankees and California, and five World Series with Oakland and the Yankees. He gained the mickname of Mr. October for his production in the World Series, in which he hit .357 and had 10 home runs, including three in one game in 1977.

During his career, in which he hit

Talks Fail, Dashing Seoul's Hopes for North to Join Games

By Peter Maass

Washington Past Service SEOUL — North Korea and South Korea failed Friday in a fourth round of talks to narrow their differences over the Seoul Olympics and a South Korean official said that there now was "no hope" of persuading the Commu-nist North to participate in the Games next month.

The two sides unexpectedly agreed, however, to resume the talks after the Games are over in

Postponement of the talks until after the Olympics means that North Korea, which had sought to be a co-host, appears certain to carry out its planned boycott of the

After the three-hour negotiations at the Panmuniom truce village, the chief South Korean negotiator, Park Joon Kyn, said he was not optimistic abont winning the North's participation in the Games, which begin Sept. 17 and end Oct. 2.

The lack of an accord on the Olympics was expected. But most diplomats and observers believed that the talks, which began a week ago in the first North-South contacts since 1985, would break up amid verbal hostilities. Therefore, the cordial decision to continue the contacts came as a surprise and raises cautious hopes for improved relations between the two Koreas.

whether the traces of cross-border presuge.

cooperation are genuine or whether each side agreed to the continuation out of a fear of being blamed for scotching the stalled talks. It also is unclear whether South Korea now has less reason to fear that North Korea might try to disrupt the Games through terrorism.

The North's decision to continue the discussions may indicate a desire to begin solving the problems that have marked the rivalry between the two sides.

Organizing terrorist attacks, hich the North has been accuse of doing in past years, obviously would undermine any warming trend. But the Western diplomat, who represents a country hostile to North Korea, warned that the threat of terrorism has not diminished as a result of the talks.

The session Friday between the five-member delegations of lawmakers from the rival Korean parliaments again focused on the is-sues that had hampered the previous sessions: the Olympics and a nonaggression pact.

North Korea again argued for bolding a meeting this month of all members of the two parliaments to resolve the Olympic and nonaggression issues. South Korea again called for a small-scale meeting of no more than 30 legislators from each side to focus only on the Olympics. The South's main priority in the talks was to gain North Korean participation in the Olympics. It remains unclear, however, enormous amount of international KIWIS SEND A MESSAGE — New Zealand, the America's Cup challenger, bearing an anti-smoking message in San Diego Bay, in what was seen as an insult to Stars & Stripes, the cup defender, whose major sponsors include Philip Morris Inc., a tobacco company. After being removed from a benefit regatta because of the sail, the boat was invited back Thursday by the regatta's beneficiary — the American Cancer Society.

SIDELINES

Green Drops Charges Against Tyson

NEW YORK (NYT) — Mitch Green, the fighter who said he was punched by Mike Tyson in a street fight early Tuesday in Harlem, has withdrawn assault charges against the heavyweight boxing champion.

"He walked into the 25th Precinct at about 4:50 and without any explanation dropped the charges," a police spokesman said Thursday. Lawyers for both fighters had discussed the possibility of Green's fighting

Tyson in a prize ring in the future if the simple-assault charges were dropped. While no arrangement was made, Tyson had said Wednesday that if Green were to win a few matches and obtain a world ranking, he would be willing to fight him.

2 Plead Not Guilty in U.S. Fraud Case

NEW YORK (NYT) — Norby Walters and Lloyd Bloom, the two gents accused of racketeering, mail fraud and extortion in connection with their contracts with college athletes, have pleaded not guilty at their arraignment in federal district court in Chicago.

Their attorneys said they would mount a vigorous defense challenging the government's theory of fraud in the case. Walters and Bloom were released Thursday on their own recognizance by Judge George Marovich, who set Feb. 27 as the trial date.

plete game of the season and he has CINCINNATI - A 24-year-old 109 strikeouts in 1271 innings. He right-hander making his major-league debut Thursday night lifted improved to 4-0 in his last six the Cincinnati Reds to the high Starts. Brewers 4, Yankees 1: In the only American League game, in Milwankee, Ted Higuera threw a point of their season.

Rose, the Reds manager, after Keith Brown limited the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits and one run over seven innings for a 4-1 victory. "He was in and out, up and down, and had good off-speed stuff." Cincinnati moved four games

"I was throwing pretty well, get-ting my off-speed pitches over," said Brown, who was recalled from Nashville of the American Associa-

Brown struck out three and player for the final month of the walked two, and gave up a sixthning homer to Willie McGee. ported from New York.

Defense helped Brown out of a first-inning problem. McGec and Pedro Guerrero singled, but Kal Daniels threw out Guerrero at second. After walking Tom Brun-ansky, Brown induced a pop up from Terry Pendleton and retired the next 10 straight.

Cubs 6, Braves 1: In Atlanta, Rype Sandberg homered to lead

stars, not guys like Carlton Fisk

George Steinbrenner, who blows his stack at drop of a pop fly. of defusing his confusion.

machines.

TRANSITION

BASEBALL
Notional League
CINCINNATI—Sent Tim Birtisus
Nasirville of the American Associ estivitie of the American Association. Ac-ted Keith Brewn, pitcher. Moved Ron linson, pitcher, from the 15-day to the XIlisabled list, Announced that Jose Rife, er, will not be placed on the disabled list as the club had announced.
SAN FRANCISCO—Annou Brantiev, pitcher, will not be

BASKETBALL

National Basketball Association NEW JERSEY—Signed Chris Morris, for FOOTBALL

Casasian Football League
BRITISH COLUMBIA—Added Lui Passoilo, kicker, to the roster.
SASKATCHEWAN—Activated James
Hood, wide receiver, from the practice roster.
Retagged Tian Kearse, wide receiver, and added him to the practice rester.

TORONTO—Added Ryon Henson, running

bock, and Eric Hoskins, wide receiver, to the bock, and array restart.

WINNIPEG—Reactivate Rad Calloway.

Unsbacker, and Roy Hurd, wide receiver, from the reserve list. Transferred Walter

Bender, running back, and James Murphy. MATIONAL LEAGUR G AB R N D 185 410 54 133 Atl 107 423 50 134 lender, running back, and James ride receiver, to the reserve list.

Noticed Football Lague
DALLAS—Agreed to terms with Gorry

Ray Brown, wide receiver, KANSAS CITY—Claimed Adom Lin center, from walvers. Released Ray Brock L.A. RAMS-Placed Thomas Henley, wide receiver, on the injured reserve list, N.Y. JETS—Wolved Richle Patition, line backer. Signed Sleve Hammond, linebacker. SAN FRANCISCO-Wolved Dokle Wi

National Hockey League
DETROIT—Signed Shawn Burr, center, to a two-year contract. LOSANOELES—Signed Dave Taylor, righ

FOOTBALL

4 8 130 197 5 0 115 302 3 0 196 152 5 0 169 152 Thorsday's Result umble 25, Edmonton 10 NFL Exhibition Results

INDIANA 5T.—Named John Gartland women's cross country and track and field coach and John McNichola coordinater for men's and women's track and field aronams. ITHACA—Named Shelio Deam women's track coach and Deb Pallazzi women's softball coach and assistant women's track and assistant women's voteball coach and assistant women's voteball coach. word. Is ocademically ineligible.

TENNIS U.S. Open Draw

er at New York:

nounced that David Miles, basketball for

Ivon Lendi (1). Cachoslovakio, vs. Amos Monsdorf, Israel: Anders Jarryd (15), Swe-den, vs. Jookilm Nystrom, Sweden; Tim Mayothe (9), U.S., vs. Jim Pugh, U.S.; Yonnick Noch (7), France, vs. audifier; Andre Agessi (4), U.S. vs. quolifier; Jones Swensson (13), Sweden, vs. Todd Witsken, U.S.; Guillermo Perez-Raldon (12), Argentino, vs. Ken Flach, U.S.; Simon Compect (6), U.S., Algentin, Perez-Roidon (12), Argentino, vs. Ken Floch, U.S.; Jimmy Conners (6), U.S., vs. Augustin

Boris Becker (5), West Germany, vs. Todd Nelson, U.S.; Brad Gilbert (11), U.S., vs. Millan Sreiber, Czechoslovakia; Andres Gomez II Ecuador, vs. Javier Sanchez, Spain; Sier Cooking 187, American (18), Czechoslovakia, vs. Tamas Smit, Czechoslovakia: Henri Leconie (101, France, vs. Javier Franc, Argentina; John McEarce (16), U.S., vs. qualifier; Mais Wilander (2), L YL Gree Holmes.U.S.

Aunter, Australia; Svivia Hanika (15), West Germany, vs. Sara Gomer, Oreat Britain; Ka-terina Malaeva (14), Bulgaria, vs. Estuka inaua, Japon; Helena Sukova (7), Czechoslavo-kla, vs. Lisa Bonder-Kreiss, U.S.; Chris Evert que. Japon; Helana Sukova (7), Licurassuskio, vs. Lisa Bonder-Kreiss, U.S.; Chris Evert
(3), U.S. vs. Conchita Martinez, Spain; Lori
McNell (9), U.S. vs. Iva Budorova, Caschoelovalka; Berbera Potter (12), U.S. vs. Withrud
Probst, Wast Germany; Manuela Malseva
(a), Bulsoria, vs. Miese Dias, Brazil.
Gobriela Sobotina (3), Arsentina, vs. Bettina Fulco, Arsentina; Claudia Konde-Klisch
(10), West Germany, vs. Anseith; Kanellapoulou, Greecs; Larisa Savchenko (14), Soviel
Union, vs. Laura Galarisa, Itoly; Pam Shriver
(4), U.S. vs. Anne Smith, U.S.; Natrolia Zvereva (6), Soviet Union, vs. qualitier; Zina Garrison (11), U.S. vs. Nicole Provis, Austrolia; Mary Jos Fernandez (13), U.S.vs. Shoun Stafford, U.S.; Martina Navrolliava (2), U.S. vs.
Cotarina Lindavist, Sweden,

TOURNAMENT RESULTS

WOMEN
(At Motival, New Jersey)
Sinetes Quarterlines
Steffi Grat (1), West Germany, def. Sylvia.

You have a date with Longines Precision LONGINES official Timekeeper formula formed Private and of the Fernal tacing tells Conquest VHP Lingues 111.
Longines Conquest VHP (for Very High Precision), world's most automated wrist watch in titanium and gold. Water resistant to 30 metres. To the second time zone adjustment. EOL (end of battery like) unswinn Sannharp aluss. Grand Prix of Belgium, Spa

TRIPLES: Revisions Segme, 10: Yourn-Milmoulea. 10; Wilson, Konaes Cify, 9: DwE-vans, Baston, 6; Gagne, Minnesoto, 6; Green-well, Boston, 6; Mansique, Chicago, 6. HOME: RUNS: Conseco, Oakland, 33; McGriff, Taronto, 30; Gootil, Minnesoto, 26; McGriffe, Ookland, 25; Hrbek, Minnesoto, 24; STOLEN BASES: RHenderson, New York, 73; Mailtor, Milwoukes, 99; Petits, Detroit, 34; Consec, Oakland, 31; Revisids, Seattle, 28, PTTCHING (12 decisions) Won-Lost/Winning Pct/ERA: Violo, Min-esota, 19-5, 792, 235; Hurst, Boston, 15-4, 789, LO9; GDovis, Cokland, 12-4, 750, 3.72; Robins Thursday's Line Scores son, Detroit, 13-6. 484, 298; Gubiczo, Konson City, 15-7, 482, 278. STRIKEOUTS: Clemens. Boston, 24t; Long-ston, Secttle, 185: Higuero. Altwaylee, 155; Viola, Minnesoto, 152; AMboors. Sectite, 144.

Chicaso 997 139 190-4 12 6 Attento 990 418 990-7 8 3 Schirotdi and Davis, Jimenz, Pulso (6). Asichirotidi and Davis. Jimenez, Puiso (6), A3- GPerry Atl macher (7) and Virgil. W— Schrotidi, 64. Dowson Chi Jimenez, 1-5. HR—Chicoso, Sanderer (13), Gibson LA sels 1802—4 5 8 Galarropa Mon thews, Castello (5), Quisenberry (8) and Low Chi , Pognozzi (5), Loite (9); Brown, Franco -Franco (27). HR-St. Louis, McGee (3).

Major League Standings

cuskee, Deer (17).

Chicago, 149; McGes, St. Lasts, 148; San. Los Angeles, 148; Dowson, Chicago, 147. DOUBLES: Galarraga, Montreol, 37; Saba, Cincinnati, 36; Breant, Phisburgh, 30; Pal-meira, Chicasa, 30; Diffurphy, Atlanta, 29. TRIPLES: VanSiyke, Pittsburgh, 15; Cale-man, 5t. Lovis, 16; Gant, Atlanta, 8; S are field HOME RUNS: Strumberry, New York, 38; Clark, San Francisco, 25; GDavis, Houston, 571

516 13 ,896 1595 ,456 2012 ,431 2314 ,398 28 25; Galorrago, Mantreol, 24; Ebovis, Cincin-noli, 23; Gibson, Los Argeles, 23. STOLEN BASES: Coleman, St. Louis, 63; Gyoong, Houston, 51; OSmith, St. Louis, 45; McGea, St. Louis, 37; Sabo, Cincinnett, 34. PITCHING (12 accision)
Weet-Lost/Whaths PcL/ERA: Cone. New York, 13-1, 213, 2.17; D.Jackson, Cincinneth, 18-5, 783, 2.0; Perrett, Mantreat, 19-1, 769, 2.44;
Browning, Cincinnol., 13-4, 765, 3.46; Scott.
Houston, 13-4, 765, 2.54.

bursh. 24; Worrelt, St. Louis, 24; Bedroston, Philadelphia, 22; DSmith, Heuston, 22; McDo-Son Francisc

It also creates a weariness in brain that perhaps is manifested

woukes, 133; Franco, Claveland, 133, DOUBLES: Brell, Konsos City, 36; Booss, Baston, 35; Greanwell, Baston, 34; Burks, Bas-ton, 32; Puckett, Minnesoto, 32; Ray, Califor-

TRIPLES: Reynolds, Seattle, 10: Yount,

109 423 50 134 222 123 475 45 147 309 123 485 92 139 305 124 486 78 151 304 118 446 55 151 304 118 246 55 148 252 125 496 85 148 252 121 453 84 132 251

RUNS: Butler, Son Francisco, 94; Gibson, Los America. 92; Vanstyke, Philippurph. 85; Bonds, Pittsburgh. 84; Clark, Son Francisco, 82.

RB(s: Clark, Son Froncisco, 91; GDavis.

HITS: Galarraga, Montreal, 151; Pal

PITCHING (12 decisions)

STRIKEOUTS: Ryon, Houston, 185; Scott,

Houston, 159; DeLeon, St. Louis, 158; Cons. New York, 153; Fernandez, New York, 153.

SAVES: Franco, Clocinnett, 27; Gott, Pitts

pop fly. Since he is paying his operatives a handsome salary, he expects virtual perfection. That is his instinct. The players, meanwhile, profess that they find it difficult to perform under such demands.

SCOREBOARD

Major League Statistical Leaders

blow his stack at the drop of a

said, after a contract dispute, that "He is no longer Jack Armstrong, All-American Boy," and that, after hitting home runs in a record-

finest players and gentlemen -Steinbrenner over the years has tying eight straight games, he was "selfish" in going for home runs, and, during the recent All-Star break, that Mattingly was "the least productive 300 hitter in

This they see as the reality of ed because he is not only having a civilization. Thus, if we read the disappointing season - for Mattingly, hat excellent by most standoctor correctly, we have here the dards - but before the season quintessential exemplification of irremediable antagonism. had "guaranteed" a pennant for the Yankees.

Defusing a Boss's Admitted Confusion

As for Mattingly - generally believed to be one of baseball's that workers on garbage trucks or behind typewriters or on assembly lines function better to the stimulus of the carrot than to that

Now the Boss inserts a prickly

Maybe the Boss is right. Maybe he should whip his charges when they stumble in the field, regardless of the hest radiated from above. But studies have shown

But does it apply to a baseball player, well heeled or otherwise?

"Basically," Mattingly said barb that Mattingly was frustrat- Tuesday night in the Yankee managerial career.

and Greg Luziuski." he said. "Then one day, one of my coaches came to me. He said that one of my stars had said to him,

'Skipper doesn't have confidence in us.' I realized, 'My God, they're just people.'"

A shocking discovery, but for one boss at least, it had the effect

Then he recalled "one of the nost important lessons" he learned on that subject. It was with the White Sox, early in his "I had thought that only the players with lesser ability needed a pat on the back, and not the

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

to things. Some guys are thick-skinned and can take a lot. But I remember seeing someone like Mike Ivie, a really talented player, League West. In the Oakland dugout, the manager, Tony LaRussa, rubbed his chin ruminatively and said, Baseball players are men, not for ground balls, not a lot of strike-

Calvin Schiraldi struck out a ca-reer-high 12 m an eight-hitter and

Echoes of the Civil War

By Michael Kernan Washington Post Service

THEY came on in long blue lines through Roulette's lumpy pasture that September morning. and in the hush that fell over the entire battlefield the only sounds, were the clear, sharp voices of their officers "Fix bayonets!" - and over the hill the North Carolinians hunkering in the sunken road waited till they could see the Yankees' cartridge belts, and the first volley cut down 150 of them in a long tangled row. The crest of the ridge was just over a hundred yards forward and uphill," writes Shelby Foote in his three-volume Civil War history, "so that the bluecoats could not see what they had to face until they were practically upon it, within easy musket range and outlined target-sharp against the eastern sky."

For three hours the battle of Antietam hung on what would he known as Bloody Lane, "a great whiripool, sucking more thousands into its vortex," as Stephen W. Sears puts it in "Landscape Turned Red," a definitive account of the hloodies1 day in American history.

This summer three Civil War fans from Ohio, digging in the farmlands around Bloody Lane, came upon parts of four skeletons that had been passed over when the battle dead were moved to a proper cemetery shortly after the war. The National Park Service and the Smithsonian Institution followed up with an extensive weeklong dig, the first such exploration at Antietam.

The finds will take months to sludy. Set out in an office in rows of little glassine envelopes — and had sunk down as the earth settled. Those graves were only one or two feet deep.

There is a boot still containing foot bones. There is the bowl of a ranks? A middle-aged volunteer? clay pipe. Bits of a rosary.
"Irishmen, Catholics," said Ows-

ley. "From New York."
"On the great field were riderless horses and scattering men," reported the New York Tribuoe, "clouds of dirt from solid shot and exploding shells, long dark lines of infantry swaying to and fro, with columns of smoke rising from their in the roster, get his name."

PERSONAL MESSAGES

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SHOES: Cornerse, Yare; T-Shirte Hanes 8 Fruit of the Loon; USA food products and soft thinks will be at the following locations in Europe during Sehm show-floated Int? Polos De Versalles, Parise September 2-7. Grand Head, Stockholm, Swedon; September 8-7. Inter-Continental Hotal, Helsind, Finland-September 10-11. Resea condoct. JERY BAKER in Europe, Ed Gorber Associates (Popper Management and agent for Americas leading bronds. Secondary merchandse resource, 110 E. 9th Smed, Str. BAZS, Los Angeles, CA 90079. Tel-

[213] 689-1467, Two: 9103212373 Coble: EIA COLSA, Fox: (213) 689-9170.

STRATION

The famous American Goff School is in Biorritz, France.

For free brochers Call: (1) 42.25.43.93 Mrite: 12 Ave Motignon PARS 75008, France.

PARIS 75008, France.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL OF PARIS, occudited US hospital, 24-hour emergency service, English spoken, Blue Cross, 45 specialises under one roof, 63 Bd Vector Huge, 27022 Neally sax Seine [10 min. Biotel, Tel. 47 47 53 00.

ALL SELL CUIT SHOWS. Phrathem of the Opero, Las Mis, Cets, Folies, Chess envilothe nowl fel London 379 4636 or 240 0818, All credit cards, in ZURICH exclusively of WENGERS : lecoling men's store—13, Bohnofstr, (1-211 27 50 VIDEO IN BNOUSH. Reels on Wheels on deliver you keps in Paris, Coll. 4542 5866 for information. And now in Lyan (16, 78 60 15 60.

PELING low? — harving problems? SOS HELP criss-sine in English, 3 p.m.—11 p.m. Tel- Paris 46 34 59 65 or floome 678 0530.

MICOMOLICS ANONYMOUS English specking meatings dolly. Tel. Paris 46 34 59 65 or floome 678 0530.

ALLIED

VAN LINES INTERNATIONAL

THANK YOU SACRED HEART and Saint Jude. S.G.S.

puffs from the batteries — with the sun shining brightly on all this scene of tumult.

General Thomas Meagher ordered his Irishmen to stop at the ridge, fire two volleys and charge

One after the other, eight color bearers dropped in succession. Boys, raise the colors and follow me!" shouted Meagher, but the charge melted, and the old hands from New York - with 60 percent casualties in a couple of minutes hit the ground to return the fire.

The Confederates lost nearly 2,600 men at Bloody Lane, a third of the rebel forces thrown into that struggle for the little road. The Yankees lost almost 3,000: men from New York, Maryland, Delaware, Connecticut, Fennsylvania and points west. For the whole day, which ended as did Bloody Lane in a stalemate, the cost came to 22,719

"We found one body with three Enfield bullets in it," said Owsley. To give you an idea what it must have been like up there."

In another place, 20 balls lay together, the standard supply of rounds in each Union knapsack: Someone never got to fire a shot, it

There are a lot of trouser buttons. There are brass buttons with the New York State Excelsior design, buttons with the federal eagle. There is a small oval medal to the Virgin Mary, all but rusted through, and a jackknife that apparently was worn in a breast pock-

Owsley examined a fragment of little glassine envelopes — and still coming in — they fascinate Douglas W. Owsley, physical anthropologist at the Smithsonian.

"The skulls and long booes were taken out when the bodies were removed," he said. "Out other parts in the war, it would have been unusual." Buried in a mass grave, be was likely oot an officer. What then, an unruly noncom busted back to private and put in the front Owsley can deduce diseases and accidents from old bones. He might be able to work up a medical history, bringing the man back, if not to life at least to buman ken, this forgotten old soldier, this stranger to our time.

"If he was with the Irish Brigade, we might even be able to find him

Kirk Douglas: Confronting His Anger

By Mervyn Rothstein

New York Times Service N EW YORK — Here he is, Kirk Doug-las, 71 years old now, his dimpled chin still very much intact, sitting in a friend's East Side apartment.

The star of "Champion," "Lust for Life," "Spartacus," "Lonely Are the Brave," "Paths of Glory" and many other films. The actor the French nicknamed la Brute Chèrie (the Darling Brute). The man who played a key role in breaking the Hollywood blacklist by putting Dalton Trumbo's name on the "Spartacus" script. The father of four successful sons, all financially secure, one a two-time Oscar

Now he is the author of a best-selling and critically praised antobiography, "The Ragman's Son," recently published by Simon & Schuster. Surely the model of establishment success.

"In a sense, I've always felt on the outside, looking in," Douglas says. "It's my background, damn it. My father was an illiterate Russian immigrant, a ragman, the lowest rung on the economic scale. There were six sisters and my mother; I was the only boy. To be a young Jewish boy in a town — Amsterdam, in upstate New York — that was quite anti-Semitic. Getting beaten up going to Hebrew school, after regular school, every day. Having to run the gamtlet every block.

"One day I came home with a bloody nose. My mother said, "Oh, God, what happened?" I said: 'Kids beat me. They said I killed Jesus Christ. I don't even know who he is.' Possibly being Jenish water. who he is. Possibly being Jewish makes you more lonely than other people. There's something inherent in the quality of this minority group that I think adds to the

His poverty-stricken childhood, his Jewishness and, above all, his anger: These are some of the themes that pervade the autobiography of a man whose original name was Issur Danielovitch, and who then became Izzy Demsky before he decided to become Kirk Douglas.

"I found that writing 'The Ragman's Son' was for me a voyage of discovery," Douglas says. "I was amazed at how many memories that I had suppressed deep down started to bubble up.

One thing, he says, is his anger. "I'm obviously a very angry person," he says.
"The first reaction my wife had when she read the manuscript was, 'I never realized how angry you are.' I guess it's because the real motivating feeling in my book is that f never got a pat on my back from my father. How important it was for me to get his approval, and he never, oever gave it to me.

My book deals with a lot of things, but possibly the most important is the relation-ship 1 had with my father versus the relationship I have with my four sons. I try to — whether I've done it successfully or not, I don't know, you have to ask them — I tried to correct certain things which I never had with my father. First of these is contact. My father was rarely around. I love being with them; they're all men now, so fascinating to be with. And I occasionally make sure I give them that thing that was important to me - that pat on the back."

in the book, Douglas is critical of a number of people with whom he had deal-ings of one kind or another. Those of whom he has not-so-nice things to say include Joan Crawford, Stanley Kubrick, Barbara Stanwyck and the writer Howard

He also uses a device in which his alter ego, Issur, speaks to him: "Why are you so hard on people?" Issur asks. "You say such awful things. Why?" In the book, Douglas replies: "Why? Because they are true." "But they happened years ago." Issur says. "Why are you so angry now?"

Asked that question the other day, Douglas replies: "I think I've changed slightly. I've tried. I know I'm not as angry a person now, but everything is relative. I still have anger in me. I think I'm loath to let it go because I think that anger was the fuel I used in accomplishing what I wanted to do; you see it in my films, you see it in imitations people do of me. It's an angry imitation - bare teeth and all."

He spent a long time writing the antobiography, he says. "I concentrated on it more or less for the last three years, but in a way I've been writing this for many years," Douglas says. "I have several hundred pages that I wrote in 1959, 1972, 1978. But it never felt right. It was only in the last four, five years I felt the time was right. First of all, I wouldn't have written this book if I had young kids. My kids are all men. They should be able to deal with what say, what I think I am."

Douglas says he is happy with the result. "I feel I want to be accurate to the facts, but I feel the facts are the least important elements," he says. "What I tried to do was write my perceptions, my feelings, how I felt at different times in my life." But, he adds, there is something in the book he wishes be had done differently. "I guess the one thing that I might change," he says, "would be to give more of an understanding of my father," who died in

AUTO SHIPPING

SAVE ON CAR SHIPTING, AMESCO, Kribbastruot 2, Antwerp, Belgiuor, Tol-from US, Africa 8, Aces via Antwe-legalor solling BO-RO vessels, US EPA POT conversion, free total, Tel 32.37(2) 429, 1c 71469, 1c 225 8553

AUTOS TAX FREE

TRANSCO

Fax: 01/202 76 30

"Because of my anger, I was too harsh on him," he says. "In calm reflection, I know that he couldn't help it. He did a terrific thing. He came all the way from Russia here. He was such a powerful man physically. He bterally could bite off a piece of glass and chew it up. He was like a movie figure. He once had a fight with seven men and subdued them all. He was always bigger than life. He had a problem trying to support such a big family. The pressure on him must have been enormous. How do you get rid of that pressure? You go to a saloon. You have a drink. Life was tough for him.
"I should have been more sympathetic, being a father myself. In the book, I tell of how I asked my son Michael, What kind of a father was I? And be said, 'Dad, you were so loony, you know, you were always wrapped up doing so many things, all this "And as he's saying this, I'm looking at him. And he was tense; he had so many things going. He surpassed me; he got Oscars for producing and for acting. And I said, "Sort of a little bit like you, right now?" Because in a way, it's like father, like

PEOPLE

A 'Likable Fragrance' For Bonn's Birthday

Ser Poure 15

legal Grou

"Eau de Bonn" has been selected polish Party as the perfume to help mark the city's 2,000th birthday next year. The vice president of the Bundestag, Annessarie Renger, was presented a miniature bottle of the perfume described as "a likable fragrance for a likable city."

Jean Guitton, 87, has accepted Hold Tall
we "Finegi-Meeting 1988" award, wich recognizes those who "dismish themselves in the medical particular and the medical particular areas and the medical particular and the "Finggi-Meeting 1988" award, which recognizes those who "dis-tinguish themselves in defending the cultural and religious values of man." The French philosopher has written works about the relationship between Catholicism and modern thought, and on the Second Vatican Council.

The Greek Orthodox Church will no longer seek a ban or legal action against Martin Scorsese's N "The Last Temptation of Christ": but said it will encourage a boycott. . . British film censors have rejected demands to ban the movie and said it can be shown without any cuts.

To kick off a weekend of Bernsteiniana at the Tanglewood Music Center in Massachusetts, the fam-ous turned out to honor Leonard Bernstein, who became 70 years old on Thursday. The chairmen for the pre-gala dinner were Ann Getty, Kitty Carlisle Hart and James Wolfensohn. The benefit committee in-cluded Michael S. Dukakis and his wife, Kitty, Amyas Ames, Schuyler Chapin, Mario M. Cuomo and his wife, Matilda, Edward M. Kennedy, Walter F. Mondale and his wife, Joan, Daniel Patrick Moynthan and his wife, Elizabeth, and Jacqueline. Kennedy Onassis, Elizabeth Taylor, and Malcohn Forbes were to make their entrance in Forbes's balloon,. but canceled. Another party honored Bernstein's 90-year-old moth-:

The European tour of the New. York City Gay Men's Chorus has scheduled performances in London on Aug. 28, Amsterdam on Aug. 31and Sept. 1, Cologne on Sept. 3 and 4, and Paris on Sept. 6 and 7. Under the direction of Gary Miller, the all-volunteer chorus will be raising money for gay and AIDSrelated organizations, including the Terrence Higgins Trust in London and the Pasteur Institute in Paris.

Attacks Aroun

broops near the training On Sanday, more and many months for some fire to the sound

Soviets Begin

EARN UNIVERSITY degrees utilizing work, life & panderaic experience. For evolution & information forward masses to Paolife Sorthern University, 9581 W. Fico Bhd., Dept. 121, Los Angeles, CA 90035 USA LAUREL BEAUTY ACADEMY of Cos-metology, minimal English, from ost-clog, 62/9 Louval Conyon Boulevard, North Holywood, CA 91606 USA, Tel-818-766-8127, INS opproved.

Page 6

FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

SHOPS LONDON PARIS MUNICH GENEVA HONG KONG TOKYO HAMBURG

The Daily Source for ATHENS EXCLUSIVE CLOTHES FOR MENIAND

REAL ESTATE

MONACO Principality of Monaco FOR THE SALE, PLANCHASE, RENTAL, MANAGEMENT or INSURANCE of REAL ESTATE PROPERTY

Prime Property in Switzenfend's Sunbells
LAKE LUGANO
Wolnfried property in the concrite oft village of Morcote 5 miles from Luguro, 9 houry operhends and 3 townhouses with posocranic view of loke and mountains. 2-5 rooms, fullyopplianced latchess, modern bethrooms, longe suny terraces, indoor parling,
headed swimming-pool anid subtropool,
headed swimming-pool anid subtropool
regestrian. Frinche berths, Price rouge from STR 480,000 - STR 940,000, Luguno Lusury apartments and positiouses in the city and of Monte Bre. Pancrome views. Indoor swimming pools, headed swimming pools respectively. Low down poyment. Attractive Swim mortgages.
Approved for seles to foreigners.
EMERALD HOME LITS,
VIA POCCOBELLI 25
CH-6815 MELIDE/ LUGANO
Tel: CH-91-686523
Fear: CH-91-687344

USA RESIDENTIAL

Fobulously located duples: aportaent 3 bekrooms, 2 ½ belies, ½ black fron cears, pool, 1900 sq. ft. ____$165,000 Controch 305-361-0044; 230 Sunrise Dr 11, Key Bircayne, FL 33149 USA.

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE AUSTRIA

GREAT BRITAIN

PRANCTURE DESECTION OF THE PROPERTY LANGUAGE DESECTION OF THE PROPERTY LANGUAGE DESECTION OF THE PROPERTY OF T SERVICEO APARTMENT CHELSEA
Well leasted, Restaurant, lote sight shopping, Formished studio. 8.1 bed, flots from £191/week, Ministes I monits, Letting office. Nell Gwynn
House, Score Ave, London SW3, 1etLetting office. Nell Gwynn House, Score Ave, London SW3, 1etLetting, Score Ave, London SW3, 1etWell lecated, Restaurant, lette night shopping, Furnished studio. 8.1 bed, flots from £190/week, Ministes I monifi. Letting office. Nell Gwynn House, Slooms Ave, London SW3, 1etLux Of 584 8317. The £16358 NG4D.
LONDON Lusury furnished oportments, fally serviced, choice of Mayfoir or ordiocent to Kennington Polace, £350 to £450 per week. Secretarial/kor/selex focilities. Ministen 3 secontin. Tel Ol 471 2636 Fox Ol 479 8894.

DUPLEX, 2-BEDROOM oportment 0101] 312 681-8100 CONTINEX. Small & medium moves, baggage, cars worldwide. Call Char-lie: Paris 42 81 18 81 (near Opera). REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES

FRIENDSHIPS

Sie haben Ansprüche? Claudia Püschel-Knies GmbH KOMPETENZ IN PARTNERVERMITTLUNG Seit über 15 Jahren, eingeführt in ersten Kreisen Mare information available in English at: D-Munich, tel. (0) 89/29 79 58, daily fr. 3 p.m. - 7 p.m., also weekends. Zentrale Deutschland in Frankfurt/ M. Tel. (0) 69/28 53 58, tagl. 15-19 Liter auch Sa/Sa

10.g. bildschon u. aus erstlichniger Unternehmerfamilie Rachtsamwellin Dr. jar. 29/176. Erfolgreche Tochter u. Erbn der Industrie-Benebe, mochhenhalbechank, grad, annue, mit langen blanden Hoaren, strahlenden naturfichem Wesen u. absolut parlettscher, sucht "den Morn ihrer Traunte", mit Herz, Humor u. formog, der Spoß u. Kompatensbestet, or der meherantworflichen Lainnig des stark expandierenden Unternehmens. Kombidaufichmen. D-Fim. (0) 69/28 53 58, tgl. 15-19 Uhr auch So/Sa. More information available in Englist: at D-Munich (1) 89/29 79 58 daily from 3 p.m. - 7 p.m., also weedends.

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE GREAT BRITAIN KNAGHTSBRIDGE next to Horror selection of obsolutely superb loogry bed flats newly formshed, £290/wee Long company lets, UK 585 0042

HUNTINGDON HOUSE, lucurious serviced appartments in Central London Tol. 01 373 4525, Tb. 25293. HOLLAND

When in Rome: PALAZZO AL VELARRO sury aportment house with fursishe flots, available for I week and more

Phone 6794325, 6793450. Write: Via del Velabro 16, 00186 Renzo. MONACO

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

YOUR FLAT IN PARIS
74, CHAMPS ELYSTES
THE CLARDIGE RESIDENCE
1 Week to a month, High CLASS
Shodia, 2 or 3 recens
MMEDIATE RESERVATION
THEIR 20058F
PHONE 43.59.67.97
TREFAX 42.25.04.88

77H, I BEDROOM, Iving, both, kitch-anette, I block from Muses of Orsey, organization from Sept 15 for 10 months. F5600 off charges included. Tel-45.51.8478 or other Aug. 25. [16] 32.22.63.63.

MONTE CARLO
LE FORMENTOR
High class oportuent, large living room, 3 bedrooms, 2 bedrooms, large living beach, garage, 2 samey bedcomes, full modern larmshing, ready to accupy for young couple with drildren or single.

Rent F300,000 per year, tale-over price includes all furniture, lateten and utensits, tableware, TV, etc. F2,000,000. KEY BISCAYNE, FL Available by appointment Call Switzerland: 01/492 59 58.

SERVICED APARTMENT CHELSEA

ASS.18478 or other Aug. 25: [16]
30.30.96.0.

MONITMARTIES, 3 bedrooms, double living, spotless, filed both, listchen, washing machine, fift, metre, but of door, views, 68 months. FIU.800 + FI20.000 optional. [14. 42.53 37.56.]

RENT A FLAT WITH KITCHEN for 2, 3, 4 parters on a doily basis from F701-1920, hotel 6***, Paris 16 -Basis. Tel. 45.53 14.75.

ALESIA. BEAUTIFUL 3 ROOMS, All comforts, Price F6,500 per month. Tel. 47.55 04.84.

13th, PLACE ITALIE, high cless, superbiview, double living. 2 bedrooms, fully equipped, F7,500. 164. 39.63.43 13.

7th. Cosey decorated studio/doples, from 1st of Sept for 5 months or longer, F4750. Tel. 46.47 77. 10.

411. STUDIO, very dean, pood quality, 471 2526 Fox 01 491 8984.

DUPLEX, 2-BEDROOM operbant overlooking Housested Heach. All conveniences, E201 per week. ALSO a boossiful holiday flat let with gurden. E30 per week. Let London 794 877

HALF YOUR LONDON HOTEL COSTS Rooms in beautiful loweshouses from £15 per person per right, bad and breakfast. 07 203 3393. ATH. STUDIO, very dean, good quality, all conforts, fully equipped, preferably 1 year lease, Cole Owner 48 (04.83.26. TOWNHOUSE, 13TH, living, 2 bedrooms, both, terroom, colm, swe, greenery: 47 61 25 15.

PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED SEVILES. HOUSE, F72000/month. men. intil achool, bus American achool. Tel: 45 34 37 22 or 46 26 17 09. Sie sehnen sich nach einem Lebenspartner? EMPLOYMENT EXECUTIVES AVAILABLE

DYNAMIC MANAGER, operational in English, French and German, large experience in Business Admissistation with international service industries. Para based, seeks management posi-tion with progressive company in in-ternational activity. Reply Box 0721, LHT., 92521 Neurly Codes, France.

GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE EUSINESSMAN, single, suchs distinguished lady up to 35 years old as travel comparator/personal assistant. Nationality not supportent. Write to: Box CI - In'll Herald Tribona, Findarou 26, 106-73 Athers. Greece.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED EMPLOYMENT AUTO RENTALS EMPLOYMENT EMPLOYMENT U.S. DIVORCE IN 21 DAYS, No me GENERAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE

All PARE GREI, WANTED immediately to live in 8 care for 11 month boy. Light housekeeping, not-smaller, special English well, 6 capith minimum, Send regulated references, resone 8 photo to: Mrs. T. Solkoson, 5210 North 35th Street, Hebywood, Florida 33321 USA. Tek 305-985-8075. top paying positions overliche. Tes free receives, Atmosive benefits, Op-portunities for all occupations, For free safermetion about our publications, write: Oversian Employment Services, Dept. HT, P.O.Box. 460, Town of Mount Royal, Greiber, Canada HSP 3C7. AMERICAN-FRENCH FAMILY seeks live in houselesper or ou pair for foll. 3 school-age children, owe noom, Cooking, decring, Send references & resume to: Irrene Moria, 2649 N.E. 26th Are, Lighthouse Pt., FL 33064 USA, or coll: (305) 771-1400. GERMAN HOUSEHOLD seeks ive-in-narry organity. 2 boys, 1 & 2 yr., located 50 km. from Manich countryside, English & driver's locate, non-moker mandatory. Weekend free. Ms. Scholl-Angemenn, Dorfst: 12, 8069 Welkrach, W. Germany.

SHIPPING MANAGER, 40, Swiss, specking English, German, French, seeks employment PHEIPPINGS, French, seeks employment PHEIPPINGS, Fraklando, Malaysio, Singapare, Indonesia or Hang Kong, William to tourish, Teresty years experience in tell forwarding and employments. 8 Mayer, Tabadamstr. 29, 8152 Gleriforugg/Zunich, Switzerland. ELEGANT YOUNG WOMAN, knw dagrae, buriers & public relations apparance, floor English, french, theira, will consider personal assistant or househapper position. Could relocate. Places coll Faris 47 45 13 25 or Reply Box 0118, Harald Tribune, 92521 Newly Cedex, France.

TWO 19 YEAR OLD adaptable English gaits both qualified scentaries & love children. Our fluent in Fresch & coding, one passable Italian. Seek draft inegging but assisting cocuppation during slaving season. Apply: Errans Bridgeman, Follodon Holl, Alevick, Northunbertand, England.

umbartand, England.
FRENCT WOMAN, 24, sucher, seds or position working with children in London for 1 year from Sept. Lodging desired. Write Sylvie Michard, 4 rate Ernest Lord, 92170 Varwes, France. Tek 45,38,88,01.

JCURRNAUSTS SCUIGHT, Send your CV. & recent photo to Mr. Crisch, Viz Versico 144, IDNR Recro. Write for applications FAM 8, 2730 Son Pedra, NEH, Albuquerque, NM 87110, USA.

GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED

EDUCATIONAL POSITIONS AVAILABLE DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS

Warnborough College, the American College in Oxford. Sall in the use of computers in recruitment and administration programmes is required. Responsibilities include writing administration articles/publications, travel, high school and college visitations. A master degree plus experience related to administration within the American school system required. Salary negotiable. Reply to the Senior Veo President, Warnborough College, the American College in Oxford, Boars HSE, Oxford CKI SED.

SPECIALIST LANGUAGE TEACHERS tocrimons professional course for colusts. English/French/Germon/Sponists. Notive specialist control specialists. Notive specialists control specialists. As required urganity for September ER feeders. A bours per water in Chotou 178, Burly Box 1006, Herdel Tribune, 92521 Naully Codex, Frence.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY IN PARIST urganity seeks instructure for the following pages of the control of the

PARAILE PRODUCTS, bought & mid, orgest med, unca, camert, spets, ECHERCHONS PROFESSEURS

ECHERCHONS PROFESSERS d Anglois, largue maternale Anglois, billiogras Lieu de travail Paris. Envoyer CV + photo: Mine Cornell, STIC, 31 rue de la Brache-aux-Loups, 75012 DOMESTIC

POSITIONS AVAILABLE All PABL/COMPLETE HOUSESEPPE or local 22 yrs old, needed for family with 5 year old girl, Live-in quoriers in very locate on water near ocom. Must have valid drivers license. If interested, pilotte write to: Pould Roman, 13200 SW. 119th Strate, Microi, Piorido 33183 USA. Include your picture, references, address and phone number. DOMESTIC DOMESTIC POSTTIONS WANTED

BRITISH/IBISH/SCOTTISH/WELSH romy/governesses children trained / experienced with impeccable references. Worldwise Serves, Mrs. Elsen Wright, Bagery, Namies WI, 50 Horn Crescert, Loadon SWI (opposite Hornats) 01:225:1025 (24 Int) G.B. Romsed opposite For in the Crescert, Loadon SWI (opposite Hornats) 01:225:1025 (24 Int) G.B. Romsed opposite in Paris beginning michov, Housing desired for self, huzband & I yr old. Age 29, well experienced in children. Emillent references. Write AML, c Brown, references, Write: AMIS, c Brown, 4903 Chaint Dr. J. Cincinnati, OH 45217 USA (513) 262-8872. ENGLISH NURSE, 24, offers housework/bobysiting for occurrences from September 1st for these months. Tel: Brighton 9273, 555097,

All PAIR near Weshington, D.C. Responsible, seahung, English speaking resulds to care for children 6 & 7.
Light housekeeping, monamokey, driver's license, princips room with both. Stort 8. Letter 8. photo to: Box 3112, Med.son, VA 22190 USA

MANTUSE HOUSENGEPER 40/30 to run mediandisonal stoff of 15 for eniment Ands frostly in U.A.E from November.
Own will are provided, highest referonce, no foundly cummitments, nonmodary driving. Lett Pauline Lorge on Lordon 01 587 7762.

AU PAIR Couple in Cultiforms college tower needs young, responsible, nonsnoker to care for our infant by Nov.
Cel. 5716 738-0418. or write: Cethy
Dyosics, PO Box 1472, Dove, CA
95617-1472 U.S.A.

RENOH, SCANDINAVIAN AU PAIR desired to exist housekeepe to run Conformia existe of permanent hour specialist, interview Paris, September 19-17. Write: 336 Raymundo Dr., Woodside, CA 94062 USA
PHYSICIAN SERIS AU PAIR for household dukes, gurdering in exchange for room and board.

Dr. William Levitt, 32 Tesms Chb Dirve, Scothionek, CA 94256 USA
NANNY WANTED BOSTON AREA Storing Oct. 1,617) 331-7711. Liefes, 120 Rindge, Weymouth, MA 02187.

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

RELGIAN MAN, 24, and himpural, seeks position as personal assistant/house-raid separation, free to travel, 8, Gebruers, Spooninged 48A, 3033 GM Rottentions, Helland. Cestreri, Scorninger and, 3335 CM Rollericas, Helland.

NANNY/GOVERNESS, Billingual English/Frencir, colon, carring gerl, lovely postcrastic, seatlent with children of all ciges, Free now. Tel. 0252 315369
Free 0252 317075.

UK AND OVERSEAS AGENCY.

Worlds largest on pair burson. Also marine helps, closesters, corries site. 97
Rogent 92, Lordon 1911. 439 6554

ECHEBENCED BNGLISH Normies for infill jobs from Coastioned 8. Permanent Normy Agency, 15 Beautomap Face, Lordon 5W3. 16: 01 22 1555.

ASIAN WITH GOOD REPERBNCES seeds employment os cock, driver in ASIAN WITH GOOD REPRENCES seeks employment as cook, three in Paris or suburts, specie Franch and English. Paris 69 05 16 53.
GERMAN BOY, 20, seeks job fou point in USA for 1 year from Oct/New 86.
Deter First, Moortanisokamp 3 A, D-2000, Noosberg 65.
ENGLISH NAMNIES & markers' helps
UK forms. Neath Agency, 53 Church Ed, Hove, Susses UK (403) 711456
GERMAN STUDENT. FEMALE weeks

GERMAN STUDENT, FEMALE seeks As-Poir job in Colifornia or London Tek (0) 40/538279, West Germany AUTOMOBILES

International Business Message Center

BUSINESS SERVICES ATTENTION EXECUTIVES

in the international Herald (in-burse, where more than a third of a million readers world-wide, most of whom are in business and industry, will read it. Just toles us (Paris 613595) before 10 a.m., en-suring kind we can talen yee back, indicate which major aredit and you wish to charge it to, the number and expira-tion date, and your message can appear within 48 hours. Mosse also include your ad-dress and telephone number for ow files. Mail, phone, tax, telex, office. S+C Moenchair. 31, 7000 Stutigant L BUSINESS CENTRE, London NT, England (dose Car): Contenture tool office states, No office/secretoric stricts, accommodation/business and ervices, occumentation/business and draw. Tel: 225 6581 or from 226 7830. LONDON ADDRESS BOND STREET. McJ. From. Fax. Teles. Conference room. Call 01-699-7192. Tx 262590.

INVESTMENTS

BROKERS BY SWISS COMPANY 87 WHIS COMPANY
100% return in 4/5 years
100% return in 4/5 years
100% return in 4/5 years
100% return in endours welcome
Sound Fiscancial Services S.A.
100% return O-Holds LAUSAMA
100% return Intel 2011 23 866
Frace 2022/0. The 450 700 975

TIME DEPOSITS. High generated interest 9%-15 31/45 p.cs. text free of source on minimum. I railing investments, USS, SF, DM, E Sering. Control and minerate back protected. IAAAI. Agents / brokers welcome. 8 & M Investments, PO Sex 128, 5330 Cham, Switzenfand, Fao G-210010. The 868710.

SALES BUSINESS SERVICES

CHARTERED CANADIAN accounters will transact all burness, confidented, private, corporate, 401.555 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. VSC-224

CONDOMENSUM, DIFFICE FOR SALE Margote, Florida, U.S.A. 1725 S.C. FT. Sonority decorated & fully furnished, receipt to move into, Escalent in visit private, corporate, 401.555 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. VSC-224

PROVEN CHARTER CAPABILITY EVA 60 CORSARO 1934. Finest example on the exertal today. German MAN. engines. French IVA. poid Antiba-Phone 93346464. Fee: 933421.22. Imprime par Offprint, 73 rue de l'Evongile, 75018 Paris.

of commenties English breakfast included GREAT BRITAIN Single: £55.00 + VAT HALF YOUR LONDON HOTEL COSTS Room- in broadful townhouses from £15 per person per night, bad circ broadfast 01 203 3393. Double/Twis: £77.00 + VAT Extra Single: £15.00 + VAT FRANCE COLLEGES & UNIVERSITIES

HOTEL CENTRE VILLE ETOILE book, minitel, heir dryer, oir conditioning Special summer roles, minimum 2 nights stople F400/might instead of F400 double F300/might instead of F700. Fire bottle of champagns & the Tribl Tel: 1-43 80 56 18. Telex 200968.

ARTS

BOOKS

YOUR LINK TO US PUBLISHING, For courteous, browledgeddle othersion to your new book orders. Write: 800KSOURCE, 89 Main Street, Keong, NH (33K3T USA, or phone: 683/382-3202.

EDUCATION

REPACH FOR ADULTS. Courses for foreign teachers & students. For edults from beginners to advanced, Lodging in private rooms & Franch foreign. CVI., 10 rue du Dr., Ronche, 75016 Paris, Tel. 45 20 47 04

TOTAL 184 45 24 7 UK
RENOLI PATENSIVE COURSES, 15 or 30 hours a week starting every Mon-day. Accommodan on request. Ecole Transa Langue, 2 rue de Stax, 75116
Paris, Franca. (1) 45.00.40.15.

SWITZERLAND LUCRINE, GRAND HOTEL BURDPE, THE PRENDLY PLACE, Free Purking Tel: [941] 30 11 11, The: 865 657 CH. U.S.A

TUDOR HOTE. New York 500 rooms Fashionoble East 5de of Manhattes near United Nations, Reasonable rates. Tel. 212-96-8800 or 800-221 1253, Tbc. 422951 ACCESS VOYAGES JAPANESE INVESTORS JAPANESE INVESTORS Leaking to bey
for IMMEDIATE CASH French & American
Impressionst Pointings,
Seed off infortation with PHOTO &
PARTINGS, P.O. Box 949, Rodio Gey
Socion, New York, NY 10019 USA
FACSWEE 212801747
TELBU 881126
All inquiries held in strictest confidence.

DICENSE PLATES expired Fost solution Purefront, PO 2477, 6901 Lugano Swi zerland. Fast 091/237247 Tito 84402 Do you need our insurance? Ask us ATK, NV, Anharrai ZZ, 2000 Anharra Balgaon, Tel 03/231 1653, Tx 31535 BOATS/YACHTS

Two (2, 780" "CORTEN" STEEL PATROL BOATS Presently Owned by The Estate of Donald Arcsow Are For Sole Owned of Inguines to INITIAN ARCINGW & MURRAY & WELL IR. Co-Personal Representatives of the Estate of Donald Arcsow c STAPRO AND WELL (666-79th Street Couseway Sets 608 Weenis Bacth, Fende 2014 USA Phone (305) 864-329 Telecopier No. (305) 865-879 THE USSR, YUGOSLAVIA AND ITALY World Renaissance.

CRUSE GREEK ISLANDS in boary motor yeart Datio Grazio bult in 1997 in tholand, for charter in Graek is lands. 79 feet in length, sleeps 8 in 4 oir conditioned cobins, each with private tolet/shower feetiles. 3 professored crow. $14,000 per myst, lectudes needs, were, windowfer, stibott. From US (104 Freel 1-800-831-3777, London (44-147) 2750, Afrens (30-1477-2755. EPIROTIKI CRURSES

42454767 2285221 5136115 691541 7340805 4757806 4326641/9 (212) 5991730

HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL THE COBURG HOTEL CRUESE GREEK ISLANDS in leavey author yearth Della Grazia built in 1987 in Holland. For charter in Greek Islands. 70 feet in length, steeps 8 in 4 air conditioned colors, each with private hollat/shower facilities. 3 professional crew. $14,000 per week, Indicates mask, wine, windsurfer, stabout, Frone US (Toll Free) 1400431-3777, Lordon (4-1)491 2950, Athens (30-1)417 2735 129, BAYSWATER ROAD HYDE PARK, LONDON W2 4RJ TEL:: 01-229 3654 TELEX: 268235 CORUNG FAX: 01-229 0557 Fooing Hyde Park Traditional Hotel with U.S. DIVORCE IN 21 DAYS. No need to invole, with or without consunt of spanier. Dreamer legal Americants, pfa 1E Webeningdwiczschroet 54/54A, Nr. 1017 IP Aresturdum, Holland, Tel. 3120-84026 or 823058, Fuer 823058 GEAM U.S. DIVORCE Fort. Both aga, non-invold. Free Book, Alfonsey Don Partieson, Box BK Agona, Guzza, Ha. 1071 477-1657 or [67] 477-7934.

DIVORCE 1 DAY-Lagal, feet, low cost & confidential, Sacon 1977. Seed $4 confidential. Sacon 1977

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH in Green Britein, mainly London & home coun rice, ES per hour UK 01 427 3264. SHOPPING

FEMANE SISTIMA REALITY SALCIN and bookingse, professional offension by trained staff, Rome, Via Sistina 75. Tel-6-780260 from 9are to 7pm.

LEGAL SERVICES

WCRIDWIDE Car shipping & reservois ATK, NY, Arkentu 22, 2000 Artwerp, Belgium, 037201 1653 b; 31535 TRANSCAR 17 ov de Friedland, 75008 Faris, Tel 42256444, Nov 9321 3550, Antwerp 233 9795, Carmes 9339 4344 LOW COST FLIGHTS

Tex free sales - Propring - Insurance. We stock over 300 brand new cors. Exemples - Lagrance - America. Yery competitive prices - feet delivery, Sand for free multimolor catalogue. July Vancouver F220 Bob Lenero F320 Vancouver Bob Lenero F320 Vancouver Bob Lenero F320 Vancouver Bob Lenero F320 Vancouver Bob F4200 Vancouver Bob Lenero F3300 Vancouver Bob Lenero Lenero Lenero F3300 Vancouver Lenero F3300 Vanco TRANSCO NY, 95 Noorderloon, 2030 ANTWERP, BELGIUM 17 J22/542 6240 Tx 35207 Trans b new TAX-PREE used Range Rover + Chevrolet + etc. Mercades + BMW + Acdi + etc. CodSiac + Jeap + Jaguer + etc. Some day registration possible renewable up to 5 years ICZKOVITS Caricleschusse 36, CH-8027 Zurich Tal: 01/702 76 10. Telesc 81.9715.

MIAM HONDA Auto-moto-generators & parts. 1700 N.W. 36ft-54, Nigent, R. 33142. Teb (305) 635-9911; Tize 441064; Fox: (305) 635-3316. Aldwych House, 71-91 Aldwych, London WCZ. Tek (1) 404 44 66 ook new by phone with credit card TRASCO GERMANY. Mercades Berz ormored curs & stretched lesousness from stock. Steindamm 38, D-2820 Branten. The 246524. Fox 471630005. Tel: 03-421-633044.

WORLDWIDE RIGHTS LISA onytime $160, west coops $269, APP, 103 rue Le Boetie, Port Bih ip tew yords from Ch. Bysees). Tel. (1) $2.89,10.81. HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL

Cruise in Begance In the Mediterrinean and The Madit Sea TO THE GREEK ISLANDS EGYPT, ISRAEL, TURKEY

Choice of 14-7-4-3-1 Day Cruises

Pegasus, Atlas, Jupiter

Oceanos, Hermes, Neptune, Odysseus

International Investors Secola de Criscone "A PERFECT ENGLISH WEEKEND IN MAYFAIR"

in remark of facts Asimi z 2 To Afghan Rebels

PERSON SECTION AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON A

mily more ....

feedbash in the

to reaction ....

Present C

Action Tribate

E Octobia

ded "Any one men

en but to a land

presentation of the same

mond over 1

au take tate ----

---

. 324

2 64

101.00

T ....

7 ......

1

1.3

: X 90

* 400

. 100

CALL S

rive.

THE PARTY.

Kabu Afgha amma

woold

le :

1

W.

tta ver by an bone to Syrine, coals : Con State Depart

De

By Bernard Westerner 1858 A

KABUL TELEFORM gian pincille from the control of th on Soviet-Street PLRLY APPROVED UNIVERSITY D6-GRESI Economical bouse study for Bochelor's, Moster's, Ph.D. RULY.
APPROVED by Conformin Stoke Department of Education, Prestigious, touchy courses for independent study and life experience orcells 6,100 mm-rolled students, 500 faculty. PRE IN-FORMATION - Richard Crews, M.D. Brawardi, President, Colombia Pacific University, Department 2736, 1415 Third Street, Son Rotel, CA 9900, Toll Free, 8000 227-0119, Colifornia, 8000 525-527; or (415) 459-1650.

tional August 222 Ed Service and Algum trees

Kiosk

Talks in China HING Reason - CE. to reputed with the and the constitution of the second mi Soir dinns in textive the lovery

The gate to ever on said that de contract that the tales in being to comment MONDAY QUA

and's moves toward a Butter world role. Page 2 geletal Hents le PLO will form a govern-but in cole for the West Manual Gaza Strip. Page 2.

Mewegians are railwing to blanes immegratus for individual for ind MASA and the FBI are inventional possible sabotage of a the country intended for one a de space shuide. balness/Finance ing the U.S. are explored as a free pact of a free 7.

